WITH THE LAW-MAKERS.

NOTES AND COMMENTS FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA CAPITAL.

Treasury Lovers Ask for an Additional Appropriation of $2,000,000 to Complete the New Capitol—No Bills Have Yet Reached the Governor.

Harrisburg, Pa., February 10.
Although the capitol building commission, through its representative, Senator McCarrell, declared that it would not ask for an additional appropriation to complete the present structure, yet such a bill, originated by Representative Hasson, of Venango, found its way into the house. The new bill wants $2,000,000 to complete the building and furnish it. It also names a list of commissioners who are expected to serve without pay. The bill further states that the present building "may be completed, remodeled or removed, as the commission sees fit, or a new one erected on revised plans. It also repeals the act of 1897 providing for the erection of a capitol building at an expenditure of $559,000.

A bill that would worry railroad companies considerably should it become a law, was presented by Representative Reth, of Lehigh. It is aimed at grade crossings. His bill provides that railroads hereafter to be built shall not cross highways or streets at grade. Bridges are to be erected to carry the highways or streets over the tracks. The charter of companies violating this act. The same member presents an act making it a fine of $500 for first offense and $1,000 for each subsequent violation of any railroad that shall employ in its passenger coaches any heating apparatus containing fire.

The McCarrell jurors' bill has passed through the senate and started in the house. It was first thought the bill would go through with a rush, but a motion to postpone consideration of it until March 21 prevailed on Thursday. This was a hard blow to Quay's friends.

A bill that will produce a howl from the taxpayers of the state, when fully known, is favored by Senator Brown, of Philadelphia. It abolishes five places in capitol hill, such as engineers and foremen, which are not needed, with salaries amounting to about $5,000 annually, and creates new places to the number of about thirty-nine, such as assistant doorkeepers; clerks to committees; messengers to committees; janitors; property clerks; watchmen; pages and transcribing clerks, with salaries ranging from $2 to $6 per day. Also, for the lieutenant governor, a clerk, at $1,400 per annum, and a page at $2 per day. For the board of commissioners of public buildings and grounds, one superintendent of lighting, heating and ventilating appliances, at $1,800 a year; three assistants, at $1,200 a year. Should the bill become a law the increase in expenses would amount to about $25,000 annually.

The members are considerably annoyed that the city is placarded with posters offering large rewards for information that will lead to the conviction of any member of the legislature guilty of accepting a money consideration for his vote. This led Representative Foster, of Montour, to offer a resolution calling for a committee of nine, to be composed of three Republicans, three Independents and three Democrats, to consider the best means of securing said rewards. If successful, the money is to be used in sending petitions to their constituents to ascertain whom they desire elected United States senator; balance, if any, to be used in establishing a training school for new members of the legislature.

An income tax bill has been presented by Senator Gibson. It taxes gains, profits or incomes from any kind of property, rents, interests, dividends or salary, or from any profession, trade, employment or vocation carried on in this state. The rate of tax runs from one-tenth of one per centum on all sums between $1,000 and $5,000, on up. Judging from the reception of similar measures in the past, this one will fall wide of ever becoming a law in Pennsylvania.

Senator Magee has presented a jurors' bill which is something similar to the McCarrell bill. The Magee bill has been favorably reported from the committee and is ready for first reading in the senate. It is estimated that this bill may supplant the McCarrell bill should it be found that the latter will not be able to get through the house.

A resolution has passed the house endorsing President McKinley's views on the expansion question and inviting him to Harrisburg as the guest of the state.

Israel Durham, newly appointed insurance commissioner, is anxious to have his salary increased, so he has had a new bill introduced into the legislature requiring insurance companies to file semi-annual reports at $10 a report. This would increase the salary of the commissioner from $3,000 to $4,000 yearly.

There are corporations doing business in Pennsylvania, known as "fast freight lines" that have millions of dollars invested, and yet the records of the treasury department do not show that these corporations have paid taxes as required by law. A resolution was offered in the senate requesting that there shall be a committee appointed to examine carefully into this matter and make report by March 15.

No bills have yet reached the executive. A few resolutions received his signature last week. There have been hundreds of bills presented; a few passed the senate and a few the house, but as yet none is in any way near becoming a law.

Mr. and Mrs. Keenan began life together with many wishes for their future success.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Interest in the election in the First and Third wards is daily increasing. In the former Mr. Fisher's chances to be elected school director are very bright and Mr. McNeil is proving a formidable candidate for council. Both men are strong in their own party and have assurances of much Republican help. A similar condition of affairs exists in the Third, where Mr. Bachman is said to be gaining daily.

With but little over a week to heal up differences, the Republican factions of Foster township are as far apart today as they were immediately after the convention. The opposition to the candidates appears to be too deep-seated to be removed during the coming week, and the Democrats look forward with great hopes of success on election day.

THE ARIZONA KICKER.

There Is Much Excitement in Editorial Life in the West.

Tuesday afternoon last, as we were busy at our editorial table, a stranger entered and began firing at us with two guns. We were too surprised to do any dodging, and our nearest pistol was ten feet away. It was all over in fifteen seconds, however, and the shooter had fired twelve bullets without even grazing our hide. There were two holes in the back of our chair, three through the stovepipe behind us, and a wall received the other bullets. We rose up after awhile and took the man by the neck and slammed him around until he begged for mercy. He gave his name as Elkins, and said he was on his way from Salt Lake to Prescott. When he arrived here it struck him to try an experiment. He had a curiosity to know whether an editor would fight, and what an editor would say in his dying moments. As a matter of fact, he had nothing against us, and when the affair was over he subscribed for "The Kicker" and paid two years in advance. That was the first time we had sat down without a gun within reach for five years, and nobody need plan on the idea that we will do it again. Had we been "heeled" Mr. Elkins would now be sleeping with his forefathers. Nevertheless, he got enough at our hands to satisfy him that the editorial fraternity of Arizona is not to be walked on, and that any experiments with the craft may result in springing the bear-trap.

Too Much Exertion.

Fatigued Francis—Not much! Yer have ter move.

Every Other Thursday.

After the new servant had been installed in the home of a New Jersey housewife the day finally came when the privilege of "going out" had to be decided on. This fell on a Thursday, to which the mistress assented.

"You may go to-day, Bridget," she said, "and every other Thursday."

"All right, ma'am," replied Bridget. The next week on Thursday surprise was great at Bridget's coming from her room all logged out for another afternoon out. The mistress rebelled and asked her if she remembered that she was to go out only every other Thursday.

"Certainly I do, ma'am, certainly! I didn't say I could go out that Thursday and every other Thursday—that Thursday and every Thursday afterward?"

"No! No!" replied the mistress, "that Thursday and every second Thursday thereafter."

"Sure you didn't say so. You positively told me that Thursday and every other Thursday. Of course that means every Thursday."

Bridget won.

At the Telephone.

"Hello! Give me one thousand and sixty-six."

"What?"

"Ten hundred and sixty-six."

"I can't understand you."

"One naught, six, six."

"I don't get it. Try again."

"One, Got that?"

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, naught. Naught—naught! Got the naught?"

"Yes."

"One, two, three, four, five, six. Got the six?"

"Yes."

"One, two, three, four, five, six, again. Got the six again?"

"Yes."

"Well that's what I want."

"Oh, you want one, owe, double six. Why didn't you say so?"

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and no cure can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars, free.
