To Clean Diamonus. Just at this season, when the world is full of brides, and sunbursts and stars and other dazzling "gifts of the groom" seem as common as plain gold wedding rings, a hint on how to clean diamonds artfully may not come amisa. The stones should first be washed in warm water and yellow soapsuds, with a small but not too hard brush. Rinse and dry them carefully with a soft cloth or silk handkerchief, and put them into a box containing boxwood dust. Move them about in this for some time until they seem perfectly dry, free them from the powder and pollsh with tissue paper.

How to Get Through the Winter Without a Cold.

The Independent. Luggage Arived First. From the London Answers: As a train was moving out of a Scotch sta-tion a man in one of the compart-ments noticed that the porter, in whose charge he had given his luggage, had not put it into the van, and so shouted at him and said: "Hi, you old fool, what do you mean by not putting that updage in the van?" To which the porter replied: "Eh, man!yer luggage is ne'er such a fool as yersel'! Yer t' the was the Nickels.

A Good Cleaning Oil. An excellent cleaner and polisher for furniture with a very high finish is recommended by an experienced dealer in rare woods. To one tablespoonful of linneed oil add an equal portion of turpentine, together with a plece oi any pure soap the size of a walnut. Pour this into a vessel containing one quart of boiling water, and let the whole boil for about 10 minutes, stir-ring it occasionally, so that it may be well mixed. This ilquid can be used either warm or cold, but experience ring it occasionally, so that it may be well mixed. This liquid can be used either warm or cold, but experience teaches that it is more effective when warm; it can be heated several times before it will need renewing. Apply with a soft fannel olch, well wrung out, to a small portion of the surface to be cleaned. After the dirt has been well wiped off, take a fresh flannel to pollah with, and a few minutes' vigorous rubbing will soon restore the wood to its original brilliancy. Crude oil is the pollsher used in most of the furniture shops. But it is well to re-member that in the stores there is scarcely a day when each piece of fur-niture is not carefully wiped off with a soft cloth, keeping the surfaces per-fectly clean, so that the aid of the old is only called in to take off the cloudy appearance which will at times dis-figure the most carefully tended furni-ture.—New York Evening Post.

or black lace. The blouse front is of white mousseline de soie. Cronstadt Blue and Automobile. Cronstadt blue is one of the most beautiful tones in which cloth dresses are being inade. It is the tint of the sea when the sky is blue and the sun brillnant. A sapphire sometimes achieves this glorious color, but is more often too sombre or too pale. A ribbed cloth in cronstadt blue is trimmed with bands of velvet in a slightly deeper tone. The triple cape is in velvet, and the high, flaring col-lar is guipure over cronstadt blue satin, with a deep hem of sable all round. Periwinkle holds its own among all the new shades. It suits the fashionable hair, as no other color could, and almost invariably one finds that with marigold hair the floral trimming of hat or toque is shaded hydrangea, periwinkle, pale mauve and softest rhododendron pink, deftly shading into each other. Antomobile red is shown in many woolen goods, and sometimes it is dotted over with pea-spots, sometimes with irregular squares in velvet of the same shade, and occasionally the velvet pattern is in black or brown on a ground of the automobile cloth.

THE PERFUMED WOMAN. Goes Into Esciacles Over Har Genuine Femininity.

Goes Into Exciscies Over Her Genuins Femininity. "I observe," said a coarse, brutal man who doesn't know the difference between 'the higher and nobler' and a load of ash coal, according to the Washington Post, "that the advertising ends of this month's magazines are publishing a testimonial as to the mer-tis of a certain brand of toilet soap, written by one of the ladies who has been doing her little bit during the franchise for woman. Her picture is run in with the ad and her testimonial is surely a heap fulsome for a volun-tary contribution. In the course of her remarks she says, 'I abhor a per-fumed woman.' It is to take a short, jerky biff at this remark that I emerge from my cave and leap into the fracas. I love a perfumed woman. I think a perfumed woman is the real thing in femininity—the daintily perfumed woman, who, when she swishes by you, has something about her that makes you vaguely remember the old honeysuckle covered porch that you knew a quarter of a century ago; who carries with her the suggestion of asphodelian dales and starilt meadows. Carries with her the suggestion of asphodelina dales and starilt meadows. It isn't particularly because of the elusive, hop-smoky, garden-of-Daphne fragrance that the perfumed woman daintily emits that I think she's the one and only real thing in long drap-ries. It's because she turging the form eries. It's because she typifies the fem-inine woman. Gimme a lyre, or a harp, or a fuglehorn, or a kazoo—any Egypt! Gimme a lute that I may chant of the physical, mental, moral and spiritual loveliness of the perfumed, who is also the feminine woman! May she be with us until the grand bust up of all things!"
