First Tri-Weekly Issue.

The Tribune today appears to its readers as a tri-weekly for the first time. The response on the part of the people to the advantages offered has been shown by a heavy increase in the number of subscribers and a decided improvement in its advertising patronage.

Owing to our inability to canvass the whole town since the change from a semi-weekly was decided upon, the full effects of this timely move have not yet been felt. The evidence at hand, however, is overwhelmingly in favor of the fact that the people are ready to give generous support to the newspaper generous support to the newspaper which endeavors to keep pace with the town's demands. For the benefit of our new rea and patrons it may be stated here that the Tribune takes no backward steps and makes no experiments. The deci-sion to publish tri-weekly was made after a careful survey of the field, and this, the first issue of the new order, is not placed on the market as a trial number.

The appearance of its successors i assured until such time as the people of the Tribune's field are ready to sup-port a more frequent publication-and when that time comes the Tribune will be found ready to meet their wants.

Our readers should take advantage of the bargains offered by our adver-tisers for tomorrow. Patronize our merchants and see if you cannot save morey. Bargains are offered tomorrow by Wenner & Sons, Hugh Malloy, Thos. Brown, W. J. Eckert, Kushmerick Bros., Silas Woodring, McMenamin's, S. Senie and B. C. Laubach. See ad-vertisements on pages 1 and 4.

Brim Full of News.

Brim Full Of News. The Semi-Weekly Tribune will com-mence Monday to be issued as an after-noon tri-weekly. This is welcome news to all its readers as the Tribune was always one of the foremost publications and brim full of news. The Standard joins with the Tribune's subscribers in wishing the publishers continued suc-cess.—Freeland Corr. Hazleton Stand-ard. ard.

Now a Tri-Weekly.

The Freeland Tribune yesterday ended its twelfth year. Hereatter the Tribune will be published as an after-noon tri-weekly. The Tribune is an excellent paper and contains columns of spicy reading matter. We wish the editor unbounded success in his new venture.—Freeland Corr. Hazleton Sen-tinel.

One of the County's Best.

The Freeland Tribune, one of Lu-zerne county's brightest and best edited papers, makes the announcement that after July 2 the paper will be issued tri-weekly. The Tribune is a good paper and we hope the new venture may prove successful. —Weatherly Herald.

Wishes Us Success.

The Freeland Tribune makes the an-nouncement that after July 2 the paper will be issued tri-weekly. We wish them success.—Lansford Leader.

World Wide Diffusion of Sunshine. Mrs. Cynthia Westover Aiden is the latest addition to the aditorial staff of the Ladice' Home Journal. She will apply her energies to a department that will be called "Sunshine," which is to be published in the interest of an organ-ization already having a membership of eleven thousand. "The International Sunshine Society." as it is called, aims to put sunshine and good cheer into the lives of all. It has neither creed nor rules; its membership fee is a single act of kindness, and dues are paid in the same currency. Mrs. Aiden is founder and presidentizeneral of the society, and it is her purpose to extend its well-doing throughout the whole world, for its yast field is international.
