Sea Water for Street Sprinking.
The Merchants' Association of San Francisco, says the Popular Science Monthly, has been trying the experiment of sprinkling a street with sea water, and finds that such water binds the dirt together between the paying stones, so that when it is dry no loose dust is formed to be raised by the wind; that sea water does not dry so quickly as fresh water, so that it has been claimed when sait water has been used one load of it is equal to three loads of fresh water. The sait water which is deposited on the street absorbs moisture from the air during the night, whereby the street is thoroughly moist during the early morning and has the appearance of having been greatly sprinkled.

Something makes the backache and that something requires attention or the backache can never be permanently stopped. "I suffered for years with a long list of troubles," writes Mrs. C. KLENK, of Wells, Minn. (Box 151), to Mrs. Pinkham, "and I want to thank you for my complete recovery. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine for women.

"I had severe female complaints causing terrible backache and nervous prostration; was dizzy most of the time, had headache and such a tired feeling. I now have taken seven bottles of your Compound and have also used the Sanative Wash and feel like a new woman. I must say I never had anything help me so much. Smith College numbers many enthusiastic golfers among its students, and on the charming elm-shaded streets of quaint Northampton there may be noticed any fine day young women waiting for the electric cars which go to Leeds and Williamsburg through links of the college. It is a delightful ride out to these links, and an afternoon spent in the journey to and fro and on the field is never a wasted one.

Interest in golf is just beginning at Bryn Mawr. Several years ago a golf elub was started by the graduates and links were then laid out. Last year the athletic association took the matter in hand and laidout a small course with money which had been raised by subscription for this purpose. In the fall a golf club was organized, with a membership fee of $1.50, in order to raise enough money to set out a new larger course. Now the interest in the sport seems widespread and sufficiently assured. There are already abont a hundred members in the club, and it is expected that many more girls will join this season.

It is not expected that any one will buy Ivory Soap solely because it is suggested by an advertisement, but if you have never used Ivory Soap, you may be induced to ask some friend about it; should you find—as you probably will—that she is enthusiastic in its praise,

ARGEST KITCHEN IN WORLD.

LARGEST KITCHEN IN WORLD.

Built by George IV at Windsor Cattle in 1828.

The last of the works of the muchmaligned George IV, to be mentioned here is the enlarged and improved royal kitchen (at Windsor castle). It stands—perhaps the largest single kitchen in the world—on ground where royal kitchens have stood from time immemorial. George IV. it was who in 1828 gave it its lofty roof and top-light ventilators, its splendid clock let into the stone walls, and its generally medieval appearance. At the other end of the kitchen is fixed an immense and venerable smokestack, whose origin is lost in the mists of antiquity.
One of these annually has the honor of roasting her majesty's baron of beef.
The hot-plate table in the center of the kitchen measures no less than 14 feet by nine feet. The batterie de cuisine, in its brilliant array of gilttering copper, is large enough to cheer the hearts of a small army of gourmands; and to show its office is no sinecure, one may mention that it has to make an annual visit to the manufacturer for restoration and repair. Lady Bloomfield says of this kitchen in 1842: "The fire was more like Nebuchadnezzar's burning flery furnace' than anything else I can think of now; and though there is now no company at Windsor, there were at least 15 or 20 large joints of meat ere was nothing Napoleon was so of as boiled mutton with onion , and he frequently indulged his to such an extent as to make elf ill.
