VOL. XII, NO. 6.

FREE LAND, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1899.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS.

AN ORDINANCE.—An ordinance for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of the borough of Freeland to increase the indebtedness of said borough in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), or as much thereof as is required for erecting, furnishing and completing a town hall, including in the one structure, council rooms, fire department, municipal offices, a public library, a large room for public purposes and a lockup. Also to erect and establish an electric pumping station in the Fourth ward, an electric fire alarm system throughout the borough and to build and extend the public sewers on Washington, Birkbeck, Front, Carbon and Ridge streets in the borough of Freeland.

Be it ordained and enacted by the burgess and town council of the borough of Freeland that a proposition be submitted to the qualified voters of said borough at a public election to be held therein for their assent or rejection of a proposed increase of the indebtedness of said borough to an amount greater than 2 per cent and not exceeding 7 per cent of the last preceding assessed valuation of its taxable property.

That said election be held at the respective polling places in all the wards of the said borough on Saturday, August 26, 1899, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., and that the burgess, president and secretary of the town council, give notice thereof during at least thirty days by weekly advertisements in all the newspapers of the said borough and by a conspicuous handbill posted at all of the polling places in the borough.

The amount of the proposed increased indebtedness to be fifteen thousand dollars, to be raised by bonds bearing 4 per cent interest, maturing in not less than five nor more than thirty years and the said money thus raised or so much thereof as may be required to be used for the following purposes, to wit:

1. Ten thousand dollars ($10,000), for erecting, furnishing and completing a town hall, including in the one structure, council rooms, fire department, municipal offices, a large hall, a public library and a lockup.
2. Fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500), for establishing an electric pumping station on the Hill in the Fourth ward.
3. Fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500), to establish an electric fire alarm system throughout the borough.
4. Two thousand dollars ($2,000), to extend and build the public sewers on Washington, Front, Birkbeck, Carbon and Ridge streets in the borough of Freeland.

Enacted into an ordinance at a stated meeting of the borough council of the borough of Freeland, county of Luzerne, state of Pennsylvania, held the seventeenth day of July, A. D. 1899. Daniel Kline, president.

Attest: John G. Davis, secretary.

Approved this seventeenth day of July, A. D. 1899. James M. Gallagher, burgess.

NOTICE OF AN ELECTION TO BE HELD to obtain the assent of the electors to increase the indebtedness of the borough of Freeland, county of Luzerne, state of Pennsylvania, passed at a regular meeting on the seventeenth day of July, 1899, and duly approved by the burgess of said borough, an election will be held at the several polling places for holding municipal offices in said borough on Saturday, the twenty-sixth day of August, 1899, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m., for the purpose of increasing the indebtedness of the said borough to 7 per cent and not exceeding 7 per cent of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property in said borough.

The purpose of the proposed increase of indebtedness of said borough are:

1. To erect, furnish and complete a town hall, including in the one structure, council rooms, fire department, municipal offices, a large hall, a public library and a lockup.
2. To establish an electric pumping station in the Fourth ward on the Hill.
3. To establish an electric fire alarm system throughout the borough.
4. To extend and build the public sewers on Washington, Front, Birkbeck, Carbon and Ridge streets in the borough of Freeland.

Amount of the proposed increase of indebtedness.....$15,000.00
Percentage of proposed increase of indebtedness..... 6.128

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns Are Doing.

Saturday will be pay day at Jeddo and Upper Lehigh.

A fine flagstone sidewalk is being laid in front of the store of Joseph Birkbeck.

P. Magagna and E. J. Curry are receiving congratulations over the arrival of young sons at their respective homes.

Attorney Chas. Orion Stroh is having a six-foot stone flag sidewalk placed along the eighty feet of his property on East Main street.

The camp meeting of the Holiness Christian Association in the Public park opened this morning. The services will be continued for ten days.

Three foxes were captured this week by R. J. Dever, Frank Malloy and William Seiwel. Two of the animals are on exhibition in Hugh Malloy's garden.

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Lehigh Valley Medical Association will be held at Glen Summit on July 27. The annual address will be made by Dr. W. L. Kodman.

Dr. J. W. Leckie, Sr., and Miss Emma Phillips were married at Hazleton. Dr. Leckie, who was a widower, is 64 years of age, while the bride is a girl of twenty summers.

Michael Spoko, of Ebervale, was crushed in No. 4 mine, Oakdale, on Monday, by a fall of rock. He was injured in all parts of his body and died that night in the miners' hospital.

Lorenz Nisler died at his home in the Cox addition on Tuesday. The funeral took place this morning. After a high mass at St. Ann's church the remains were interred in the adjoining cemetery.

The will of Margaret McNelis, of Freeland, was probated yesterday. She died in January, 1898, and left all her property to her two sons, Roger and James McNelis. James is named as executor.

Ernest Drawhelm, of Upper Lehigh, and Miss Minnie Collit, of Wilkesbarre, were married on Tuesday at the bride's home. The wedding was witnessed by Miss Ida Drawhelm and John and Miss Kate Lesser, of Upper Lehigh. The couple will reside in Upper Lehigh.

Adam Zarowsky, of Freeland, and Anastasia Duljenski, of Hazleton, and Peter Sorenack, of Pond Creek, and Kate Cupko, of Freeland, will be married on Saturday. The former couple will be united at the Polish Catholic church and the other at the Greek Catholic church.

Rev. Michael Balogh, formerly rector of the Greek Catholic church at Wilkesbarre, who joined the Russian Church a few years ago, has formally recanted and returned to the Catholic Church. He was restored to the union by Bishop Hoban during the recent retreat of the clergy of the Scranton diocese.

On Sunday next Rev. W. C. Hall, of St. Paul's Primitive Methodist church of Freeland, will preach at the usual hours. Services at 10.30 a. m., also at 7 p. m. Subject for morning, "How God Encourages the Weak Ones;" subject for evening, "Sad Results of Misappropriation." Everybody is welcome.

W. C. Hall, pastor.

Michael Dennion, of Eckley, employed as an engineer by the Cross Creek Coal Company, fell under a train of mine cars Monday morning. The wheels passed over his left foot, crushing the ankle. He was a son of Michael Dennion, of Ridge street, who died on Tuesday. The injured man is receiving treatment at the Miners' hospital and his foot will be saved.

PERSONALITIES.

Misses Katie McGeehan, of Mauch Chunk, and Bridget McGeehan, of Nesquehoning, arrived in town Tuesday evening and will spend a week at the residence of their uncle, Hugh McGeehan.

John Richards and John H. Powell left on Tuesday for Bethlehem, where the former has secured work and the latter expects a position. Both were employees of Drifton shops.

W. J. Timney and family and M. D. McLaughlin and family are spending the day at Rockport and Laurytown.

Mrs. Condy Heeney, of North Ridge street, has returned from a visit to her son, Patrick, in Mauch Chunk.

Mrs. Dennis Ferry, Sr., Mrs. P. H. Hanlon and Miss Rose Ferry are on a visit to Wilkesbarre friends.

A. C. Leisenring and family, of Upper Lehigh, have returned from their sojourn at Atlantic City.

E. J. Gaffney has signed with Honedale base ball club and left on Monday to join the team.

Joseph Birkbeck, of Wilkesbarre, attended to business matters here yesterday.

Miss Muldoon, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Miss Josephine Campbell.

SPECIAL ELECTION.

Borough Citizens Will Vote on a Bond Issue on August 26.

Messrs. Kline, Smith, Meehan, Rudewick, DePiero, Davis, Keck and Schwabe attended the meeting of the borough council Monday evening. A motion was passed ordering all property owners who have not yet connected with the sewer to do so.

The finance committee presented a report of the financial condition of the town, also an ordinance which they recommended. The ordinance provided for an election to be held at the regular polling places on Saturday, August 26, for the purpose of voting on the question of issuing $15,000 worth of 4 per cent bonds. It was passed without a dissenting vote.

It is provided that the money thus raised shall be expended as follows:

For erecting and furnishing a town building, including library, lockup, fire rooms, etc., $10,000; for establishing an electric fire alarm system, $1,500; for fire protection at Bivanton, $1,500; for construction of sewers on Washington, Ridge, Carbon, Front and Birkbeck streets, $2,000.

The printing committee was authorized to have the election advertised in the local papers in the manner provided by law.

At the request of a committee of firemen a committee of council was appointed to see the Anthracite and Bell Telephone Company officials in regard to placing phones in the fire rooms for use in case of fire in South Hoberton or other distant points.

President Kline reported the chain on the fire alarm in bad condition and the same was ordered repaired.

The Mirror Club was granted the use of the Public park on Labor Day for a picnic and bicycle races.

The tax levy for the ensuing year was fixed at 13 mills 8 for light and water and 5 for borough purposes.

Child Burned to Death.

Bella, the young daughter of Harry and Lena Argust, of Upper Lehigh, was burned yesterday near her home so severely that death resulted last evening. She was playing about a fire which several children started in an alley and in some manner the flames reached her clothes. In an instant the child was enveloped in a blaze. Her screams attracted the attention of her mother and several of the neighbors, who hurried to the rescue, but before they could give assistance the fire had burned the little one fatally. She lingered until evening, when she expired.

Bella was aged 5 years and 3 months. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Freeland cemetery.

Besides the girl's mother, Mrs. James Hawkins, John J. Sweeney and Matthew Jones were badly burned about the hands while trying to extinguish the flames.

Death of Michael Dennion.

Michael Dennion, aged 72 years, died on Tuesday at his home on Ridge street, where he resided for a number of years. He had been ill but a few days, and his death, which was caused by stomach trouble and dysentery, was not looked for until that morning. Mr. Dennion was a resident of this section for several years. He is survived by a wife and four sons and two daughters, as follows: James and Hugh and Mrs. Matthew Murphy and Mrs. Patrick Brogan, of Freeland, and John and Michael, of Eckley. The latter is at present in the hospital at Hazleton on account of an injury received the day before his father's death.

The funeral will leave the residence at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. A requiem mass will be read at St. Ann's church; interment at St. Ann's cemetery.

Embarked in Newspaperdom.

The TRIBUNE on Tuesday received No. 1, Volume I, of the New River Reporter, published at Thurmond, West Virginia. Its editor and proprietor is P. E. Gallagher, a former resident of Drifton, who has been located in that section for some years. Mr. Gallagher is a brother of ex-Burgess E. P. Gallagher, of Freeland, and has a wide circle of friends in the Pennsylvania coal fields who will wish him success.

The Reporter is a seven-column four-page paper and the first issue has many healthy signs about it. The editor has had considerable experience as a newspaper correspondent and will make the Reporter deserving of success.

Saved Two From Drowning.

Lawrence Gillespie, a son of James Gillespie, of Washington street, who is employed in Brooklyn, made a daring rescue of two young sisters, Mamie and Lizzie Orland, near Fort Hamilton last week. The girls were out in a row-boat, which began to leak, and sank in thirty feet of water.

Gillespie was on shore and hearing their cries sprang into the bay and saved both from drowning. The New York papers of the 12th inst. contain lengthy accounts of the rescue and commended the young man for his coolness and bravery.

MINES AND RAILROADS.

Some of the leading interests in the trunk line properties are developing a plan for the use of anthracite instead of bituminous on all passenger trains. If Vanderbilt roads adopted the use of anthracite it is argued that the service would be so much improved that other systems would be forced to adopt it. The Vanderbilts could increase the anthracite consumption in this way, it is said, fully 1,000,000 tons a year.

The largest coal breaker in the world will soon be located at Carbondale. One now in course of construction on the "flats" will take the place of several smaller ones now operated in that vicinity by the Delaware and Hudson Company. Four thousand tons daily will be the coal breaking and preparing capacity of the great plant.

It is said that the danger of a strike on the Lehigh Valley Railroad has passed for the present. Eight of the ten grievances presented by the employees have been conceded by the officials and the remaining two will be investigated.

The Anthracite Separator Company, recently incorporated, with Frank Pardee at its head, has let a contract for a big building outside of Hazleton, where coal separators are to be manufactured.

John B. Keenan, formerly of town, has been promoted by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company from breaker boss at No. 4 breaker to outside foreman at No. 5 colliery, Shenandoah.

Building a Monster Locomotive.

A locomotive to weigh 100 tons is in course of erection at Scranton in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company's shops. The length is 20½ feet. The foot board is 6 feet 4 inches from the rail. The height from the rail to the top of the boiler is 12 feet 1 inch, and from the rail to the highest point of the locomotive is 15 feet. The drivers are 57 inches. The fire box is 9 feet wide and 10 feet 6 inches long inside.

The engine contains 413 two-inch flues, and the heating surface of the box and flues is 3,000 square feet. The cylinder has 22 inches diameter and a 30-inch stroke. The steam pressure is 200 lbs. tractive force 44,000 pounds. There are eight driving wheels and a two-wheel pony truck. The capacity of the tank is 5,000 gallons. The cab is 6 feet 9 inches long and 10 feet wide.

Attempt to Wreck a Pay Train.

John Brusack, aged 15 years, was arrested on Monday evening at his boarding house in Drifton on a warrant sworn out by Superintendent John Wagner, of Drifton, before Squire Buckley. He was charged with placing an iron coupling link on the track of the D. S. & S. Railroad near No. 5 breaker, Jeddo, on Saturday afternoon.

The evidence produced at the trial brought out the fact that Brusack was employed at No. 5 breaker, of Markle & Co., and while on his way home along the railroad to Drifton on Saturday afternoon he saw engine No. 7 pulling the pay car from Eckley, and placed the link on the track in front of the engine, then ran up the mountain towards Highland road.

Lewis Kugler, the engineer, saw the obstruction placed on the track and stopped the train in time. Seeing the engine stopped, Brusack returned and threw the link off the track and again took to the brush, with John Wagner after him. Not being so fleet of foot as Brusack, the superintendent soon gave up the chase and returned to the caboose. The placing of the link on the rail was witnessed by Lewis Kugler, W. J. Slattery and Frank Dever.

The defendant admitted the act, but could give no motive for so doing. He is but four months in the country and cannot speak English.

In default of bail he was committed to jail and on Tuesday was taken there by Constable Mollik.

Schuykill Republican Ticket.

At the Schuykill county Republican convention at Pottsville on Monday a slate which was agreed upon went through without a hitch. The resolutions adopted by the convention endorsed the course of the national administration in both civil and military affairs and commended the state administration.

The following nominations were made: D. C. Henning, Pottsville, for recorder; Horace F. Reber, Pine Grove, and Frank R. Kantner, Lofty, for county commissioners, and Fred Ahrensfield, Minersville, for poor director.

Capt. William Astor Chanler, Congressman from New York, is the president of The New York Star, which is giving away a FORTY DOLLAR BICYCLE daily, as offered by their advertisement in another column. Hon. Amos J. Cummings, M. C., Col. Asa Bird Gardner, district attorney of New York, ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, and Col. Fred Feigl, of New York, are among the well known names in their board of directors.

DECISION REVERSED.

School Board Votes Again on Question of Hold-Over Teachers.

Every member of the borough school board was present at the special meeting Monday evening. President Kline, as a member of the finance committee, reported having gone over the bill of the Freeland Water Company and stated that the meters do not give satisfaction. The committee recommended the payment of $76.48 for water furnished, as computed from the meters at 12½ cents per 1,000 gallons, also that the board fix a rate of $2.75 for the Washington and $1.65 per month for the Ridge street building. The report was accepted and the recommendations adopted.

The secretary reported having received the certificates of the following persons who passed the examination held by the county superintendent: Misses Kate Winter, Annie Gillespie, Bessie Owens, Annie Geopert, Sarah Gallagher, Mary M. Gallagher and Myron Zimmerman.

Director VanHorn desired that the report of the teachers' and pupils' committee, a motion for the adoption of which was declared lost at the last meeting, the vote being 5 to 4 in its favor, be reopened, claiming the decision was illegal.

Director Schaub objected, claiming that Mr. VanHorn could not move for a reconsideration in the matter, he having voted previously on the losing side. The president agreed with Director VanHorn that a mistake was made in the decision, and a vote was taken on the re-opening of the question. It resulted: For—VanHorn, Bell, Trevas, Kline, Everett, Krommes, Laubach. Against—McCole, Ferry, Schaub.

A motion adopting the report—which was that the secretary of the board notify Misses Mary Dougherty, Mary Herron and Carrie Dilger and John Houston to re-apply for positions as teachers, they having been illegally elected for three years when their certificates were good for but two—was carried after considerable discussion, the members voting as on the previous motion.

The secretary reported that the school furniture loaned to Prof. Edmunds some time ago had been returned.

The board will meet Monday evening to appoint teachers.

JAMESSTEPHENSON HOGG.

SKETCH OF THE SOUTHERN FOE OF TRUSTS AND MONOPOLIES.

Pen Picture of the Man From Texas Who Threw Tammany Into Confusion and Upset Croker's Plans at the Wigwam on the Fourth of July.

From the New York Herald.

The great burst of enthusiasm for William J. Bryan which was let loose in Tammany Hall on July 4 was all the doing of one man. His name is James Stephenson Hogg, and he is a former governor of Texas. In an instant he marked an epoch in the campaign for the presidency that will end in 1900.

He upset all Richard Croker's calculations. He damaged various deputy leaderships. He ran away with the Tiger's heart and made it lose its head. He destroyed Brother Augustus' boom for the presidency. He showed that Tammany's sincerity for the gold standard was not even skin deep. He undid all that has been accomplished by the Democratic anti-Bryan propaganda in eight months.

A TEXAS CYCLONE.

It had all been arranged, bear in mind, that Bryan, Cleveland and Hill—particularly Bryan—should be ignored. Bryan's name must not be uttered. All went well until Hogg was called on as an impromptu speaker to take the place of one of the several absentees. Whether he went on his own accord or on the suggestion of some of the anti-Crocker Democrats is not very clear.

The suggestion that John C. Sheehan was at the bottom of it is accepted by many. Be that as it may, the fact has gone on record that the Tammany organization, drilled and dragooned for Van Wyck, cheered Bryan as the candidate for 1900 almost to a man. Feltner called it a Texas cyclone. Whalen said it wasn't much of a shower, only nobody had an umbrella. Carroll was too dumfounded to express an opinion. Croker will have something to say about it later. But the fact remains that James Hogg, of Texas, to whom Tammany only a few months ago was offering the vice presidency on a ticket headed by Gorman or Van Wyck, routed the "cohorits of mammon" in its stronghold so easily that everybody wondered how it had been done.

WHO HOGG IS.

Who is James Stephenson Hogg, of Texas?

He is a type of the far Western politician who grew up with the coyotes and jack rabbits for playmates. If you frequent the Fifth Avenue hotel corridors you will see him there four or five times a year, the biggest figure in that meeting place of politicians. He usually wears a slouch hat and a frock coat, and he is quite as imposing as a court martial or a dress parade, because he weighs nearly 400 pounds and looks every ounce of it.

He is not a dandy in any sense of the term. He is blunt and fearless. He likes contention and no man can fight harder than he. He has been called a demagogue and a Populist. He did more to injure trusts and monopolies in Texas than any other man. He had Henry M. Flagler, of the Standard Oil Company, indicted, and he made a demand on the governors of New York and Florida that the said Henry M. Flagler should be surrendered for trial in the criminal courts. He likes politics, and headed the Texas delegation for Bryan in 1896. He can tell a good story. He likes a good dinner. He is 53 years old.

Mr. Hogg was born in Texas, and he is a self-made man. He began life an orphan in Smith county, Texas, and at that time it was one of the wildest sections of the state. He worked on a farm owned by a widow during his boyhood until he was fourteen years old, and then became a clerk in a store. He soon apprenticed himself to a country newspaper office and became a compositor. He took an active interest in politics, and the first year he voted was elected road overseer. Then he was elected justice of the peace, studied law and was admitted to the bar. He went to the legislature and then was elected district attorney of Smith county.

That was at a time when district attorneys in Texas had to possess grit and determination. Lawlessness was rampant. The rifle and shotgun settled disputes.
