Our Pre-eminence In Cities.

Our Pre-eminence in Citics. Our Pre-eminence in Citics. The population reports of the twelfth census furnish some interesting figures for comparison with the populations of the old world cities and show among other things that the United States has a greater number of great cities than any other country on the globe. We have the distinction of having more cities with 1,000,000 population and upward than any other nation in the world. No other country has more than one city which passes that mark, while the United States has three– New York, Chicago and Philadelphia. It would have had four if Brooklyn had not been annexed to New York, as the borough of Brooklyn has gone con-siderably beyond that point this year. The countries besides the United States which have cities which exceed the 1,000,000 mark in population are England (London), France (Paris), Ger-many (Berlin), Austria (Vienna), Japan (Tokyo) and Russin (St. Petersburg). Canton is estimated to have 1,600,000, 600, but these Chinese population fig-ures are conjectural. The United King-dom's second city, Glasgow, had 618, 600 inhabitants when the latest British census was taken, in 1891, and it will still be a long way below 1,000,000 in 1901. Russia's second city, Moscow, had St22,000 population in 1891, and from the rate of increase in the previ-ous decades it is still under the 1,000, ouo line.

ous decades it is still under the 1,000,-000 line. America has the second city in the world, New York. It has also the fifth city, Chicago, for London, New York, Paris and Berlin are probably the only towns in the world which are now ahead of the Illinois capital. Canton, which was credited with 1,000,000 in-habitants a few years ago, is left out of this calculation, for no reliable compu-tation has ever been made in that town. Vienna had 1,364,000 in 1880, and Tokyo had 1,214,000 in 1803, but Chicago, with its 1,688,575, has un-doubtedly passed both of those today. St. Petersburg, which had 1,033,000 in habitants in 1892, is not in the contest with Chicago. Philadelphia, with its 1,293,637 population, is running a close race with St. Petersburg and possibly has beaten it. In any case America's three big towns are very near the head of the list of the world's great popula-tion centers. New York, with 3,437,292, is more tion centers. New York, with 3,437,202, is more than 1,000,000 behind London, the only city which leads it-for Paris' inhabit-ants were 2,448,000 in 1891 and cannot have gone beyond the 3,000,000 mark at the outside in 1900-but at the rela-tive rate of gain of the two cities in the past half century, allowing for annexa-tions of territory in both cases. New tions of territory in both cases, New York is likely to pass the British me tropolis by 1925 or 1930.

The New York State Society of Certi-fied Accountants, whose members have had much experience in examining the books of corporations, urges that great-er frankness be followed in the making of reports. Their position is well stated by President C. W. Haskins, who says: "Investors and voters, consumers and lawmakers are today asking a hundred questions concerning industrial organi-zations, and nothing will so quickly and surely set at rest all ominous doubt and inspire public confidence as a frank and straightforward, comprehen-sive showing of the accounts of these organizations." There can be no ques-tion that what he says is correct and also that investors will have a greater feeling of security if publicity is given to the operation of the companies. It would be well also for the corporations to forestall legislation by making such reports as this society suggests before they are compelled to do so by law. e New York State Society of Certi

The opening theatrical season, ac-cording to the managers, who are noto-riously optimistic, will be the best in the history of the American stage. This may be true, but inasmuch as the same statement is made in the same manner by the same men at the same season every year perhaps it should not be ac-cepted at its face value.

They walked up the middle of East Centre street and reached the Lehigh Valley Railroad station. Here had gathered a large crowd of men, women and children, who lined both sides of the street. A shot rang out. This was followed by a shower of stones. Many of the crowd had picked up ticks and stones and were acting in a threatening manner. Soeing this the sheriff, who had previously cautioned his men to keep cool and not to use their firearms, commanded them to fire. The order was obsyed with terrible results. Sheriff Toole shortly afterward tele-phoned to Harrisburg and asked that a detachment of troops be sent. Following is a list of the killed and wounded: Killed.-Mike Yuckavage, shot in the

A stirring address was delivered by Nation-al Organizer Fred Dilcher, of Ohio, who had just arrived from the Lackawanna region. He told how effective the strike order had been in the two regions in the upper end, and appealed to the miners here to do their duty and help fight the battle of the century, the success of which he glowingly predicted. Mr. Dilcher is undoubtedly the best speaker among the leaders of the United Mine Workers. D. J. McCarthy, Esq., of town, fol-lowed Mr. Dilcher with an address in which he counseled the strikers to practice sobriety and prudence and en-joined them to obey the letter and the spirit of the law. He explained to them practice sobriety and prudence and en-joined them to obey the letter and the spirit of the law. He explained to them their rights in endeavoring to gain recruits from among those who are still working, and cautioned them, at the risk of losing the strike, not to overstep the limits of their rights. He said that once they violate the law the sympathy of the press and people of the nation, which they now have, will turn against them and their fight for justice will fail. The speaker also called attention to the importation into this borough of bands of armed mercenaries by the operators, and on behalf of the people of Freeland protested against such action, since the local authority had not been even asked to suppress any dis-order, because none has yet existed. His denunciation of the intrusion of the corporations' hirelings was loudy applauded. After the public meeting a large bership in the local branch of the United Mine Workers. Getting Up Speed. A novel expedient is being tried to shorten the running time of trains on the Central London railway, says the New York Tribune. This road has 12 or 13 stations and a length of 6½ miles. The track of the Central London is not laid altogether level. Just before reach-ing a station it rises 1.66 feet to a hun-dred and immediately after leaving it descends even more rapidly for a short distance, the grade then being 3.3 per cent. The object of this plan is to stop a train more quickly when it is ar-riving and hasten its departure when it moves onward again. Thas often been observed that trains on the elevated road in this city waste more time in slowing down and get-ting y speed again than they spend with open gates. A train may remain motionless only six or eight seconds, but the loss of time from the other causes is two or three times as great. By accelerating both stopage and start a saving of ten seconds might be made. This repeated a dozen times would make a difference of two min-utes in the total run. The advantage secured by the expedient employed in London is apart from and additional to the use of electric motors, which en-able a train to develop full speed soon-er than steam does. What a Plant Ents. He placed in a pot 200 pounds of dried earth, and in the planted a willow branch which weighed five pounds. He kept the planted a willow branch which he dearth with rainwater. After five years' growth the willow was again weighed, and was found to have gain-dearth with rainwater. After five years' growth the earth in the pot was dried and weighed and had lost only two ounces. The experimentalist, therefore, look-ded upon this experiment as supporting the theory that plants required no food but water. But he was wrong. Later it was discovered that much of the increase in weight of plants was de-vived from earbonic acid gas in the air.
