NOTES AND COMMENTS FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA CAPITAL.

Talk of an Extra Session to Finish up the Work of the Legislature—Hundreds of Bills Defeated or Smothered in Committees—Bicycle Tax Bill Passed.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 21, 1899.
The closing hours of the legislature which has just adjourned were uneventful, and indeed this may be said of the entire session, except that part of its work relating to the election of a senator. On this point many former friends have been turned to bitter enemies, many reputations have been smirched, many promises have been broken and the dominant party has been rent in twain beyond all hopes of reconciliation, except such as may come by the complete supremacy of one or the other of the two powerful factions.

Both the governor and the legislature disposed of quite a lot of business during the week, but when adjournment came the state was left without the passage of any bills changing the ballot; both the Martin and Keater bills were badly defeated. This, too, after pledges made by the Republican party. There were three bills which were to complete the new capitol building and all went down.

The session of 1897 attended the unveiling of the Washington monument at Philadelphia, but failed to pay its bills. This session measures have been presented which were to authorize the parties holding claims against the legislature for this junket to bring suit to recover the same. The bill, however, was defeated.

Governor Stone has signed the following new laws: Authorizing the courts to enter an order granting to the proper officers of charitable institutions the right to indenture minor children.

To provide for the preparation and publication of the names and records of Pennsylvania volunteers in the Spanish-American war, and making an appropriation of $600 for the clerical work in connection therewith.

Making an appropriation of $5,000 for the payment of the expenses of the inauguration of the governor.

Extending the benefits to the Soldiers' Orphan Industrial schools to the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish war.

House resolution requiring the secretary of the navy to detail the cruiser Raleigh to attend the Grant monument unveiling at Philadelphia; senate resolution thanking the Tenth Pennsylvania for their services and appointing a committee to welcome the command home; house resolution to have present a portion of the National Guard at the Hartman statue unveiling; constituting the school directors of the several boroughs a board of health; providing for the payment of the expenses of the last military election; granting consent to the acquisition by the United States of land at Wilkes-Barre for the erection of a postoffice; providing for the construction and maintenance of side paths along the highways in townships for the use of bicycles and pedestrians; providing for the appointment of side path commissioners, prescribing their duties and the duties of the assessors in the assessment of bicycles, and providing for levying, collecting and disbursement of a tax of $1 on bicycles.

Requiring the holders, owners as assignee or mortgagees of real estate to furnish to the recorder of deeds of the county in which the mortgage or assessment is recorded the full name, residence (including street number) and the address of such holder, owner or assignee, and said recorder shall forthwith certify same to the office of the county commissioners.

Empowering the owners or lessees of land used for public park purposes to make rules and regulations governing the use of any public roads within the limits of said park.

BILLS VETOED.

The governor has vetoed a concurrent resolution authorizing the appointment of two senators and three members to inquire into the alleged infraction of the law by the Susquehanna Canal Company. The governor also returned without his approval the following bills:

To enlarge the competency of the wife to testify against her husband.

Granting a pension of $8 a month to Evan Jones for injuries received in a railroad collision on a train coming from Green Castle to Harrisburg, in 1862, while a private in Company I, Twelfth Pennsylvania Volunteer Militia.

Supplement to the act of May 20, 1889, relating to the incorporation and regulation of corporations.

LUTHER LEAGUE.

Tenth Semi-Annual Convention Will Be Held Here This Week.

The tenth semi-annual convention of the Upper Lehigh Valley Luther League will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran church on Washington street. It is intended that a large representation of ministers will be present. Those in charge have made every preparation to make the visit of the ministers to this borough a very pleasant one. The following program has been prepared for the work of the convention:

TUESDAY.

First session, 10 a. m.—Opening service, Rev. D. G. Gerberich; address of welcome, Rev. J. J. Kuntz; response, Rev. E. F. Ritter; enrollment of delegates; president's report; treasurer's report; regular business; election of officers.

Second session, 1:45 p. m.—Devotional service, Rev. L. Lindensrunt; regular business continued; report from local leagues; essay, "What the League Is Doing for Our Church," John Schrader, West Hazleton; address, "The Luther League and the Christian Endeavor Society," Rev. A. O. Ebert; address, "League Finances," Rev. J. H. Kuder; address, "The Luther League and the Temperance Movement," Rev. A. C. Wuchter; essay, Miss Alice Serfass; address, "What the League is Doing for Us," William H. Rippe; address, "Does the Luther League in Its Present Methods Answer the Purposes of Its Founders?" Rev. H. H. Bruening, Ph. D.; question box.

Third session, 7:15 p. m.—Anthem by the choir; devotional exercises, Rev. C. A. Wuchter; essay, "What Opportunities Are Open to Women to Engage in the Work of Missions?" Miss Anzietta Bauer, Lehigh; address, "Was Kann die Jugend fuer die Gemeinde thun?" Rev. J. O. Schlenker; solo, Miss Edith Kuntz, Freeland; declamation, Miss Cora E. Shupp, Kresgeville; address, "Cypfers," Rev. W. L. Hutton, Wilkes-Barre; offerings; essay, "The Luther League, Its Shortcomings and Great Opportunity," Miss Lena Stumpf, Hazleton; question box.

WEDNESDAY.

Fourth session, 9 a. m.—Devotional service, Rev. C. H. Hemsath; "The Model League," George F. Begel, Weisport; "The Luther League and Its Library," John Stark, Weissport; "The Relation Between the League and the Congregation," Rev. M. B. Schroyer; "What Can the League Do for the Church at Large?" Rev. C. H. Hemsath; "How to Get the Old and Younger Members Interested in the Work of the League," Miss Mary Shafer, West Hazleton; impromptu remarks, "Good of the Cause," "What We Need," "Where We Have Failed," "What Ought to Be Changed."

The Upper Lehigh Valley Luther League was organized January 15, 1895, in Weatherly. The officers are as follows: President, Rev. E. F. Ritter, West Hazleton; vice president, George F. Begel, Weissport; secretary, Miss Sallie A. Kunkle, Kresgeville; treasurer, Charles Rohrig, Mauch Chunk.

Police Officer Accused.

The Buck Mountain correspondent of Weatherly Herald has the following in Saturday's issue of that paper: "Mike Sindick, our constable, was at Freeland on business last Sunday. While there he was arrested by one of the special police of that place, for what reasons we do not know. While going up to the squire's office the officer wanted Mike to give him $5 and he would let him go, but Mike is not as green as he looks. He went to the squire's office and when he stated his story he was left go. This must be a new way for some of the officers of that place to make pocket money. If so, I would advise them to stop it immediately before they are caught."

Con-tab's Sindick was here on the day mentioned and was arrested by Special Officer Louis Hess. He was given a hearing by Burgess Gallagher, who found him guilty on the officer's testimony and fined him $5, which was paid by a Freeland gentleman. In conversation with several people here after his release Sindick asserted that the officer offered him his release for $5 and that he refused the proposition. Mr. Hess should now give his version of the affair, as the allegation is a serious one and he cannot afford to let it go unnoticed.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

LOCAL WAR NOTES.

The transport Crook, with its second load of dead from the Porto Rican and Cuban battlefields, is expected to reach New York on Saturday. On account of the existence of fever in Cuba, and the necessary quarantine precautions taken to guard against its spread, all the bodies from Cuba will be buried in the national cemetery at Arlington, whether they are claimed by relatives or not. This ends all hope of having the body of Sergeant John W. Jones, of Upper Lehigh, brought here for burial. In the case of the Porto Rican dead the relatives will be allowed to claim their dead and remove them for burial to their respective homes.

Charles L. Wilcox, aged 28 years, died at Fort Monroe on Wednesday. He was a Wilkes-Barre printer and joined the army last August. Wilcox was a member of Battery B, Third artillery, and was well known by the local ex-members of that company. He was buried at Wilkes-Barre on Friday.

All Lackawanna county turned out on Thursday to welcome home Patrick Carey, aged 28 years, of Minooka, who served on the Raleigh in the battle of Manila on May 1. The reception was the greatest ever given to an individual in that county. Carey has been in the navy two years and nine months.

The transport Warren left San Francisco for Manila on Thursday with eight batteries of the Sixth regular artillery on board. John Conahan, of Battery H, and Michael Zeman, Jr., of Battery F, represent Freeland in this regiment. Both men are on the Warren.

BRIEF ITEMS.

A large barn owned by the Millhopper Packing Company in Sandy valley was totally destroyed by fire last night. Several tons of hay, horses, cows and farming implements were consumed. The origin of the fire is not known.

Among the appropriations granted by the legislature was $40,000 to the miners' hospital, Hazleton; $25,000 to Wilkes-Barre City hospital, and $5,000 to the new Mercy hospital, Wilkes-Barre.

Miss Mattie Brown, who taught school in Sugarloaf township, has returned to her home here, the term in that township having come to a close.

The Holiness Christian Association will ask council's permission to hold a large camp meeting in the Public park.

Miss Susie Ferry, of Washington street, is spending the week with Kingston friends.

Miss Rose Higgins, of Norristown, is on a visit to friends in town.

Condition of the Miners.

Benjamin James, of Jeannette, a member of the executive committee of the United Mine Workers' Association, testified before the Industrial Commission at Washington last week that 70 per cent of the miners in the anthracite coal regions were unable to speak English, and most of them had been brought during the great strike of 1875. He complained that miners were compelled to pay more than the market price for articles purchased at company stores. Last year, in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania, he said the miners paid for their powder $1,900,000 more than it could have been bought for in the open market. He complained also of the "docking" system in the anthracite region. Miners lost usually from ten to twelve cars out of every 100. He said the companies instructed the "docking" bosses to dock the men.

Burgess J. A. Hoffman, of Birdsboro, was on Friday indicted for $363.16 damages, the verdict brought against him for false arrest by Levi Kossler, a tea agent of Reading. Kossler, while delivering goods in Birdsboro, was arrested by Constable Albright for violation of a borough ordinance. This imposed a license of $10 a year on solicitors, and had recently been passed by town council.

Kessler was taken before Burgess Hoffman, declined to pay the license, and was locked up. He testified he was confined eighteen hours in the lockup without food or water, and contracted rheumatism. He was brought into court on a writ habeas corpus and discharged, it being decided that the ordinance was illegal. He then brought the present action, asking $2,000 damages.

Temperance Convention.

Delegates from the several Catholic temperance societies of the region met yesterday afternoon at the Grand opera house. All the societies were well represented and a number of addresses and discussions took place in regard to the total abstinence movement. It was decided that a reunion of the societies of the district shall be held at Hazle park on June 24 next and a committee to make the necessary preparations was appointed. The delegates were tendered supper at the Central hotel after the meeting.

In the evening an entertainment was held at the opera house, in which a number of local and out-of-town people took part. The program was rendered in good style and appreciated by the audience.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Several of the Older Residents of Town Receive Their Last Summons.

At 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Sarah Gallagher was found dead by her niece, Miss Mary Dever, of Philadelphia. She was seen entering a stable at the rear of her home shortly after 9 o'clock and this was the last time she was seen alive. Miss Dever became alarmed at her aunt's absence, and hurrying to the stable she found her lying on the floor with life extinct. For a week or more past Mrs. Gallagher was suffering from one of the melancholy spells to which she had been subjected for some years past, and this, with a weak constitution and an affected heart, is supposed to have overcome her strength and caused her sudden death before she could summon help.

The deceased was the widow of Edward Gallagher, who was accidentally killed at the Lehigh Valley station on February 29, 1892. She was in her fifty-sixth year and is survived by four brothers in Ireland. Her only relatives in this country are two nieces, Misses Mary and Sarah Dever. The latter is seriously ill at her aunt's home and the former came here to assist in caring for her. The young ladies have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. A requiem mass will be read at St. Ann's church and the interment will be made in St. Ann's cemetery.

At 8:15 o'clock Saturday evening Mrs. Margaret O'Donnell died at her home on South Washington street at the age of 70 years. For nearly a week she had been quite ill and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. O'Donnell was the widow of Anthony O'Donnell, who died some time ago. She is survived by a brother, John Cull, and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Conahan, both of Audenried. The funeral takes place tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Trolley cars will convey the funeral party to Hazleton, and the interment will be made in St. Gabriel's cemetery.

John Ward, aged 52 years, of McAdoo, who was injured a few weeks ago in Silver Brook mines by a premature blast, died in Hazleton hospital Friday night. Mr. Ward resided at Eckley some years ago and has a number of relatives on the North Side. The remains arrived here today and were buried in St. Ann's cemetery.

Mrs. Celia Gallagher, who was a resident of this vicinity for many years, died on Thursday at the residence of her son-in-law, Patrick McNellis, Washington street. The remains were buried at St. Ann's cemetery on Saturday morning, after a requiem mass was read over them in St. Ann's church.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

The jury in the case of George Bartlett, on trial for the murder of William Moffitt, of Pittston, after being out all night, on Saturday returned a verdict of manslaughter, Judge Lynch, in passing sentence, said the jury had been very lenient. He said:

"I have been at this bar as an attorney and judge thirty odd years, and in that time have never found a case in which there was such persistent effort to kill. Your case is the most malicious and determined I ever knew. The jury showed you all the mercy possible. Had they returned a verdict of first degree murder the court would have approved of it. I sentence you to a fine of $500 and costs, and to be imprisoned in the Eastern penitentiary, separate and solitary confinement, at hard labor, for a term and period of twelve years."

The prisoner listened quietly to the judge's address and sentence, and returned to the prisoner's corner without a word. The sentence is the maximum penalty prescribed by the law.

May Yet Build New Coal Road.

Secretary Kemmerer, of the New York, Wyoming and Western Railroad, the new line which it is proposed to run from the upper coal fields to tidewater, is quoted as saying that although the road has been delayed by the withdrawal of the Simpkin-Walkins interests, it is the policy of the directors to begin immediately the construction of the line. More than $1,000,000 has been subscribed and the co-operation of New York banking interests has been obtained.

Notwithstanding this assertion, older railroad and coal men believe otherwise. They agree that while it would cost more money than yet raised, the road, being devoted exclusively to freight, would not pay. Moreover, if built, owners would have a hard time to operate it. It would bring on a big fight with the large coal carrying companies and as they would all be against it the result, it is claimed, would not be of advantage to the new company.

School Board Acquitted.

The Banks township school board, on trial at Mauch Chunk the past four days, charged with issuing and publishing a false statement of receipts and expenditures of the district, were acquitted by the jury on Saturday after an all night session. George W. Koons, treasurer of the board, must pay two-thirds of the costs. E. A. Oberender, of Drifton, representing the Taxpayers' Association, must pay the balance. The costs amount to over $700.
