In other months we forget the harsh winds of Spring. But they have their use, as some say, to blow out the bad air accumulated after Winter storms and Spring thaws. There is far more important accumulation of badness in the veins and arteries of humanity, which needs Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great Spring Medicine clarifies the blood as nothing else can. It cures scrofula, kidney disease, liver troubles, rheumatism and kindred ailments. Thus it gives perfect health, strength and appetite for months to come.

Kidneys.—"My kidneys troubled me, and on advice took Hood's Sarsaparilla which gave prompt relief, better appetite. My sleep is refreshing. It cured my wife also." MICHAEL BOYLE, 3473 Denny Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

Dyspepsia.—"Complicated with liver and kidney trouble, I suffered for years with dyspepsia, with severe pains. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me strong and hearty." J. B. EMBERTON, Main Street, Auburn, Me.

Hip Disease.—"Five running sores on my hip caused me to use crutches. Was confined to bed every winter. Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life, as it cured me perfectly. Am strong and well." ANNIE ROBERT, 49 Fourth St., Fall River, Mass.

Piano Practice and Peas.
Leschetzky, the famous teacher of the piano in Vienna, often brightens his talk with reminiscence. "I always practiced a piece with six dried peas," he said to one pupil. "When I began I would lay the six peas on the piano rack side by side. Then when I had played the piece through perfectly, or a part of it, I would put one of the peas in my pocket. And so I would go on until I had played it through perfectly six times in succession and all the peas were in my pockets. But if I made a single mistake, say in the third playing or the fourth playing, I would put the six peas on the rack and begin all over again. Whoever practices with six dried peas is sure to play as well as he can."—Ladies' Home Journal.

PERFECT womanhood depends on perfect health.
Nature's rarest gifts of physical beauty vanish before pain.
Sweet dispositions turn morbid and fretful.
The possessions that win good husbands and keep their love should be guarded by women every moment of their lives.
The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from derangement of the feminine organs.
Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their beauty, barely in time to save their lives. Many other thousands have availed of the generous invitation of Mrs. Pinkham to counsel all suffering women free of charge.
MRS. H. J. GARRETSON, Bound Brook, N. J., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the best results and can say from my heart that your medicines are wonderful. My physician called my trouble chronic inflammation of the left ovary. For years I suffered very much, but thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kind advice, I am today a well woman. I would say to all suffering women, take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and your sufferings will vanish."
MRS. MAGGIE PHILLIPPE, of Ladoga, Ind., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—For four years I suffered from ulceration of the womb. I became so weak I could not walk across the room without help. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wrote for special information. I began to improve from the first bottle, and am now fully restored to health."

They Never Sleep.
There are several species of fish, reptiles and insects which never sleep during their stay in this world. Among fish it is now positively known that pike, salmon and goldfish never sleep at all. Also that there are several others of the fish family that never sleep more than a few minutes during a month. There are dozens of species of flies which never indulge in slumber, and from three to five species of serpents which the naturalists have never yet been able to catch napping.

PERFECT WOMANHOOD

PERFECT WOMANHOOD

HOT AND COLD WAVES.
Both Kinds Flourish Beautifully in This Happy Land of Freedom.

Speaking about cold waves and weather in general a member of the Maryland Academy of Sciences said: "We have some kinds of weather in the United States that are unknown abroad. Take the cold wave, for example, that struck the far South a couple of years ago. It was a record breaker, you know, carrying the rigors of winter to a lower latitude than has been known for sixty years at least. Florida suffered $4,000,000 worth of damage. At Pensacola the oranges froze hard on the trees. The thermometer at Tampa fell to 18 degrees above zero, five degrees below the lowest ever noted. At Orange Park ice two inches thick formed on ponds. A cold wave of equal severity, it is said, struck the flowery peninsula in 1835, but temperatures were not recorded with reliable accuracy.

"Cold waves are unknown in Europe. We may justly pride ourselves upon them as an American institution. It is the same way with blizzards. Who ever heard of a blizzard in Europe?"

"Cold waves are very strange phenomena. Nobody knows with certainty where they come from or how they are formed. They are formed somewhere inland in the far Northwest, in the latitude of greatest cold, as you know, is a good way south of the North Pole. At the North Pole it is probably comparatively warm, and that extremity of the earth's axis perhaps surrounded by an open and unfrozen sea. As for the typical cold wave, my belief is that it is composed of air drawn from the higher and more frigid regions of the atmosphere. Ascend to an altitude of thirty miles above the earth's surface and you might find a rarified air at a temperature of 100 degrees below zero, or even much lower. The body of cold formed by the downrush of this frigid air from above starts on a journey eastward across the continent, traveling at the speed of a fast railway train, thirty-five or forty miles an hour. As it proceeds it spreads out. Obviously the cold air would be gradually warmed during the trip unless the waves were replenished with cold in some fashion. My notion is that while the wave is in transit fresh cold is continually drawn into it from above, where there is always an unlimited supply of air at an extremely low temperature. Finally, the wave passes off over the ocean. In some manner the Alleghany Mountains seem to interrupt the passage of cold waves, to a certain extent, as if the cold air was banked up against that range of hills, and its passage thus impeded. On this account it is very difficult to predict cold waves for the region of Baltimore and Washington.

"The lowest temperature ever recorded on the earth was taken at Werchojansk, in the interior of Siberia, January 15, 1885. It was 90 degrees and a fraction below zero. Werchojansk is in the latitude of the pole of cold, and in the warmest season it never thaws. The highest temperature recorded is 124 degrees and a fraction, taken in Algeria, July 17, 1879. The lowest temperature on record in the United States is 64 degrees below zero, at Tobacco Garden, N. D. Greely, the Arctic explorer, has probably experienced a wider range of temperature than any other living man. He recorded 66 degrees below zero at Fort Conger, on Lady Franklin Bay. On another occasion, in the Maricopa Desert of Arizona, his thermometer in the shade ran up to 114 degrees above. A lucifer match dropped upon the burning sands of Sahara will catch fire. It is very difficult, even with the finest thermometers, to get accurate records of extreme temperatures, and on that account such observations in general are to be regarded as only approximately correct."

The Regret of Bismarck's Rescuer.
Bismarck stories continue to enliven the German press. A few days since the world was informed of a youthful escapade of the late Chancellor at Rudesheim which nearly led to his death by drowning. He was saved by the prompt action of a Nassau cadet, who sprang into the river and brought the sobber student to shore. Bismarck did not care to be reminded in later days of this incident, and, to judge by the sequel, it constituted a source of regret also to the cadet. The latest story depicts the brave rescuer of the future Chancellor as he was one day marching with the army of Prince Alexander of Hesse during the war of 1867. The former cadet had developed into the corpulent Captain Sterzing, with whom the exertion of marching under a blazing July sun did not seem to agree. At intervals the exhausted officer wiped his forehead and gave vent to low muttered imprecations. In the course of one of these outbursts he was heard to say: "Ah, if I had only let him drown!" "Let whom drown, captain?" inquired the colonel of the regiment. "Why," answered the Nassauer, in his broad dialect, "had I just let Bismarck drown that day instead of fetching him out of the Rhine, there would have been no need for us to run like this."—London Post.

History Told in Knots.
Tying knots in the handkerchief to jog one's memory had its origin in China thousands of years ago. Before writing was invented in that country, which did not happen until 3000 B. C., memorable and important events were recorded by long knotted cords. The most ancient history of China is still preserved as told by these knots. When Emperor Tschang Ki invented writing the entire system of "knotting" was abandoned. And to-day the knots made by us in handkerchiefs are the only surviving descendants of that ancient custom.

THE PARSON'S DAUGHTER.
Little foot whose lightest pat seems to glorify the mat,
Waving hair and picture hat,
Leaps a throbbing thrill and smart,
Gown the pink of fit and style,
Lips that ravish when they smile—
Like a vision, down the aisle
Comes the parson's daughter.

As she passes, like a dart,
To each luckless fellow's heart
Leaps a throbbing thrill and smart,
When his eye has sought her;
Tries to then his sight to bless
With one glimpse of face or tress,
Does she know it?—well, I guess,
Pretty parson's daughter.

Leans she now upon her glove
Checks whose dimples tempt to love,
And, with satiny look above,
Hears her "pa" exhort her;
But, within those upturned eyes,
Fits as many summer skies,
Just a hint of mischief lies—
Roguish parson's daughter.

From their azure depths the glance,
When the hymn-book gave the chance,
Did I get one laughing glance?
I was sure I caught her;
Are her thoughts so far amiss
As to stray, like mine, to bliss?
For, last night, I stole a kiss
From the parson's daughter.
—Joe Lincoln, in L. A. W. Bulletin.

PITH AND POINT.
Flynn says that he once let a room to a man who paid him "two weeks ahead every Saturday night."

And then seek with a will
And mildly yearn to have it learn
The art of keeping still.
