Strength and Endurance.

From the Wilkesbarre Record. In the rear of his bicycle store on South Main street "Joe" Rice is using his spare moments in practicing for his church. heavy weight lifting act at the Neshitt next Friday evening. He has tied to gether two 100 pound dumb bells, two anvils and a thirty-five pound dumb bell, in all weighing over 400 pounds, which he will lift with one hand. He will also hold fifty pounds out in each band at arm's length, and if many other feats show that he has great muscular strength as well as extraor-dinary endurance, as was proven by his six-day bicycle races in Madison Square Garden. "Joe's" star performance on this oc-casion will be to break his own record of pushing a 100 pound bell above bis head eleven times, and he is confident that he can do better this time. The weight of every article on the heavy weight lifting act at the Nesbiti abused her. No admission will be charged.

The weight of every article on the stage is vouched for and any one desiring to come upon the stage and try to outlift Rice will be allowed to do so. Rice is in good form at 145 pounds and few men of similar weight could defeat him in a contest of strength.

To Prevent a Coal Strike. The conservative element in the Wyoming region are using every effort to prevent the threatening big strike. The clergy are crying out against it, because they say it means poverty for the strikers. Business men are appre-hensive for the future and are doing their bost to bring pace before it is too late. Rev. F. C. Curran, pastor of Holy Saviour church, Wilkesbarre, whose congregation is composed moxily of miners, has taken a decided stand. In an address to bis congregation, he said "Apropos of the general strike now threatened throughout the anthracite coal fields of this state I would respect-fully call your attention to some timely advice which I consider a duty to im-part. It is to be very much regretted that on the rising tide of universal prosperity in our great country there should exist even the semblance of an occasion for the widespread strike the toride state widespread strike that on the rising tide of universal prosperity in our great country there should exist even the semblance of an occasion for the widespread strike the toride strike a widespread strike the bridge the persons adrift were un-abensity of the strike a duty to im-the toride the state a country there that on the rising tide of universal prosperity in our great country there should exist even the semblance of an occasion for the widespread strike the bridge the persons adrift were un-aben down baats were dragged over
