Invitation to the Public.

The Mining and Mechanical Institute of Freeland will have their closing exercises on Friday evening, June 2, commencing at 8 o'clock, in the Grand operations, to which the public is cordially invited. The Hon, Robert E. Pattison, of Philadelphia, ex-governer of the state, will be the speaker of the evening, and an interesting program has been arranged. St. Ann's band, under Prof. Meyberry, will furnish the music.

These anniversary exercises should be welcome to our community and should receive their hearty encouragement, both by their presence and purse. Let our citizens come to these exercises, that they may learn of the work and progress made by the students during the past year.

Cavein Endangers Houses.

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has notified property owners at Centralia to remove their buildings and tenants to evacuate the premises of a particular part of the eastern extremity of the town. The notification was accompanied with the explanation that the locality is in danger of caying into the mines and that the company will not be responsible for any damages if the parties referred to do not act promptly.

The affected portion involves two single and three double dwellings and two rows of tenement houses occupied by six families each. The last named are owned by George W. Davis, so that a score of families are included in the notice of evacuation.

This order comes immediately upon the heels of several cavelns that have occurred recently and one in particular on Wednesday of last week in close proximity to these houses.

The unfortunate feature for property owners is that the deeds which cover their properties were procured from the Locust Mountain Land Company and contain features which absolve the coal company from liabilities for damages in events of this character.

Dividing a Ward.

Commissioners Troutman, McNair and Butler on Thursday concluded the taking of testimony in the matter of the division of the South ward. The hearing took place at the Cottage hotel and lasted until late in the afternoon. Basing their claims upon equal representation in municipal bodies, several South ward residents asked for three wards. Figures were produced showing that in the assessed valuation of property, the number of registered voters, the number of votes polled and the number of school board and the number of registered voters, the number of registered voters was and several citizens as the solid property of number of voters, etc., may be a slarge as it is today in the South ward.

The commissioners will make their report to court in a few weeks.

Law Graduate Honored.

On Saturday the following law students passed successfully in an examination before the Luzerne examining board: D. B. Gildea and Frank Darte, Kingston; R. J. O'Donnell, Freeland; Kreef Frick, Frank Brown, Edwin Shortz and John Boyle, Wilkesbarre. The success attained by Mr. O'Donnell was quite pleasing to his local friends, and upon his arrival home he was tendered a supper at J. J. Malloy's cafe by his most intimate acquaintances. The table was filled with all the good things of the season, and was presided over by J. M. Carr, Esq. Durling the evening a number of congratulatory addresses were delivered, to all of which the guest responded appropriately.

Among those present were: John M. Carr, Esq., D. J. McCarthy, Esq., Dr. H. M. Neale, H. A. Shovlin, Esq., W. F. Boyle, James McHugh, George McGee, E. F. Hanlon, Con J. Boyle and W. C. Dershuek, editor of Hazleton Plain Speaker.

Mr. O'Donnell will be admitted to the bar on June 19. He studied in the office of Chas. Orion Stroh, Esq.

of Chas. Orion Stroh, Esq.

Wants to Be Appreciated.

A sessation has been created in Wilkesbarre by the sudden disappearance from her home of Mrs. William Schaeffer. On Saturday, May 20, her husband returned home and gave his wife his month's pay. She then said she would take a car for the central part of the city and purchase a new bonnet. She left her three-year-old daughter in charge of a neighbor and requested her to take good care of her until she returned. Failing to return in due time, Mr. Schaeffer made diligent search, but could find no trace of his wife.

The search was kept up all last week,

his wife.

The search was kept up all last week, but without any result. Mr. Schaeffer concluded to break up housekeeping on Friday, and while removing his furniture, found a letter in a bureau drawer. It was from his wife and addressed to him. It read: "Good-by, William, I am going away forever. I am going where I will be appreciated. Take good care of our little girl." Mr. Schaeffer says he has no idea where his wife went.

Liability of Express Companies.

Liability of Express Companies.

Judge Archbald, of Scranton, in an action brought to recover damages from the National Express Company for the loss of merchandise committed to its care, rendered an opinion that the liability of the company extended to a safe delivery of consignments to the consignee at his home or place of business within business hours; that it was not enough to send the consignee word of the arrival of such goods, but they are required by law to at least make the attempt to deliver the goods. This was not done, and the company is declared liable.

not done, and the company is declared liable.

This rule, however, the court said, does not apply to railroad companies carrying freight. They are required only to deliver the goods at their freight stations, but the express companies stand in a different relation.

Handwriling's Revelation of Character.

A most interesting article on graphology is published in the June Laddies Home Journal. The author, who is an idept in the science, presents a variety of specimens of chirography, enough of embody all the various forms and orinciples of writing, and these she learly interprets in her explanatory est. It is claimed that graphology has become a science, and that one's characteristics are unerringly revealed by is and writing. Whether this claim can be substantiated or not, the subject is a sopular and interesting one, and the lournal's article will afford a great deal fentertainment.

Maurice Heckler, son of James Heckler, of North Centre street, and Thomas Welch, son of James Welch, of South Heberton, enlisted at Hazleton on Saturday. They will join the infantry branch of the service, and will leave Hazleton on Wednesday for Camp Meade, near Harrisburg, where they will meet the Nineteenth regiment, which is preparing to go to the Philippines in July.

Harry J. Waller, of Sandy Run, also enlisted on Saturday.

To Extend Water Mains

The water mains of the Freeland Water Company will be extended to St. Ann's church this summer, and the residence of Rev. M. J. Fallihee and the Sisters of Mercy convent will be supplied thereafter from Freeland reservoir. The extension will lead from Luzerne street pipes, and will parallel the turnpike, to the right, from the end of this street to the church. The route has been surveyed and work upon it will soon begin.

BASE BALL DOTS.

There will be a game at Drifton park tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Two strong teams will be pitted against each other, and the winning club will be awarded a handsome prize. At the same time the Football Club's picnic will be on in the park. The victorious Villanova club is piling up games to its credit every day. Some of the strongest college teams in the country have gone down before it. Mc. Fadden, Bener and Broderick continue doing wonderful playing.

There are no signs yet of any of the local clubs reorganizing for this season. After the college boys return home a club may be formed that will defend the reputation of the town in the game. A thirteen-inning game of base ball was played at Drifton park yesterday between a club of that town and Jeddo. The score was 6 to 7 in favor of Drifton. Joe Ferry, of North Ridge street, has been signed by Catasaqua again this season. On Saturday he played against Washingto, N. J., club.

Ed Gaffney, of town, is putting up his usual fine game on the Holy Cross college team, of Worcester, Mass.

Removing the Scrap Iron.

The American Car and Foundry Company, of New York, has a big contract on hand to remove the scrap iron from 13,000 coal cars owned by Lehigh Valley road and about 3,000 box cars owned by other companies. There are about two and a half tons of scrap on each car not including wheels and axles. A new method for doing this work has been adopted. A complete wrecking plant has been erected and it is said the cars are being destroyed at a rate of about 100 a day. The process is watched with interest by railroad men.

Annual Festival Tomorrow.

The annual tea party of the English Baptist church congregation will be held tomorrow in the church basement, corner of Ridge and Walnut streets. Meals will be served at 25 cents each, and an invitation is extended to all to call and partake of the many delicacies that will be prepared.
