Another Vicar General. Bishop Hoban has announced the appointment of Father T. F. Coffey, of Carbondale, as a vicar general of the diocese of Scranton.

The bishop has fixed July as the month for ordinations this year. There are four students ready for ordination. They are: John O'Donnell, Williamsbarre; Eugene Burroughs, Williamsport; Thomas O'Malley, Dunmore; and Patrick Boland, Archbald.

Abundant Success. Our esteemed contemporary, the Freeland Tribune, is now issued tri-weekly. The Tribune is one of Luzerne county's best papers and we wish it abundant success.—Hazleton Plain Speaker.

WISDOM IN FICTION. Only stupid people think that coal cannot burn as fiercely as tow.—Red Potage.

The wicked are punished in the minds of men even if they get no punishment in reality.—Enoch Willoughby.

Most people don't know it, but the male of our species is more modest, more easily embarrassed, than the female.—Sandburrs.

There is more lie than truth in the common chatter of the day that one woman likes ill to hear another praised.—A Man of His Age.

I hold it to be one sign of a true man that he can take a thrust, whether in his pride, his love, his ambition or his ribs without wincing.—A Man of His Age.

The effort the race makes to be other, better or different than the mere animal falls under pressure. It always failed; it will always fail. Civilization is the veriest veneer and perilously thin.—Sandburrs.

She ain't like the balance of us women, but the Lord Almighty made her, I reckon, like he did the rest of us. If she's more stronger'n we are—like a man—'tain't her fault, as I know of.—Knights in Fustian.

Only expression was lacking in him. If that had been there he might have become a poet and been saved. Rhythm, alliteration, cadence, the melody of sound and the harmony of composition have saved many a man from something worse.—Enoch Willoughby.

In this life there seems to be a certain amount of homely duty apportioned to each person, which, if shirked, is only added to that of another who is faithful to the performance of his own share. It does not follow that because it is evaded by the one it is not exacted of the other to the uttermost.—Knights in Fustian.

The administration expresses itself well satisfied with the decision of the powers, as reported from Paris, to "occupy" China with an allied army to which the United States is to supply 5,000 men. "Occupy" is good! A short while ago the United States was to send troops merely to rescue endangered Americans, now it is to occupy Chinese territory after the rescue has been completed. How long will it be before it takes possession of a "sphere of influence?"

Minister Wu is to be the orator today at Philadelphia. He has already called attention to the parallel between the murder of missionaries in China and the murder of Chinese in California. Will he now remark that the murder of a diplomatist cannot justly be regarded as worse than the murder of a Kentucky governor, which goes unavenged because of partisan sympathy with the fugitive murderer?

Isn't it wonderful that Mr. Bryan, who was practically unknown four years ago, should today be the head of the great Democratic party, and should have proved his right to that post by four years of untiring and unsparring effort, meeting and solving every problem submitted to him in a way that left him stronger than before? Is there another case like his in the history of the country?

The commercial travelers, who were thrown out of their jobs by the McKinley trusts, have gathered in force at Kansas City to lend strength to the outcry against what the Republicans call "honest co-operation of capital."

If any other nation wants to fight, now is the proper time. While the arena is full of gore, an extra war or two won't make much difference.

Funeral on Tuesday. The funeral of the late Mary Sweeney, who died at Scranton while visiting friends there, took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Maggie McBrearty. The remains were interred at St. Ann's cemetery.

Killed by a Cannon. Albert Koehler, aged 16 years, died at 3 o'clock this morning in the Miners' hospital from injuries received a few hours previous by the bursting of a cannon with which he and several companions were ushering in the Fourth. The boy was a son of Fred Koehler, of Hazleton.

Weapon Was Loaded. Elias Stauffenberg, an eighteen-year-old Hazleton youth, was showing a revolver to Miss Minnie Edwards, when she took it from his hand and playfully pointed it at him. The weapon was accidentally discharged. Stauffenberg fell to the floor with a bullet wound directly below his heart. He was taken to the Miners' hospital where the bullet was removed. Stauffenberg will recover.

POLITICAL.

The Crawford county system of making nominations has raised the importance of the individual voter. No man who is entitled to a vote at the Republican primaries Saturday evening is too humble to receive the homage of the office-aspirants of that party.

It is rumored that Judge Woodward will condescend to run for re-election if the Democrats present him with a unanimous nomination.

GEM SUPERSTITIONS. Heliotrope confers the gift of prophecy and long life.

Amber wards off erysipelas and all soreness of the throat.

The Neapolitans still wear amulets of coral to avert the evil eye.

An agate is said to quench thirst and to turn away storm and lightning.

According to etiquette, the amethyst is the only stone which may be worn during mourning.

Turquoise, according to Boethius, especially protects against falls and heals differences between man and wife.

Sard, cornelian and stone bezoar, mentioned by Lord Lytton, especially staunch all flux blood, and cures serpent's bites.

Topaz—the gold stone of the ancients—was much valued by them for medicinal purposes, for dispelling enchantment and calming frenzy.

The kindly diamond, which has become the appendage of aristocracy, is the symbol of justice, innocence, constancy and impassivity of fate.

The sapphire, so useful once to the necromancer, or the holy stone, as it was called, was, among the ancients, the emblem of chastity and securing the granting of all prayers. The pagans dedicate it to Apollo.

The ruby, the live coal of the Greek, is not less emblematical and potent, and the Brahmin traditions speak wonders of the abodes of the gods, lighted by enormous rubies and emeralds.

Italy's sanitary precautions are interfering with the Jubilee pilgrimages. A train load of 361 Marselles pilgrims was stopped at the frontier and informed that everyone must be vaccinated before entering Italy. The pilgrims refused to submit and were sent back to Marselles.
