WEDDED TODAY.

Dr. N. Maley and Miss Lillian Birkbeck Married This Morning.

Promptly at 9.30 o'clock this morning, before an assemblage which filled the Park Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Nixon Maley and Miss Lillian Birkbeck were united in marriage by Rev. W. W. Hartman. The church was handsomely decorated in colors of pink and green, and potted plants and roses artistically adorned the whole edifice.

The bridal party entered the church to the quiet strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. Dr. Maley was attended by Dr. W. P. O. Thomson, and the maid of honor was Miss Daisy Birkbeck, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids, also sisters of the bride, were Misses Jessie M. Birkbeck and Elizabeth Birkbeck. The groomsmen were Geo. E. Brown, Esq., and Dr. Thomas J. Birkbeck, a brother of the bride. The ushers were Dr. E. E. Steiner, of Wilkesbarre; Dr. W. Roland, of Lewisburg, and Dr. I. M. Porter, of Freeland.

The bride was attired in a beautiful dress of cream duchess satin, trimmed with white lace, with veil, and carried diamond ornaments, and carried a large bouquet of white roses. The groom wore a tuxedo suit, with white waistcoat and white bow tie. The bride's hair was styled in waves, and she wore a large diamond tiara. The groom wore a white shirt and a white bow tie.

The marriage ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal Church was read by Rev. Hartman, each of the principals responding in a clear voice. Upon its conclusion, the majestic music of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth, and, after congratulations and good wishes were showered upon the bride and groom, the party marched from the church to the carriage outside.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the Central hotel, where a wedding breakfast was served. Following was the bill of fare:

- Cabbage ala Creme.
- Brown Bread.
- Spring Chicken.
- Potato ala Creme.
- White Bread.
- Eggs.
- Roman Punch.
- Tomato ala Lettuce de Celery.
- French Crackers.
- Coffee.
- Fruit.
- Salted Peanuts.
- Olives.
- Pickles.
- Ice Cream.
- Angel Cake.
- Fruit Cake.
- Ice Cream Cakes.

At 11.45 a. m. Dr. and Mrs. Maley departed on the west-bound Lehigh Valley Railroad train for Buffalo. A week will be spent visiting and sight-seeing at Niagara Falls, Toronto and other places in Canada, where Dr. Maley enjoys an extensive acquaintance. Canada was the groom's home before he located in this state. Upon their return they will take up their residence in the Birkbeck brick.

The bride was the recipient of over one hundred presents, including a large onyx table, parlor lamp, card receivers ornamented with gold, silver card trays, cut glass, beautiful paintings, china and silverware of many designs and a check for $100 from the bride's father and another from her mother. A conservative estimate places the value of the gifts at about $1,000.

Dr. Maley is a graduate of the Philadelphia Dental college, of the class of 1891. He has been a resident of Freeland since March, 1894, and by strict application to his profession has built up an extensive practice. He is also considered one of the progressive citizens of town, being identified with the Salmon Iron Company and in other ways showing his belief in Freeland's future. His friends are legion and all unite in wishing him unlimited success.

Mrs. Maley is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Birkbeck, and is an accomplished and talented young lady. She enjoys the esteem of a large circle of friends who trust that her married life may be one of joy and happiness to the end.

Ex-Congressman George W. Shank, of Plymouth, died yesterday in a Washington hotel after a brief illness. He was one of the prominent in Republican circles of Luzerne county. The deceased was 59 years of age and is survived by a wife and one son and one daughter.

MUST MEET MEN.

Miners Call Upon Operators for a Joint Labor Convention.

About 200 delegates, representing the United Mine Workers of the Lackawanna, Wyoming, Lehigh and Schuylkill anthracite coal districts, are in session at Hazleton. The convention was called to order on Monday by President Mitchell, of Indianopolis. He spoke at some length on conditions in the anthracite coal region. He said that this was the most important gathering of mine workers since the death of John Siney; that the men in this region were paid less for their labor than those of any other mining district; that the price of powder was too high, and that the system of dockage in vogue in the anthracite mines was unjust. He told the men to organize to have their wages properly adjusted, secure a lower rate on powder, and have the dockage system abolished.

Among the committees appointed was one on wage scale, composed of nine members, three from each district. This committee is to report on the scale of wages, which the miners will demand shall be paid in the three districts of the anthracite region.

The most important business consideration yesterday was a resolution to the effect that all miners be given a 10 per cent increase in wages, and all outside employes an increase of 15 per cent and that powder be reduced from $2.75 to $1.50 per keg; that the operators pay their men every two weeks; that the operators be notified of this action and be given ten days' notice to meet with the United Mine Workers in joint convention to adjust these grievances; if at the expiration of this time the operators refuse, President Mitchell shall be empowered to call a meeting of the national board and make another demand.

If the operators and companies do not grant the second demand by September 10, President Mitchell will be authorized to close down work in the three districts of the anthracite field at once. The resolution was referred to the scale committee.

OPERATORS MUST MEET. At today's session a resolution was passed calling upon the operators to meet in joint convention on August 27, to consider the questions outlined in yesterday's resolution.

Death of Mrs. Carr.

Mrs. Bridget Carr died at her home on Pine street yesterday afternoon, after suffering for some time past from diseases incident to old age. She was the widow of the late Peter Carr, who was one of the first settlers of the vicinity, and was aged 80 years. The family resided at Jeddo for over a quarter of a century, but for several years lived in Freeland. The deceased is survived by four sons, as follows: Patrick, of Norris, Montana; John B., of Manayunk, Philadelphia; Bernard J., of Eckley, and Peter B., of Freeland; also by two sisters, Miss Kitty Boyle and Mrs. Norris, both of town.

The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the residence of her son, Peter, on Chestnut street, and will be followed by a requiem mass at St. Ann's church. Interment will be made at St. Ann's cemetery.

Advertising Value Shown.

That advertising in the Tribune gives prompt returns was shown on Monday. A watch lost by Miss Lucy Waldron, of Upper Lehigh, was advertised, and a short time after the papers were delivered the notice was read by the finder, Jerry Fritzingor, of North Centre street, who promptly notified this office, and Miss Waldron has her time-piece again.

Merchants and others who desire to place their wares and wants before the people of Freeland and vicinity never before had a better medium at their command than the Tribune in today. It covers its field more thoroughly than any other newspaper printed or circulated here, and the matter in its advertising and reading columns is given close attention by its hundreds of readers.

Captain Edwards Buried.

Captain Thomas J. Edwards was buried at Tamaqua on Monday. He was 61 years of age and for seven years past had resided at Shamokin. The deceased was a former resident of Upper Lehigh, where he held the position of mine foreman from 1857 to 1884. In 1880 he was the opponent of the late Hon. Eckley B. Cox for state senator. Mr. Edwards was born in Wales, coming to this country with his parents when nine years of age, and settling in Lansford. He served with distinction throughout the civil war in Company A, Fourth Pennsylvania cavalry, rising from private to captain during his three years' service.

Injured at Highland.

Jacob Peiffer, of Johnson street, was injured in No. 3 mine, Highland, yesterday. After firing a blast he returned to his breast to view the effect. Owing to the dense smoke he failed to notice that a heavy rock had become dislodged. While feeling his way he heard the boulder cracking and stepped aside just in time to save his life. As it was, portions of his legs were caught by the fall, which bore him to the ground. The rock, however, fell across the rails and saved his limbs from being crushed. He was taken to his home, where he is suffering great pain today.
