Why Roderick Was Appointed.

George Nox McCain, the well-known writer for the Phitadelphia Press, has been in the northeastern part of the state looking over the political situation, and in Monday's Issue of that paper has several pertinent comments. The following is from Mr. McCain's artie'e:

"It is again necessary to call attention to the prophecy made in the Press, months ago that all of Governor Stone's appointments were to be made solely in the interest of the machine, and that the man who could not control votes had no business keeping a job under this administration.

"The most recent case is the appointment of the form of the strate of the minerator of J. E. Roderick to succeed Mr. Brownlow as chief of the bureau of mines. Mr. Roderick comes from Hazleton and the view taken of his appointment, from a pelitical standpoint, is that it will be his duty to swing the mining element, through the mine bosses throughout the country, for the found for the found for the hands of a state official. It is a power that was not exercised by Mr. Roderick's predecessor. If the coal districts which have heretofore been anti-Quay turn in for the machine, it can be taken as an evidence of the pernicious partisanship of Mr. Roderick.

"The principal attempt of the Quay ties will be to capture-the Fourth district. This will be done, it is hoped, with the aid of Mr. Roderick, who has for years been a lieutenant of Morgan B. Williams. Indeed, the effect of Mr. Roderick's appointment will likely be felt from the Schuykili county line to Forest City."
