WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, October 17, 1899. Canada, which was sometime ago agreed upon by representatives of the United States and England, when it is United States and England, when it is well known that the Canadian government was compelled to accept by the English government. It is equally well known why. England has a troublesome war on hand with the Transvaal republic, in which it wishes the moral support of the United States government, and, as a sort of bribe, it ordered Canada to accept the temporary bound. ment, and, as a sort of bribe, it ordered Canada to accept the temporary boundary line, which the Canadian premier had declared he would fight rather than accept. Certainly there is nothing in that to entitle the administration to any credit. While the acceptance of the temporary boundary line is advantageous to Americans, it is after all merely a postponement of the dispute to some future time, when England has no war on its hands. no war on its hands.

Admiral Schley's response to a committee from the Woman's National Inmittee from the Woman's National Industrial League, which called on him to present a copy of a resolution adopted by the league, asking contributions from industrial workers to purchase a home for him, was worthy of the man and his record. He said: "While I feel deeply touched by the desire of your committee, which the resolution brings to my attention, and sincerely appreciate the purpose and wishes you so kindly suggest to me, I feel that I ought to ask you to defer this matter until the wants and needs of a cold winter now coming on, have passed, and its demands in the households of some of the great army of industrial workers have first been met before any provision is made for me. With expresworkers have first been met before any provision is made for me. With expressions of deep gratitude to you, the matter is left to your consideration."

The Dewey fright of the McKinleyites is fast reaching an acute stage. It is no longer a secret that Senator Proctins grooming Dewey for the presidential nomination, next year, and a statement made to Vermont friends that "no man has ever ver fused to accept the presidential made to Vermont friends that "no man has ever yet refused to accept the presi-dency," is significant of his belief that he can count upon Dowey's acceptance, if he can show him that he can be nomi-nated. Proctor's political shrewdness is unquestioned, and if the Democrats carry Ohio, he will get all the assist-ance he wishes in booming Dewey for ance he wishes in booming Dewey for the Republican nomination next year. Nothing short of overwhelming Re-publican success in Ohio can give Mr. McKinley a reasonable degree of cer-tainty that he will be renominated, and that seems doubtful indeed, at this

Representative-elect Roberts, of Utah, now in the East, says the fight against him is largely political and that he intends to stand up for his rights all the way through. He says he was elected as a Democrat, not as a Mormon; that prominent Mormons were on the stump against him, and that he carried a number of non-Mormon voting districts. He denies that he came east to avoid a warrant issued for him in Utah; also that he has ever violated the anti-polygamy law. He expresses confidence that he will serve his full term in the house. The fight against Mr. Roberts promises to be one of the bitterest ever made against any man's terest ever made against any man's retention of his seat in either branch of

The administration has announced Africa, and it would better live up to that announcement, as there is a powerful sentiment in this country, especially among those of Irish and German descent, against the attitude of England in that war, and those who England in that war, and those who entertain that sentiment will quickly resent any departure from neutrality by
