NOMINATED THE TICKET.

LUZERNE REPUBLICANS HAVE SELECTED COUNTY CANDIDATES.

Judge Halsey heads the ticket, followed by Raub for Treasurer, Mainwaring for Register and Jones and Hay for County Commissioners.

At the Republican county convention in Wilkesbarre on Tuesday the following ticket was named:

Judge—Galus L. Halsey, White Haven.

Register of wills—John Mainwaring, Plymouth.

Treasurer—Philip T. Raub, Dallas.

Commissioners—John M. Jones, Pittston; Albert D. Hay, Lehman.

Hon. M. B. Williams and Hon. C. A. Miner were unanimously chosen delegates to the national convention in 1900 and A. W. Drake and Alex. Thompson were chosen alternates.

The Crawford county system of making nominations was adopted.

There were 292 delegates in attendance at the convention, also the prominent heeler, bootle-handlers and bribers of the party, in addition to many friends of each candidate and hundreds of disinterested spectators.

The convention differed in no way from the annual gatherings of the Republicans of Luzerne county for the past five years. The usual number of money-seeking delegates were on the square, and the usual amounts awaiting them at the various "headquarters." To the man without scruples Monday night and Tuesday morning was a field day and more than a few of the delegates made hay from the leaders' efforts to keep the slate intact.

The convention opened at 10:30 o'clock. Senator W. J. Scott, an anti-Quay man, was elected permanent chairman without opposition, and William Downs, Frederick Reese, John H. Williams, Fred W. Hocking, Jesse Alden, A. W. Drake and William Mason were made honorary vice chairmen.

The resolutions approved the national policy of the party, and said the remarkable business revival was due to "the wise and economic policy of the Republican party, which has as its main lines a tariff which protects the American laborer; and the gold standard which guarantees to us a stable currency." The war policy of President McKinley was indorsed. The state administration was approved, and this was said of Senator Scott's defection from the Quay ranks:

"Resolved, That we most heartily indorse the action of Hon. W. J. Scott as state senator; we believe that he has always had the welfare of his constituents and the best interests of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania at heart in every stand that he has taken."

The delegates to the national convention were instructed to vote for McKinley for president.

Alexander Farnham nominated Judge Galus L. Halsey, of White Haven, for election to the bench, and he was nominated by acclamation.

The feature of the convention was ex-Archbishop Palmer's speech in support of the adoption of the Crawford county rules for the government of primaries and nomination of candidates. The rules were then voted on and were adopted with only three dissenting votes. So hereafter at Republican primaries the voters will vote for the candidates they wish nominated.

Nominations for register of wills were next announced in order. Ex-Senator Kline of Hazleton presented the name of the present incumbent, Hiram P. Kuntz, of Hazleton.

Attorney John H. Williams, of Plymouth, presented the name of his fellow townsman, John Mainwaring.

W. J. Morgan, of Freeland, who was also a candidate for this office, withdrew.

Coming of "The Hustler."
The coming of that famous fabric of fun, music and movement, Thomas H. Davis' farcical play, "The Hustler," reconstructed according to the times and new in everything but name, promises a lively and refreshing entertainment. The revival of this famous funny show is no mere catch-penny experiment. The production ranks among the greatest farce comedies now touring the country, and ever since its first conception is said to have surpassed all its contemporaries in laughter-evoking qualities. As a sparkling review of latest wit, fun, melody and song, the reputation of "The Hustler" is as wide as the continent itself. A well conceived, satirical story, a series of funny situations, a bevy of pretty girls, tuneful music, together with a talented array of singers, dancers and comedians, makes the ensemble of a performance which is said to bristle with novelties.

SAD DEATH TODAY.

Ex-Councilman Thomas J. Moore Was Found Dead This Morning.

Thomas J. Moore was found dead at 4:30 o'clock this morning on South Washington street by Chief of Police Filler and Officer Kulp.

The attention of the police was called by a man returning from work while they were making their last tour of the streets, after having been present at a hearing given in the council room by Burgess Gallagher to a man who was arrested last night for disturbing the peace.

The officers hurried to the spot designated by the workman and found Mr. Moore lying on his right side on the porch of Mike Shevrenak, 130 South Washington street. Thinking he was asleep, Officer Kulp grasped his hand to rouse him, but found it cold. A brief examination by the police informed them that the man was dead.

Squire Buckley was notified by the police and also examined the body. Finding no marks of violence the corpse was removed to his home at South and Washington streets, and Deputy Coroner Bowman, of Hazleton, was notified.

Mr. Bowman viewed the remains and after a consultation with Drs. Schleicher and Rutter decided that no inquest was necessary.

Both physicians stated that Mr. Moore was subject to heart failure and had been treated for the disease.

Upon this testimony the deputy coroner decided that death was due to natural causes.

Mr. Moore was employed by the Taxpayers' Association as supervisor of Foster township roads. He was at work yesterday and about 9 o'clock last night called with two of his workmen at Shevrenak's saloon. The three remained there until 11:30 o'clock, when they started for their homes.

The deceased was a well-known resident of town. He had held the position of tax collector, councilman and street commissioner in Freeland borough. He was born in Coalade, Schuylkill county, about forty years ago.

In addition to a wife and two sons and two daughters, he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: James, Freeland; Patrick W., Philadelphia; Mrs. James Harkins, Drifton; Mrs. P. M. Boyle, Kingston; Mrs. Mary Gallagher, Wilkesbarre; also another sister in Philadelphia.

He was a member of the Citizens' Hose Company. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

He is survived by a wife and family.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The borough school board met last evening with all members present except Director Ferry. The action of the president in having the $3,000 insurance policy for three years on the Ridge street building renewed was ratified and the cost of $75 ordered paid to Mrs. S. E. Hayes. Bills for cleaning to the amount of $27 were ordered paid as follows: Mrs. E. R. Solomon, $6; Mrs. D. F. Shelhamer, $6; Mrs. John Ashman, $15. Additional books were ordered for the high school.

The principal, Professor Houck, read a lengthy report showing the attendance in the high school to be four hundred and the total attendance in all schools 661, also recommending the erection of additional desks in the primary room. The report was accepted.

The report of Treasurer Everett was read, showing a balance at last report of $114.43; expenditures, $48.70; balance on hand, $65.73.

The secretary was ordered to procure any necessary articles needed about the schools.

The president and secretary were authorized to sign orders for the teachers' salaries, providing their reports are properly made out.

The secretary was ordered to procure bids for coal and hauling before the next meeting.

Jewish Holiday Season.
With the setting of the sun Monday evening, there was ushered in by devout Hebrews gathered in their places of worship, Rosh Hashanna, the new year. Just at the moment when the sun sank below the horizon, the shofar, or ram's horn, was blown in accordance with the mosaic ordinance observed for thirty-four centuries, and the year 5660 began. The Hebrews of Freeland held their services in the Lantz building on South Centre street.

The orthodox Jews will observe the holidays for several days, the reformed, who do not conform literally to the talmudic laws, celebrated but one day.

The ten days immediately following the New Year are called "Penitential Days," during which special petitions are added to the daily prayers, as a preparation for the most solemn of all days, Yom Kippur, or the Feast of Atonement," which falls this year on Thursday, September 14, "The Sabbath of Sabbaths."

From sunset on the 14th to the next sunset neither eating nor drinking is allowed to interfere with the solemn service of self examination, repentance and good resolutions for the future, in the full belief that those "sins are pardoned which are covered by sincere repentance."

Careless Pigeon Shooter.
David Lewis, aged 12, was instantly killed; Annie Reese, aged 14, severely injured, and Frank Lynch, slightly wounded, by Clarence Bates at a pigeon shooting match at the county seat on Monday. The members of the Wilkesbarre Shooting Club were having a match and Bates was standing with a number of others beyond the boundary shooting at pigeons which the matchshooters missed.

A low flyer was wounded but got beyond the boundary a few feet high and Bates, seeing only the pigeon, fired hastily. He missed the pigeon, and the load struck the boy in the heart, killing him instantly, some of the flying shot striking the others. Bates gave himself up and at a hearing before the mayor was sent to jail in default of $2,000 bail.

Robbed the Car Steward.
A daring robbery and holdup were perpetrated Monday night on the private car of President Walter, of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, in South Bethlehem. Two or more burglars gagged and bound Elmer Payne, assistant steward of the car, and then stole cigars and other articles from the safe on the car. The car was standing, shortly before midnight, on the siding west of the Union station. General Passenger Agent Charles S. Lee and M. B. Cutter, superintendent of transportation, who had been aboard the car, had stepped off for a few minutes. They had hardly left the car when young Payne, who was left alone, found himself seized from behind and thrown to the floor of the car.

New Merchant Tailoring Firm.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

A Direct Talk With Mothers About Boys' School Suits!
We have studied the boys' school suit question from your point of view. We have taken a great many mothers into our confidence (perhaps you were one) and have asked them what were the features most desirable in a boys' school suit.

The gist of opinion is—good wearing material, in colors that won't soil quickly—seams that can't rip—buttons that can't come off—button holes that won't wear out—double seated trousers—double knees.

We have boys' school suits made with every one of the above features. We offer you a perfect suit.

The material we use is an all-wool chevrot that we guarantee for its good wearing qualities. Brown and grey mixtures, also blue black, are the colorings.

We invite every mother to come and see these suits. It will more than fulfill your expectations.

Welsh Bros. Show in Maryland.
After the success with which Welsh Brothers' show met here one year ago, and the good reputation they left behind them, it is little wonder that the space under their large tented canvass is scarcely large enough to accommodate the mighty throng that is visiting each performance on this, their second visit. Welsh Brothers seem to have studied the wishes of the people, and found out that what was wanted was a good, clean, up-to-date moral show. At least that is the kind of a show they are giving, and judging from its unparalleled success, it's the kind that was needed.

Akimoto's Japanese troupe is a wonder. Their performance is startling, and has to be seen, as it cannot be described.

Alfred Heintz is another wonder. He stands on his head in midair as naturally as some people walk on their feet on the ground.

A double trapeze act by West and Zanta is great, while Mlle. Cerito, the foot juggler, is marvelous.

The climax to the performance may truly be said to be Harry Mohn's trained dogs. They captivated the audience by performing tricks that seem impossible. Their representation of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries bout astonished all who beheld it.

There are three clowns—John Lancaster, H. F. West and Charles O'Brien. They are the funniest that ever stepped into a ring and the beauty about them is that they don't get off any stale jokes.

Last evening at 6:30 o'clock a balloon ascension was given, which was one of the best ever seen here.—Evening Times, Cumberland, Md.

This mammoth one-ring show will appear at Freeland one day only, Monday, September 11. Show grounds opposite Lehigh Valley depot.

Margaret, the wife of Michael Dougherty, of Milnesville, died on Tuesday, aged 65 years. She was the mother of Tax Collector Patrick Smith, of Hazleton.

Owing to Monday being a legal holiday the regular meeting of the borough council was not held. The meeting will be held next Monday evening.

W. L. Keiper will remove his jewelry store next week to the brick building owned by Peter Timony, next to Daniel Gill's store.

A large number of lower end people appeared before the grand jury at the county seat yesterday.
