There is no change in the condition of the strike at the Forty Fort and the Harry E. collieries of the Temple Iron Company. The men at the meeting rescinded the resolution, passed Friday, that unless the pump runners at the collieries stopped work they would draw the fires. It was owing to this that the company obtained the injunction restraining the men from trespassing on its property. its property.

Gomer Jones, at one time superintendent of mining at Upper Lehigh, has accepted a similar position with the Albright Coal Company and will remove to Pottsville. Since the big strike on the South Side Mr. Jones has not been held in high favor by his employers, the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company, and the change was not unexpected.

AMERICAN FUEL IN GREAT DEMAND IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.

That Pennsylvania's coal operators have a promising outlook for a large and profitable market in Europe has be-ome apparent in recent news items solated deals for fuel to be delivered in various transatlantic countries, but that the inquiry for American fuel has become quite general in continental Europe has at last become an official fact, disclosed through consular reports, says the Philadelphia Record. For example, Consul Skinner, at Marseilles, France, says that among the many inquiries of this character which he has received is one from A. Bluhm, St. Petersburg, who writes as follows:

England has had a confidential official investigating the fuel situation in Russia, and he finds that in the Donetz an sia, and no most that in the Donetz and Dombrowski basins alone there will be a deficit of 1,000,000 tons of coal this year. The increase in the quantity of coal imported into Russia has been from 1,532, 258 tons, in 1877, to 3,161,290 tons, in 1898, while the total for 1899 will doubtless be considerable larger. ess be considerably larger. The tw main coal-producing centres are the Donetz basin, in the south, and the Dombroyski basin, in Poland.

NEEDS OF RUSSIA AND GERMANY. NEEDS OF RUSSIA AND GERMANY.
While the development of the industrial activity of Russia and the extension of railways have been, perhaps, the main causes, they are by no means the only explanation of the present scarcity of coal. The coal-mining industries themselves are not fully developed enough to meet the demand, while insufficient means of transport play an iment means of transport play an important part in the situation. The activity of syndicates, by limiting produc-tion, and the speculation which of late tion, and the speculation which of late has attended the coal and other indus-tries of Russia, are important factors. Counsul General Guenther, at Frank-ford, Germany, says: "There has never been a year in the history of Germany when greater demands had been made upon the coal production. Although the output of 1899 was over 100,000,000 tons, againts 96,000 tons in 1898 tons, against 96,000,000 tons in 1898 tons, against 96,000,000 tons in 1898, and 91,000,000 in 1897, the supply has been entirely inadequate, and much embarrassment and annoyance have resulted. The selling price of coal increased during 1899 over 1898 from 30 to 35 per cent."

There has been no material change in There has been no material change in the anthracite coal situation for the past several weeks. This period of the year is as a rule dull, being what might be termed "between seasons." The dealers, however, will not long delay in stocking up, as they are beginning to realize that the prices which were made April 1, will be about the lowest of the season, and with the water freight at the present rate they cannot do better season, and with the water freight at the present rate they cannot do better than to fill up their bins at present prices a d present rates of freight. Opera Company, which by its long and successful runs in the leading cities secured recognition as the representative road opera company of this country, singing standard opera in English. Among the principals are found Myrta French, prima donna soprano, a graduate of the celebrated Marchesi. She possesses a pure lyric soprano of large compass and more than ordinary volume. F. W. Walters, the tenor, has a robust voice and his work in such operas as Martha, Cavalleria Rusticana, and Carmen is such as is seldom heard in operatic organizations touring this country. Wm. Herman West, the baritone, has a very magnetic voice and stage presence. He is generally conceded the peer of American baritones. Ed Andrews supplies the comedy and is ably assisted by the buffo-basso, F. J. McCarthy. The company carries an excellent chorus, their own orchestra, and complete paraphernalia.

Jeffries-Sharkey Contest.

The coming of the Jeffries-Sharkey pictures to the Grand Saturday evening will no doubt tend to revive the discussion as to the merits of the decision in the great fistic encounter between Jeffries and Sharkey. There is one thing certain—these are the only real pictures and they give the entire twenty-five rounds. After they have been seen, people will be able to decide for themselves whether Referee Silier's decision was a robbery or not. The pictures are pronounced the best reproductions ever made. They are exceedingly clear; there is none of that sudden jumping from one position to the other, and the figures and details are depicted with fidelity. The pictures tell the story in a graphic and thrilling manner. They begin with the time the men enter the ring and continue to the last round.
