On Tuesday morning Sarah, the wife of Solomon Bittner, passed away at the family home in Jeddo after several months' illness. The deceased was a kind and considerate lady and was respected by her neighbors and acquaintances. She was a resident of Jeddo for many years. Mrs. Bittner was aged 56 years, 11 months and 14 days. She is survived by her husband, also five sons and one daughter, as follows: Benjamin, of Harleigh; John, Jacob and Clinton and Miss Annie, of Jeddo, and Reuben, of Freehold. Mrs. Charles Sweeney died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home in Birvanton. For some weeks past her condition was critical and her death was not unexpected. She was aged 75 years and is survived by the following sons and daughter, all of whom are residing here: James J., Charles, Thomas and Andrew and Mrs. Patrick Kennedy. Mrs. Sweeney was one of the earliest residents of Dorrance, but moved to Misouri some years ago and resided there until the death of her husband, after which she took up her residence here. She was highly esteemed by her acquaintances. The funeral takes place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Requiem mass at St. Ann's church. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery.

McCarthy, of town. Mrs. Wilson came to Freeland many years ago and resided here until a few weeks ago. She was 71 years old and had enjoyed good health up to a short time before her death. MERCHANTS GET READY.

MERCANTILE APPRAISER WILL IN A FEW DAYS FORWARD BLANKS.

New Law Has Now Gone Into Effect and Business People Should Familiarize Themselves With Its Provisions—Liquor Men Must Pay Tax If They Sell Cigars.

The county treasurer has received the necessary blanks and forms for the purpose of having the status of retail and wholesale dealers in goods, wares and merchandise fixed for taxation. The county commissioners have appointed George P. Strome as mercantile appraiser and he will immediately send out the blanks to the various dealers.

The new act was passed May 22, 1899, and went into effect January 1, 1900. Under this act the mercantile appraiser must within ten days after he mails the blank call in person to see that it is properly filled up, and swear the party or parties to whom it has been sent to its correctness. If he is not satisfied with the vendor's statement he can examine him under oath. If the vendor refuses or neglects to fill in the blank he can be summoned to appear before the county treasurer and be made to produce his books. If the vendor is dissatisfied with the amount of business assessed against him, he can appeal to the court of common pleas.

The only classification under the act is in separating vendors into wholesale and retail dealers. For that purpose a wholesaler shall be considered that person "who shall sell to dealers in or vendors of goods, wares and merchandise and to no other persons." All parties assessed as retailers pay $2 tax and a further tax of one mill on each dollar of gross business transacted and the wholesale dealer $3 and one-half mills on each dollar of the gross business for the year. No sales are exempted by the act, except the sale of liquors.

Under the act every liquor dealer who sells cigars will have to pay a retail tax. Under the old law many exceptions were allowed, the principal reason being that the vendors' sale was not sufficient to put him in the class designated by the appraiser. All the decisions of the court, however, as to the non-liability still stands and are in force, so far as regards exemptions of vendors for selling goods of their own manufacture or production.

Commissioners' Appointments.

The deadlock existing among the county commissioners over the appointment of clerks, mentioned in Monday's issue, was broken on Monday by the announcement of the following appointments:

Chief clerk, Thomas R. Peters, Wilkes-Barre; assistant, Levi Woodruff, Shickshinny.

Clerks, John J. Norton, Wilkes-Barre; J. B. Laubach, Freeland; William Jones, Pittston; George F. Henry, Wilkes-Barre; G. E. Carpenter, West Pittston.

Transcribing clerks, Frank St. John, Wilkes-Barre; Mary McGowan, Wilkes-Barre; Gomer Tasker, Miners Mills; Eynot Morgan, Wilkes-Barre; Charles Hoyt, Shickshinny; William Ash, Wilkes-Barre; John M. Mack, Luzerne. Janitor—Louis Price.

Yard policeman—Stewart Robinson.

The commissioners were unable to reach an agreement in the selection of a county solicitor. Mr. Jones nominated the present occupant of the office, George S. Ferris, of West Pittston; Mr. Hay nominated Benjamin R. Jones, of Warrior Run, and Mr. Finn nominated E. F. McGovern, of Wilkes-Barre. Fifteen ballots were taken, but all resulted the same, each candidate receiving the vote of the commissioner who placed him in nomination.

The appointment of a mercantile appraiser being left to the retiring commissioner, Mr. Guiney, he selected George P. Strome, of Wilkes-Barre.

It was agreed to publish the mercantile appraisal in the Luzerne County Express, the Shickshinny Echo and the Hazleton Plain Speaker.

The appointment of Mr. Laubach was well received by his friends here. It was not generally known that he was an applicant, hence his good luck was quite a surprise to many.

The fair and bazaar conducted at Berner's building by the Young Men's Corps will be open tonight, also tomorrow and Saturday evenings, and will close after the last-named evening. Many useful and handsome articles yet remain to be disposed of, and people who wish bargains and at the same time desire to contribute to the success of the affair, should attend.

Tomorrow Evening's Play.

"The Gunner's Mate," which will be presented by Manager Augustus Pitou, at the Grand opera house tomorrow evening, is emphatically a modern naval drama. It deals with the sailors, the guns and the United States cruiser New York, but it is not a war play. Into the life of the New York's blue jackets is interwoven a perfectly natural story of love, heroism, self-sacrifice and courage with a strong line of comedy to give life and light. The first act is in a sailor's boarding house in New York city; the second shows the gun deck of the cruiser New York, the vessel lying at anchor off Tomhicken, N. Y., harbor; the first scene of the third act transpires in the fore-castle while the ship is at sea, and shows the life of our sailors while off duty. The second scene of this act is the immense boilers and flaming furnaces, all the entrances being made from the flies, exactly as on the New York. The fourth act is in the home of the heroine. It is a magnificent and massive scenic production and is presented by an unusually strong company.

Strictly Cash Business.

On and after today George Fisher will conduct a strictly cash business at his meat market on Walnut street. Patrons will thereby be given the benefit of a saving of from one to two cents per pound on the cost of meat. This reduction will be made at once, as there is no loss or collecting expense in doing a cash business.

WELL REPAID FOR THEIR LABOR.

The business and professional people of town turned out en masse New Year's evening at the dance conducted in their behalf by the Tigers. The attendance was fully as large as on the night of the ball and never was there a more enjoyable time in Yannes' opera house than on the final evening of this remarkable series of hops. As on the two previous evenings, the decorations and illumination of the dance hall were the admiration and wonder of all who were present. The club was well repaid, both financially and by adding to its reputation, for the trouble and expense the members undertook to make the occasion a success.
