

THOSE BRIBERY CASES.

Fresh Developments of Daily Occurrence at the Hearings at Harrisburg.

GETTING CLOSE TO QUAY'S PEOPLE

Representative Foster Offered Committee Places If He Could Help the "Old Man"—Racy Revelations Among the Republicans—The Democracy Standing Firm in Their Allegiance to Jenks—Developments Expected This Week.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, March 27.—The claim set up by the Quaysites, in derision at the work of the investigating committee, that only Democrats had been enmeshed in its toils was proven groundless during the week just closed. Ex-Senator John J. Coyle, Republican, and one of the most noted of the Quay lobby, was on the stand in his own defense. Four reputable members had charged him with offering them bribes. As was expected, Coyle denied everything.

On last Thursday night Representative Robert McChesny Foster, Democrat, from Center county, went on the stand and surprised everybody by declaring that had he voted for Senator Quay he might have been placed on the soldiers' orphans' school commission and the appropriations committee. Mr. Foster's story was to the effect that having been a member of the appropriations committee last year and of the soldiers' orphans' school commission he desired to be retained as a member of both of them the present term. He first went to Senator David Martin, of Philadelphia, who was supposed to be very close to Speaker Farr. Mr. Martin agreed to do what he could for Mr. Foster, but subsequently he told him that it would be impossible for him to aid him.

WAS QUAY'S LIEUTENANT.

Several evenings after someone, he had forgotten whom, told him that Frank Willing Leach, one of Senator Quay's lieutenants, was the man to see for places. He called on Mr. Leach and told him what he wanted. The interview did not amount to much, but some days later a note was brought to Mr. Foster in his seat in the house, asking him to come to the speaker's room, that Mr. Leach desired to see him. The note was from the latter. He went and Mr. Leach opened the conversation by asking Foster "what he could do for the old man." Then Mr. Leach went on to say that despite the claims of prominent Republicans, Quay could not be elected except by Democratic votes. Although the standing committee had been appointed by the speaker, he (Leach) would hold the places open for two weeks to give Foster a chance to act. Leach said that while it was popularly supposed that Speaker Farr made up the standing committees, yet he (Leach) was the man who did the appointing. He would hold up the places desired for two weeks and his action would be guided by the action of Mr. Foster.

To the credit and honor of Democracy Foster returned by saying that he had agreed with his constituents to vote for a Democrat as long as there was one in the field, and that when there was not one, he would vote for any reputable Republican other than M. S. Quay. Under the circumstances he would accept nothing and Leach had nothing to give that he would take. That ended the conversation and from that day Leach and Foster have not spoken.

The investigating committee received an extension of time until April 3. This week it is expected that there will be some very important evidence furnished. After a severe fight, in which all of the opposition came from the Quay faction and the support from the Democrats and independent Republicans, a resolution was passed, authorizing the investigating committee to call the members of the house alphabetically and inquire of them what they knew of attempted bribery. The call is still going on. Up to the present there having been 60 members subpoenaed. The bribery sensation, of course, is the principal topic of interest in this city.

SENATORIAL SITUATION.

The senatorial situation has not changed, but a change is looked for this week. It will not come from the Democratic side, because they are pledged to Hon. George A. Jenks, Colonel James M. Guffey, national committeeman, who has with such conspicuous skill and diplomacy directed the conduct of the party's affairs here in Harrisburg and over the state since the opening of the legislature, has not ordered any change in the Democratic program and no change is anticipated. Colonel Guffey was here again last week, looking over the field and taking a personal interest in the situation. Never in the history of the Democratic party has any leader identified himself so closely with the rank and file, or manifested such a personal interest in the individual welfare of every member.

There is a great deal of interest awakened over the Democratic state chairmanship. There are all sorts of rumors afloat, but nobody cares to talk. Even Colonel Guffey will not discuss the question, except with his personal friends and the men in whom he re-

What is Celery King?
It is an herb drink, and is a positive cure for constipation, headache, nervous disorders, rheumatism, kidney diseases, and the various troubles arising from a disordered stomach and torpid liver. It is a most agreeable medicine, and is recommended by physicians generally. Remember, it cures constipation.
Celery King is sold in 25c. and 50c. packages by druggists and dealers.

FLOWERS OF EASTER

HOW THEY ARE GROWN AND USED FOR DECORATING.

Bermuda Lilies First Among the Blooms

With Genista and Callas as Other Favorites—The Popular Violet Which All Humanity Loves.

Easter time is the flower growers' harvest. The work of a whole year in some instances is directed toward producing a large number of flowers which will be specially in demand at this season. So universal has the use of flowers become at this great religious festival and during the days which immediately follow that fabulous prices are paid and in some instances it is impossible to supply the demand in some of the large cities. A great number of plants and flowers are used in decorating the churches, many are sent as presents to friends while the number of flowering plants which are employed in home decorations is something beyond computation. The use of flowers in the observance of Easter has been increasing rapidly during recent years. It is not very long ago that florists noticed no great difference in their sales during the season but now they prepare for it many weeks in advance.

In any enumeration of flowers which are most popularly presented at Easter perhaps the first should be given to the Bermuda, or Easter lily. There is something about the pure white of this flower and the gracefulness of the plant upon which it grows that makes it extremely popular. Bermuda is the home of the lily and it is claimed that nowhere else can they be grown so early, rapidly and successfully. By pursuing certain methods in their cultivation they can be made to bloom as early as December but the crop comes in February and early spring. Then whole fields of blooming lilies may be seen, while the air is scented by them for long distances. Those who grow lilies in Bermuda regard them the same as they do potatoes or onions. They are not expert florists but plant their lilies with more care than they do common vegetables, but owing to the peculiarities of the soil and climate they nearly always have a good crop. They can cultivate their fields any month of the year and there is never any frost, only genial sunshine, which is just what the lilies want. The lilies which are sold at Easter time are, as a rule, grown from bulbs brought from Bermuda. No matter whether Easter is late or early the lilies are brought into bloom for use on the Sunday which commemorates the ascension of our Lord. The blooming of the flowers is hastened or retarded by regulating the temperature of the greenhouses where they are under cultivation. The Bermuda lily is a special favorite in church decorations and they remain in condition for some days, which adds to their popularity. The plants grow to a height of four feet and bear from four to seven snow white blossoms at the top of the stem.

One of the prettiest customs of the year is the giving of Easter gifts. Unlike Christmas gifts, which are never supposed to be expensive. They are rather a little reminder of the happy Easter time, and a sign from the giver to the receiver that one is thinking of the other.

Of course there are many different kinds of gifts, and perhaps the most conspicuous are those prepared in the shape of eggs. These are not the only gifts that you can appropriately make for this time of the year. The presents described here are easily made, with almost no expense, and you will find that they will be very acceptable to those you decide to send them to, because they will be the result of your own labor and thought, and that is the best part of giving.

A handy trick for the sewing table is a simple flatiron. Glid the upper part but leave the face untouched. Wind the handle with a woolen strip covered by a ribbon, or bias strips of fancy silk. In one end of the bowknot stitch a thimble-case, in the other end a place to hold blunt scissors. Choose a heavy iron and it will be always in use. It will be sewing pins and hemming, or else it will be engaged in pressing sea moss or flowers, or hollering papers together. But very often it will have thimble, scissors and needles removed, and it will be heated to smooth out ugly wrinkles in cloth or to dry and press a sponged spot. It will absolutely renovate twisted whalebones by dry-pressing the bodice or corsets on the wrong side. Use in tail-or-fashion—that is, hang down the iron firmly and bear upon it.

ORIGIN OF EASTER LILIES

Along the hills of Palestine The setting sunbams lie, Spilled like a goblet of red wine From that low, turning sky. Deep in the vale of Bethlehem. The shepherds' flocks are stilled, And all the sentient Holy Land With waiting transport thrilled, 'Tis Easter eve; to morrow's sun Will light the "rising day."

When lo! along the rocky road, Where weeds and thistles grow, There weaves a living fragrant line, Like curves of drifting snow. 'Tis lilies! lilies! rich and rare, Sprung up by magic growth, As though sweet nature to await God's given time were loath. Along the road they curve and smile, Marking the very way The blessed Saviour's feet had trod. From Court to Calvary.

—Belle Hunt.

Flowers are symbolic of Easter. Of all beautiful emblems of the resurrection the emblems of Easter, the flowers, stand first. They are symbolic because though they seem to die each year, every spring they rise again. Their lives are unending, and though they disappear from among us from time to time, we know they are sure to return. So it is, say the soothsayers, with the Son of Man. He has gone from us, they declare, but the day will surely come when He will return. This is one of the beliefs that cling about Easter. To relate all that the festival means would be an unending task. In truth, it signifies to every person that which they wish it to, and nothing more.

When a woman resolves to spread sunshine and happiness around her she begins by carrying a sad, wistful look in her eyes and talking in a low, mournful voice.—New York Press.

Just Before Easter.

'Tis now that lubby ever glides A trifling space before, To see how quickly he can pass Each millinery store.

FLOWERS OF EASTER

HOW THEY ARE GROWN AND USED FOR DECORATING.

Bermuda Lilies First Among the Blooms

With Genista and Callas as Other Favorites—The Popular Violet Which All Humanity Loves.

Easter time is the flower growers' harvest. The work of a whole year in some instances is directed toward producing a large number of flowers which will be specially in demand at this season. So universal has the use of flowers become at this great religious festival and during the days which immediately follow that fabulous prices are paid and in some instances it is impossible to supply the demand in some of the large cities. A great number of plants and flowers are used in decorating the churches, many are sent as presents to friends while the number of flowering plants which are employed in home decorations is something beyond computation. The use of flowers in the observance of Easter has been increasing rapidly during recent years. It is not very long ago that florists noticed no great difference in their sales during the season but now they prepare for it many weeks in advance.

In any enumeration of flowers which are most popularly presented at Easter perhaps the first should be given to the Bermuda, or Easter lily. There is something about the pure white of this flower and the gracefulness of the plant upon which it grows that makes it extremely popular. Bermuda is the home of the lily and it is claimed that nowhere else can they be grown so early, rapidly and successfully. By pursuing certain methods in their cultivation they can be made to bloom as early as December but the crop comes in February and early spring. Then whole fields of blooming lilies may be seen, while the air is scented by them for long distances. Those who grow lilies in Bermuda regard them the same as they do potatoes or onions. They are not expert florists but plant their lilies with more care than they do common vegetables, but owing to the peculiarities of the soil and climate they nearly always have a good crop. They can cultivate their fields any month of the year and there is never any frost, only genial sunshine, which is just what the lilies want. The lilies which are sold at Easter time are, as a rule, grown from bulbs brought from Bermuda. No matter whether Easter is late or early the lilies are brought into bloom for use on the Sunday which commemorates the ascension of our Lord. The blooming of the flowers is hastened or retarded by regulating the temperature of the greenhouses where they are under cultivation. The Bermuda lily is a special favorite in church decorations and they remain in condition for some days, which adds to their popularity. The plants grow to a height of four feet and bear from four to seven snow white blossoms at the top of the stem.

One of the prettiest customs of the year is the giving of Easter gifts. Unlike Christmas gifts, which are never supposed to be expensive. They are rather a little reminder of the happy Easter time, and a sign from the giver to the receiver that one is thinking of the other.

Of course there are many different kinds of gifts, and perhaps the most conspicuous are those prepared in the shape of eggs. These are not the only gifts that you can appropriately make for this time of the year. The presents described here are easily made, with almost no expense, and you will find that they will be very acceptable to those you decide to send them to, because they will be the result of your own labor and thought, and that is the best part of giving.

A handy trick for the sewing table is a simple flatiron. Glid the upper part but leave the face untouched. Wind the handle with a woolen strip covered by a ribbon, or bias strips of fancy silk. In one end of the bowknot stitch a thimble-case, in the other end a place to hold blunt scissors. Choose a heavy iron and it will be always in use. It will be sewing pins and hemming, or else it will be engaged in pressing sea moss or flowers, or hollering papers together. But very often it will have thimble, scissors and needles removed, and it will be heated to smooth out ugly wrinkles in cloth or to dry and press a sponged spot. It will absolutely renovate twisted whalebones by dry-pressing the bodice or corsets on the wrong side. Use in tail-or-fashion—that is, hang down the iron firmly and bear upon it.

ORIGIN OF EASTER LILIES

Along the hills of Palestine The setting sunbams lie, Spilled like a goblet of red wine From that low, turning sky. Deep in the vale of Bethlehem. The shepherds' flocks are stilled, And all the sentient Holy Land With waiting transport thrilled, 'Tis Easter eve; to morrow's sun Will light the "rising day."

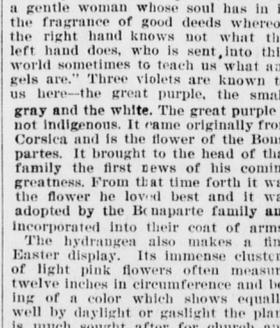

When lo! along the rocky road, Where weeds and thistles grow, There weaves a living fragrant line, Like curves of drifting snow. 'Tis lilies! lilies! rich and rare, Sprung up by magic growth, As though sweet nature to await God's given time were loath. Along the road they curve and smile, Marking the very way The blessed Saviour's feet had trod. From Court to Calvary.

—Belle Hunt.

Flowers are symbolic of Easter. Of all beautiful emblems of the resurrection the emblems of Easter, the flowers, stand first. They are symbolic because though they seem to die each year, every spring they rise again. Their lives are unending, and though they disappear from among us from time to time, we know they are sure to return. So it is, say the soothsayers, with the Son of Man. He has gone from us, they declare, but the day will surely come when He will return. This is one of the beliefs that cling about Easter. To relate all that the festival means would be an unending task. In truth, it signifies to every person that which they wish it to, and nothing more.

When a woman resolves to spread sunshine and happiness around her she begins by carrying a sad, wistful look in her eyes and talking in a low, mournful voice.—New York Press.

Just Before Easter.

'Tis now that lubby ever glides A trifling space before, To see how quickly he can pass Each millinery store.

EASTER MILLINERY.

THE COMING STYLES WILL BE PRETTY AND DECIDEDLY ELABORATE.

White Promises to Predominate—A Great Variety of Shapes—The Many-Hued Fanasy Seems to Have Caught the Popular Fancy—Violets Still in Evidence.

The advance styles in hats are decidedly elaborate. Some of the pretties ones are of toque or turban shape. One of these was all white, with a crown of straw braid, and the brim which rose up high in front, consisted of multitudinous ruffles of white mousseline-de-soie, with wired edge bordered with shirred white lisse, having a tiny satin stripe. The trim ming consisted of a large bow of black velvet ribbon, made of five or six wire loops, which was held in place by a fancy buckle, and this already high arrangement was rendered still higher by an aigrette of fine spangled wire. As this hat was made by one of our swell milliners, it shows that the popularity of black and white is not of the wane.

Indeed, some say that this will be a white summer, and one is almost inclined to believe it, with the quantities of white shirt waists, white lawn and mull dresses, to which are now added white hats.

Rice and satin straw is seen the most, with a promise of Legion for the summer. The shapes are a kind of modified bergerie; that is, they are rounder or wider at the sides, and the brim is not quite so long in front. They are trimmed with folds and twists of tulle and chiffon, large chiffon rosettes and bunches of white silk and velvet flowers, poppies, orcids lilies, etc., appearing in palest white. White violets are also very popular.

The florists have a system by which flowers may be sent by telegraph or in other words a Brooklyn florist for instance, the florist telegraphs the order to a correspondent in Boston and the same day the bouquet is duly presented. A great deal of this kind of business is done at Easter time. Florists have come so generally into use as Easter gifts that the makers of Easter cards have noticed a considerable decline in the demand for their wares. Bunches of roses, and violets, azalea plants are the favorite for this purpose and it is common sight at this season to see the windows of private residences beautifully decorated with potted plants of bouquets of flowers. Many are also sent to the hospitals or to sick beds, where they are doubly welcomed.

One of the prettiest customs of the year is the giving of Easter gifts. Unlike Christmas gifts, which are never supposed to be expensive. They are rather a little reminder of the happy Easter time, and a sign from the giver to the receiver that one is thinking of the other.

Of course there are many different kinds of gifts, and perhaps the most conspicuous are those prepared in the shape of eggs. These are not the only gifts that you can appropriately make for this time of the year. The presents described here are easily made, with almost no expense, and you will find that they will be very acceptable to those you decide to send them to, because they will be the result of your own labor and thought, and that is the best part of giving.

ORIGIN OF EASTER LILIES

Along the hills of Palestine The setting sunbams lie, Spilled like a goblet of red wine From that low, turning sky. Deep in the vale of Bethlehem. The shepherds' flocks are stilled, And all the sentient Holy Land With waiting transport thrilled, 'Tis Easter eve; to morrow's sun Will light the "rising day."

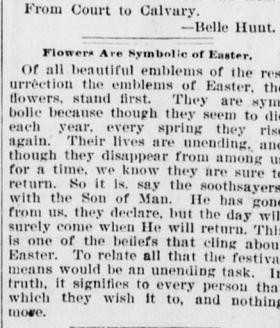

When lo! along the rocky road, Where weeds and thistles grow, There weaves a living fragrant line, Like curves of drifting snow. 'Tis lilies! lilies! rich and rare, Sprung up by magic growth, As though sweet nature to await God's given time were loath. Along the road they curve and smile, Marking the very way The blessed Saviour's feet had trod. From Court to Calvary.

—Belle Hunt.

Flowers are symbolic of Easter. Of all beautiful emblems of the resurrection the emblems of Easter, the flowers, stand first. They are symbolic because though they seem to die each year, every spring they rise again. Their lives are unending, and though they disappear from among us from time to time, we know they are sure to return. So it is, say the soothsayers, with the Son of Man. He has gone from us, they declare, but the day will surely come when He will return. This is one of the beliefs that cling about Easter. To relate all that the festival means would be an unending task. In truth, it signifies to every person that which they wish it to, and nothing more.

When a woman resolves to spread sunshine and happiness around her she begins by carrying a sad, wistful look in her eyes and talking in a low, mournful voice.—New York Press.

Just Before Easter.

'Tis now that lubby ever glides A trifling space before, To see how quickly he can pass Each millinery store.

EASTER MILLINERY.

THE COMING STYLES WILL BE PRETTY AND DECIDEDLY ELABORATE.

White Promises to Predominate—A Great Variety of Shapes—The Many-Hued Fanasy Seems to Have Caught the Popular Fancy—Violets Still in Evidence.

The advance styles in hats are decidedly elaborate. Some of the pretties ones are of toque or turban shape. One of these was all white, with a crown of straw braid, and the brim which rose up high in front, consisted of multitudinous ruffles of white mousseline-de-soie, with wired edge bordered with shirred white lisse, having a tiny satin stripe. The trim ming consisted of a large bow of black velvet ribbon, made of five or six wire loops, which was held in place by a fancy buckle, and this already high arrangement was rendered still higher by an aigrette of fine spangled wire. As this hat was made by one of our swell milliners, it shows that the popularity of black and white is not of the wane.

Indeed, some say that this will be a white summer, and one is almost inclined to believe it, with the quantities of white shirt waists, white lawn and mull dresses, to which are now added white hats.

Rice and satin straw is seen the most, with a promise of Legion for the summer. The shapes are a kind of modified bergerie; that is, they are rounder or wider at the sides, and the brim is not quite so long in front. They are trimmed with folds and twists of tulle and chiffon, large chiffon rosettes and bunches of white silk and velvet flowers, poppies, orcids lilies, etc., appearing in palest white. White violets are also very popular.

The florists have a system by which flowers may be sent by telegraph or in other words a Brooklyn florist for instance, the florist telegraphs the order to a correspondent in Boston and the same day the bouquet is duly presented. A great deal of this kind of business is done at Easter time. Florists have come so generally into use as Easter gifts that the makers of Easter cards have noticed a considerable decline in the demand for their wares. Bunches of roses, and violets, azalea plants are the favorite for this purpose and it is common sight at this season to see the windows of private residences beautifully decorated with potted plants of bouquets of flowers. Many are also sent to the hospitals or to sick beds, where they are doubly welcomed.

One of the prettiest customs of the year is the giving of Easter gifts. Unlike Christmas gifts, which are never supposed to be expensive. They are rather a little reminder of the happy Easter time, and a sign from the giver to the receiver that one is thinking of the other.

Of course there are many different kinds of gifts, and perhaps the most conspicuous are those prepared in the shape of eggs. These are not the only gifts that you can appropriately make for this time of the year. The presents described here are easily made, with almost no expense, and you will find that they will be very acceptable to those you decide to send them to, because they will be the result of your own labor and thought, and that is the best part of giving.

ORIGIN OF EASTER LILIES

Along the hills of Palestine The setting sunbams lie, Spilled like a goblet of red wine From that low, turning sky. Deep in the vale of Bethlehem. The shepherds' flocks are stilled, And all the sentient Holy Land With waiting transport thrilled, 'Tis Easter eve; to morrow's sun Will light the "rising day."

When lo! along the rocky road, Where weeds and thistles grow, There weaves a living fragrant line, Like curves of drifting snow. 'Tis lilies! lilies! rich and rare, Sprung up by magic growth, As though sweet nature to await God's given time were loath. Along the road they curve and smile, Marking the very way The blessed Saviour's feet had trod. From Court to Calvary.

—Belle Hunt.

Flowers are symbolic of Easter. Of all beautiful emblems of the resurrection the emblems of Easter, the flowers, stand first. They are symbolic because though they seem to die each year, every spring they rise again. Their lives are unending, and though they disappear from among us from time to time, we know they are sure to return. So it is, say the soothsayers, with the Son of Man. He has gone from us, they declare, but the day will surely come when He will return. This is one of the beliefs that cling about Easter. To relate all that the festival means would be an unending task. In truth, it signifies to every person that which they wish it to, and nothing more.

When a woman resolves to spread sunshine and happiness around her she begins by carrying a sad, wistful look in her eyes and talking in a low, mournful voice.—New York Press.

Just Before Easter.

'Tis now that lubby ever glides A trifling space before, To see how quickly he can pass Each millinery store.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

of

Dr. J. C. Ayer

The Kind You Have Always Bought. CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Letter from a Woman

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy frequently cures several members of a family. While it is considered by many to be a Kidney and Bladder Medicine, it is just as certain to cure Dyspepsia, Constipation, Rheumatism, Scrofula and Eczema. This is because it first puts the Kidneys in a healthy condition, so they can sift all impurities from the blood.

Here is a letter from Mrs. Capt. PETER RACE, of N. Y.: "My husband was troubled with his kidneys, fearfully with shooting pains through his back. He took Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and is now well and strong. Although seventy years of age, he is as hearty as a man many years younger. I was troubled with Dyspepsia that it was painful for me to walk. My food did me no good, as my stomach could not digest it. Somebody recommended Favorite Remedy to me, and after taking two bottles of it I was completely cured, and am feeling splendid now. We both attribute our good health to Favorite Remedy."

It is prescribed with unflinching success for Nerve Troubles, and for the Liver and Blood it is a specific. It has cured many that were beyond the aid of other medicine. Ask your druggist for it, and insist upon getting it. Don't take a substitute. It will cost you $1.00 for a regular full-sized bottle.

Sample Bottle Free
If you want to try Favorite Remedy before buying, send your full post-office address to the Dr. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., and mention this paper. They will send you a free trial bottle, all charges prepaid. This genuine offer is made to prove to everybody what a wonderful medicine it is.

Dry Goods, Groceries and Provisions.

THE NEW HOCKING
BROTHERHOOD HATS
MADE IN N.Y.

A celebrated brand of XX flour always in stock.

Roll Butter and Eggs a Specialty.
AMANDUS OSWALD,
N. W. Cor. Centre and Front Sts., Freeland.

P. F. McNULTY,
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER.
Embaling of female corpses performed exclusively by Mrs. P. F. McNulty.

Prepared to Attend Calls Day or Night.

South Centre street, Freeland.
PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION.

DePIERRO - BROS.

CAFE.
Corner of Centre and Front Streets, Freeland, Pa.

Finest Whiskies in Stock.
Gibson, Dougherty, Kauffer Club, Rosenbluth's Velvet, of which we have EXCLUSIVE SALE IN TOWN.

Mumm's Extra Dry Champagne, Hennessy Brandy, Blackberry, Gins, Wines, Claretts, Cordials, Etc. Imported and Domestic Cigars.

OYSTERS IN EVERY STYLE.
Ham and Schweizer Cheese Sandwiches, Sardines, Etc.

MEALS - AT - ALL - HOURS.
Ballentine and Hazlett beer on tap.

Baths, Hot or Cold, 25 Cents.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description will quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbooks on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year, four months, $1. Sold by all newspapers.

MUNN & CO. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 605 F St., Washington, D. C.

PRINTING of every description executed at short notice by the Tribune Company.