Taken Sick in the Mines.

Jacob Nagle, of North Washington street, was taken seriously ill while at work in the mines on Wednesday morning. Unassisted he managed to reach the surface, but before he had gone 100 yards on his way homeward he fell by the wayside and lay there until assistance came.

Luckily, two young men from Hazleton came by in a carriage and saw him under a tree, lying on his back and groaning. They picked him up and took him to his home and also summoned a physician.

The physician, after examining him, said he was suffering with cholera morbus, brought about by eating unripe fruit.

At this writing he is steadily improving. The names of the young men who played the part of the good Samaritan could not be ascertained.

Married Last Evening.

John James, of Eckley, and Miss Kate Farrar, of town, were united in marriage last evening at the home of Rev. W. W. Hartman, pastor of the Park M. E. church. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

A reception was held later at the home of the bride's father, Geo. C. Farrar, in the Second ward, where the newly-married couple received the congratulations of a host of friends.

Mr. James is the Freeland correspondent of the Hazleton Sentinel and is widely known as a bright young man. His wife is a popular young lady of town, and they begin life together with the good wishes of all who know them.

Mr. and Mrs. James will take up their residence in town in a few weeks.

Four Timely Questions.

At the joint meeting of the representatives of United Mine Workers of the Schuylkill, Lehigh and Wyoming regions at Hazleton on July 30 an ultimatum will be issued to the operators. The four questions which have been agitating the miners for some time will then come up for final disposition. These questions are:

First—Will the operators obey the state law and pay their men every two weeks?

Second—Will the operators grant a reduction in the price of powder?

Third—Will the operators recognize the miners' union?

Fourth—Will the operators consent to a change in the dockage system?

Past O. B.—Chas. Dorn.

Death of War Veteran.

John Hyer died on Wednesday afternoon at the home of his step-son, Louis Snyder, in Highland. He was 68 years of age. During the war Mr. Hyer, or Mr. Hein, as he was known in the army, served as a private in Company K, Third New York Infantry. For some time he was an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, at Hampton, Va. He is survived by his wife and step-son.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment at Freeland cemetery.

Property Sold.

The real estate of the late Mrs. Sarah Gallagher was sold at public sale yesterday morning. There were four bidders for the property. The first offer was $1,000. The figures rapidly climbed upward until $1,775 was offered, at which price the ground and buildings were disposed of to Frank O'Donnell, of Chestnut street.

Mr. O'Donnell intends to make a number of improvements about the premises in the near future.

School Statement.

The annual statement of the financial condition of Freeland borough school district is published in today's issue. The statement makes a splendid showing for the board and is worthy of perusal by every taxpaying in town. The cost of educating the pupils last term was 79 cents each per month, which is considerably below the average.

Mass at Laurytown.

Rev. H. L. McMenamin will read a high mass in the chapel at Laurytown almshouse on Sunday morning. Arrangements have been made to take the choir of St. Ann's church to Laurytown to assist Father McMenamin at the services.

BLOODSHED AVERTED

Borough Stands Up Boldly For Its Rights.

Street Railway Company's Attempt to Change Tracks Arouses the Authorities at Shamokin.

Borough officials frustrated an attempt made by the Shamokin-Mt. Carmel Electric Railway last night to remove its tracks on certain streets in Shamokin. A section of the Liberty Fire Company's hose was attached to a near-by water plug ready to turn water on employees of the railway if they made an effort to move the tracks another inch.

A large number of special officers sworn in by Burgess Thomas to carry out the orders of the street committee were stationed at the point, armed with revolvers and guns and ready to give battle.

When the gang of workmen had moved the tracks from their original positions about ten inches, the burgess was informed. He hastily called together the street committee and members of town council, and that body decided to stop all work until the tracks were moved to their original bed.

When work was stopped the railway company had connected all but about three feet of the new section, and it made efforts to have that part put in, but council objected. No effort was made during the night by the company to put in the necessary rail to make the connection. If there had been, blood would have been shed.

The railway officials today decided that the borough had the upper hand, and its employes are placing the tracks back in their original position.

The trouble is on account of the railway people refusing to pay for a portion of the cost of street paving, which council claims should be borne by the company.

Burglars Around.

The freight depot of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company was broken into early yesterday morning, and from the baggage department one trunk and a dress suit case were taken. The trunk was owned by George Kovelik, of Upper Lehigh, and the dress suit case by Stanley Oberender, of the Freeland Overall Manufacturing Company. The former contained clothes and other wearing apparel, and the latter samples of overalls, jackets, etc.

Both were carried to the culm bank west of the depot and were there broken open and their contents strewn about.

What the thieves expected to find in either the trunk or the case cannot be imagined. It is thought, however, that they counted upon securing something valuable, as nothing else about the depot was disturbed.

Detective Brundage is working on the case, but has not yet discovered any clue which would lead to arrest of the guilty parties.

In Honor of Her Guests.

Mrs. Thomas Elliott, of Adams street, gave a dinner to a number of her intimate friends yesterday in honor of her guests, Misses Catherine McGinty and Maggie McGill, of Wilkesbarre.

The dining room was very prettily decorated with evergreens, palms and roses, and the table was artistically arranged.

At the conclusion of the dinner each of the guests in turn addressed the assembly neatly and bestowed great thanks to the hostess for the excellent manner and for the hospitality accorded.

Those present were: Messrs. John J. McGill, John Houston, Thomas A. McCole, P. C. Poysier, Miss Maggie Boyle, of Carbon street, Joseph Brennan, of Wilkesbarre, Mrs. Daniel C. Boyle, and Mrs. Edward McGeehan, of town.

Out of the Guard.

An order was issued yesterday from the headquarters of the National Guard, at Harrisburg, announcing the discharge and termination of the commission of First Lieutenant Louis A. Sundmacher, Company G, Ninth regiment, he having "been absent from his command more than thirty days without leave." Sundmacher is a resident of Drifton.

East Stroudsburg Normal School.

The state normal school at East Stroudsburg, which is the alma mater of many of the teachers and others of this vicinity, will reopen on September 4. This school has done its work so well, judging from the ability and thoroughness shown by its graduates, that little need be said in praise of its faculty and principal. To the latter, Geo. P. Bible, Esq., is due almost entirely the phenomenal success which the school has attained. He has worked unceasingly in its behalf and the institution stands today equal in any respect, and superior in many things, to several of the older normal schools of the state.

At East Stroudsburg pupils are housed and taught in the newest, cleanest and most modern buildings. Brussels carpets cover the floors, and all rooms are furnished with hard wood furniture. The social features and advantages of culture, the homelike treatment and good boarding are not surpassed by any other institution.

The location is one of the most healthful and picturesque in the state. Pure mountain springs, with an artesian well in reserve, give the pupils an abundance of good water.

Parents who contemplate educating their sons or daughters should not pass East Stroudsburg normal school. It will well repay them to investigate its claims. For terms and further particulars address the principal, Geo. P. Bible, at the school.
