Want Martin and Dasch.

Corr. in the Luzerne County Democrat.

It is becoming more apparent daily that the strength of Colonel T. R. Martin for judge, and the present incumber in the prothonotary's office, Paul Dasch, for re-election, is growing. This is not alone applicable to the Democratic standpoint but that of Republicans as well. Colonel Martin has made a highly acceptable showing in his present important office and has by that increased his large number of friends throughout the county. The present prothonotary has made a showing, both in the line of competency and honesty, that has gained a firm hold on the Republican voters as well as upon the Democrats, and it is to be hoped he will consent to continue his most acceptable service another his most acceptable service another term. The recollection of incompetency term. The recollection of incompetency by the recent ex-recorder in that office has been a severe lesson to the taxpayers of the county, and there is little doubt that both parties will be guarded on that particular.

It is stated that James Moore, one of the present jury commissioners, has an idea that he is competent to draw $6,000 a year as prothonotary of Luzerne county, but it is a well known fact that his education and fitness for such an

PITTSTON TOWNSHIP PEDAGOGUES WANT THEIR SALARIES.

Refuse to Work Until Their Overdue Wages Have Been Paid—Directors Plead Poverty, But Teachers Say Extrava-gance Depleted the Treasury. The public school teachers of Pittston township went out on a strike on Friday for back salary due them and the schools were closed. The pupils did not know what to make of the matter, but seemed to enjoy their unlooked-for holiday holiday.

In January the schools came near being closed for the want of heat. No one would furnish the district with coal until the cash was forthcoming.

The board employs twenty-one teachers and about four months' salary is due them. At a meeting of teachers one day last week they resolved to take he hull by the horn and therefore sent the bull by the horns and therefore sen-word to the treasurer that unless they word to the treasurer that unless they were paid they would quit. One teacher said her boarding house mistress refused to keep her any longer unless she paid her board. She was desperate and said something had to be done.

No money being forthcoming on Friday morning the teachers walked out of the schools. When the school directors heard of their action they were very much excited and a meeting of the school board was called.

In the meantime a committee of the senson board was called.

In the meantime a committee of the striking teachers went in search of the treasurer. They found him in Wilkesbarre. He said he had some money and would pay them something on account. This was satisfactory to some of the teachers, but not to others.

"What Happened to Jones."

The tonic of all tonics, the medical men affirm, is a good hearty laugh. Nowhere perhaps can so much of this invaluable aid be secured as in sitting for two and a half hours in a theatre and witnessing the farce, "What Happened to Jones." The most sombre misanthrope has been compelled to yield to its persuasiveness and smile generously, while the ordinary mortal breaks forth into shrieks and spasms of hilarity. It is a great recreation in this work-a-day world to have such a diversion as this play. If a man who lessens the cares of this world and increases the sum total of joy is a benefactor, then George H. Broadhurst, its author, is entitled to this humor. The company which will present it at the Grand on Wednesday evening is a splendid one and was carefully selected and rehearsed by Mr. Broadhurst personally.
