The Philosophy of Nietzsche.

In the death of Frederick Nietzsche, the German philosopher, the world loses a figure highly interesting if only from the fact that his life was a typical paradox. He was a genuine eccentric, a man in whom the line of demarcation between genius and insanity was so paradox. He was a genuine eccentric, a man in whom the line of demarcation between genius and insanity was so lightly drawn that the former was swallowed up in the latter, and-the unfortunate man spent the latter days of his life in a lunatic asylum.

Nietzsche's philosophy was of the negative kind, a kind not very much in vogue these days. He has been acused of being a man of inordinate vanity, and his writings have been subpoened to give evidence in behalf of the accusation. But the probability is that Nietzsche had such a strong personality that he was compelled to use the personal pronoun in his works to a far larger extent than the general custom with philosophers. He was extremely conservative, as is shown by his attacks on this, that and the other modern thing. His book assailing Wagner is one of the best known of his writings, and it must be confessed that in this he betrayed strong personal prejudices.

Nietzsche carried the doctrine of the Nietzsche carried the doctrine of the survival of the fittest to an extreme bordering indeed on the absurd. He claimed that it was wrong for society to found hospitals, asylums and poor-houses. He declared that the proper thing to do was to let the weakest go to the wall without attempting in any way to remove or mitigate their weaknesses. He even said that it was wrong for physicians and surgeons to interfere with the course of nature and that those who could not of themselves recover from an illness or an injury

Houston, Sept. 10.—Late reports received here indicate that the city of Galveston is entirely submerged. A reliable for the content of the city was able to get only to Hitcheock, which is within six miles of Virginia City, a suburb. The coast was found strewn with corpses, wreck age, pianos and household furniture. Two hundred bodies were seen. The water is 15 feet deep in Virginia City, and this fact causes the gravest apprehension. Virginia City is on Galveston bay, and with the water at that height the island and the city of Galveston bay, and with the water at that height the island and the city of Galveston would be entirely submerged. The Dannage Widespread.

At Walter half the houses in the town were demolished. The South Texas Baptist college is badly damaged, and the schoolhouse is a wreek.

Not a house in the town of Chappell Hill escaped damage, and many were demolished. Business houses also suffered, and a fine gin is a complete wreek. At Brenham the courthouse was nearly wreeked and the city hall completely so. Every business and residence house suffered to a greater or less extent. The fire apparatus is under the ruins of the city hall, and a guard is maintained for fire duty.

At Guston stores were unroofed and residences destroyed. At Rock Island the Baptist church was totally wrecked and several residences unroofed.

At Eagle Lake the damage amounts to $250,000 to the rice and cotton crops and of the ground and residences leveled. At Rosenberg, in addition to the damage to residences, the opera house and the Baptist church were wrecked. Several persons were injured, Mrs. Coots, an aged lady, probably fatally. Three persons were killed in the country near persons were killed in the country near Timmins regards as the most serious problem to be faced now.

The city is in darkness, the electric plant having been ruined. There is no way of estimating the property damage at present.

So far as he could see or hear Mr. Timmins says the east end part of the city, which is the residence district, has been practically wiped out of existence.

In the west end, which faces the gulf, on another section of the island, much have was done.

The beach has been swept clean, the bathhouses are destroyed, and many of the residences are total wrecks.

Every effort is being made out of New Orleans to get telegraphic or cable communication with the wrecked city, but to little avail. One message has been received fixing the loss of life at 2,600. It rame by cable from Vera Craz and was later confirmed in a general way.

Great damage and considerable loss of life is reported along the line of the Missouri. Kansas and Texas railroad. There is much anxiety about Sabine Pass and Port Arthur. The last news received from Sabine Pass was to the effect that the town was entirely surrounded by water. The storm had not then reached its height nor had the tidal wave come which is reported to have swept over Galveston.

Port Arthur is not so exposed to the waves as Sabine, but the damage there is believed to have been great.

Telegraph wires are down to Port Lavacca, Rockport, Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi and Brownsville on the lower coast, and grave fears are entertained regarding the safety of the inhabitants of those towns.

Norton of Rensselaer; for attorney general, George M. Palmer of Schoharie; for state treasurer, Gny H. Clark of Madiscor; for comptroller, Martin Glynn of Albany.

This is the latest work of the slate makers. There is as much probability of it being entirely changed by the time the convention meets as there is that it will be put through. It is fairly well established that Mr. Stanchfield will be announced as the Croker-Murphy candidate and that Senator Mackey can have seen on place if he will take it. He declares he will not.

The platform will not be so lengthy as the Republican document, but will still be qutte long. It will indorse the Kansas City platform, make a special allusion to the anti-imperialist plank, call for the absolute repeal of the Ramapo water act, call attention to the implied purchase of the election in this state and demand that decent citizens vote against the Republicans, who would debauch the ballot; indorse the Democratic national ticket and declare that the party in New York will work in harmony for its election, call attention to alleged interference by a Republican state government in the affairs of municipalities like New York and Syracuse, deprecate the alleged misuse of canal improvement money, claim that the low tax rate of the Republicans is not an indication of the real facts, because in six years the expenses of the state government have increased $9,000,000; criticies the taking away from mayors of cities the right to appoint transfer tax appraisers so as to obtain more state patronage.

It was said last night with some show of authority that Senator Hill will make the spece in the convention placing Mr. Coler in nomination.
