Cowardly Stab at the Schools.

It is not a year since the orators were shouting to support the public schools by voting for Stone for governor, pamphlets were being mailed by the thousands to members of patriotic societies and hundreds of men went out to work secretly in spreading this claim. Many votes were captured last fall on the issue that the public schools would be safe in Stone's hands, for the public schools are rightfully recognized as one of the bulwarks of the state. That the schools would have been as safe under the care of that grand old statesman, George A. Jenks, as under any other man in the state was not denied during the gubernatorial contest, but Stone grasped at every straw which might gain him a vote and the cry to protect the public schools was a popular catch phrase with the Republican public and private workers—and it was not without its effect.

How insincere this claim was is shamefully shown in the action of the governor in cutting down the appropriation made to the schools by the legislature to the extent of one million dollars. The proffered excuse for his action—that the revenues of the state will not permit the whole appropriation—is as ridiculous as it is false, and Governor Stone, in standing sponsor for that assertion, writes himself down either dishonest or ignorant—which, it is immaterial at present.

The governor is in a position to know better than any other man in this state that the revenues of Pennsylvania should be sufficiently large enough under the present laws to permit the legislature to appropriate and pay double the amount that has been granted to the schools. The cutting off of unearned salaries of legislative and department employes would alone retain to the state more than the amount the governor has stricken from the schools, but he dare not raise his hand to stay that illegal outflow of the public funds.

If the taxes on corporations were collected in the manner set forth by law the revenue from that source would annually be trebled. Governor Stone and his appointees are not enforcing the tax law in the manner and spirit of the acts of assembly governing such matters. Hundreds of corporations in Pennsylvania go scot free every year as far as state taxes are concerned and as many others pay a few paltry dollars where they are actually indebted for thousands.

If the collected revenues of the state do not allow the schools to receive what was appropriated to them, the fault is Governor Stone's. If he were man enough to do his duty in striking at unlawful expense and collecting the debts due from corporations, the state's chief executive would not be compelled to demean himself by doubly insulting the people of his state—first, by cutting down the school appropriation; second, by excusing his action on the ground that he does not want to offend the corporations by enforcing the laws.

After all others fail, try the TRIBUNE. It reaches the people who do their trading in Freeland.

Trusts and the Tariff.

The Springfield Republican speaking recently of the trusts and of how they can not but be regarded by that large body of the American people—the farmers, namely—upon whose prosperity, more than that of any other class, the well-being of the nation rests, but who, especially during the past half-dozen years, with scarcely no relief, have been feeling the grind of hard times, spite of all the false and foolish things proclaimed to the contrary, says:

The agricultural classes can not but view the spread of monopoly in mining and manufacturing and transportation with the gravest apprehensions. It seems to be impossible that they can effectively organize by way of protection or retaliation. The trust issue is certain to stir American politics to the depths, and a tariff which protects trusts, but can not possibly protect the farmer in his staple lines of production, will not pass without question.

Musical College.

The summer term of the Musical college, at Freeburg, Snyder county, Pa., will begin on Monday, July 17, a term of six weeks for $33 including board and tuition. As all schools have vacation at this time, it will give a good opportunity for public school teachers and school children to attend this term. Parents desiring a progressive and home like school for their sons and daughters should investigate the merits of the college. For catalogue address Henry B. Moyer.

$1.50 a year is all the TRIBUNE costs.

THE DEMOCRATS ALERT

Strong Candidates and Strong Platform to Be Presented to the People.

JUDGE KENNEDY'S POSITION.

He Will Have a Solid Delegation of Thirty—The West Claiming the Place on the Supreme Bench—Creasy or Dixon For State Treasurer—Not Much Contest For the Superior Court Nomination—Candidates From the East.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, May 15.—The dissension in the Republican party between the Quay and anti-Quay factions appears to have been heightened rather than diminished by Governor Stone's action in appointing ex-Senator M. S. Quay to succeed himself until the next legislature meets and elects a senator. The Republican members of the house and senate who joined with the Democratic members to defeat Quay had a banquet at the Bellevue hotel, Philadelphia, on last Friday night. There was the hottest kind of talk, which goes to show that the Republican opposition to Quay has not lessened.

The Democratic leaders of the state are preparing to take advantage of this condition. All indications point to the nomination of a first class ticket at their state convention in Harrisburg next month. The adoption of a vigorous platform will also be carefully attended to. The Democracy this year is a united and harmonious body, and with a platform that will denounce the villainous abuses of the Republican party, the mismanagement of state funds by its machine, and the general disgrace and derelict into which the commonwealth has been plunged by Republican ringsters there is every reason to believe that Democratic candidates will triumph.

THE SUPREME JUDGESHIP.

First in importance is the supreme judgeship nomination, because the nominee of the Democratic convention will be elected, there being two vacancies, one to be filled by a Democrat, the other by a Republican. It is generally conceded that the nomination this year will go west of the Alleghenies, this reason being that when Chief Justice Sterritt retires this fall the western district will not be represented on the supreme bench.

While there are four or five possibilities in the west the consensus of opinion is in favor of Judge John M. Kennedy, of Allegheny, president judge of common pleas court No. 3, and one of the most distinguished and able judges on the bench west of the Alleghenies. The reason for Judge Kennedy's being a prime favorite in the race is not only on account of his prominence and ability, but because he will go to Harrisburg with the largest delegation of any candidate thus far mentioned. The bench and bar of Allegheny have unimously endorsed him, and the Democratic county committee of Allegheny has accorded him the rare privilege of choosing his own delegates, 30 in number, from his county.

JUDGE KENNEDY'S STRENGTH.

So far as known no other candidate for the supreme judgeship can rally such a body of delegates around him as Judge Kennedy will be able to command. To this number must be added a considerable number of delegates from neighboring counties and from counties this side the mountains. His friends see in this the nucleus of success. While other distinguished aspirants in the west will go to Harrisburg with delegations, Judge Kennedy will have more delegates, from present indications, than any other two or three candidates combined.

Judge Kennedy has been on the bench since 1891, when Governor Pattison appointed him at the suggestion of the Allegheny county Democratic leaders. He is still in the prime of life, being this side of 60 years of age. He is a native of Chester county, and thus the east and west are linked in his personality. He was a partner of the retiring Chief Justice Sterritt until the latter was elected to the supreme bench in 1877.

Other candidates from western Pennsylvania are Judge S. L. Mestreat, of Fayette county; Judge Lucien W. Doty, of Westmoreland county; Judge Calvin Reburn, of Armstrong county, and George Allen, Esq., of Erie. Both Judges Doty and Reburn are candidates for reelection to the common pleas bench in their own counties, and with good prospects of success. This narrows the candidates outside of Judge Kennedy to Mr. Allen, of Erie.

CREASY OR DIXON.

It is a foregone conclusion that Representative William T. Creasy, of Columbia, or Hon. George R. Dixon, of Elk, will be the nominee for state treasurer. Mr. Creasy appears to be the favorite among Democrats who reach Harrisburg from various sections of the state. Either gentlemen will receive a very heavy independent Republican vote. Both are excellent men in every way, and were incorruptible leaders of the Democrats in the last legislature.

The number of candidates for the superior court nomination is not very large. It is the one place which the Republicans will likely carry. If the Republicans nominate a weak man for state treasurer it is safe to bet that the Democratic candidate will be elected, if it is either Creasy or Dixon. At any rate the outlook at this moment is decidedly bright for a Democratic state treasurer.
