

MY ROSE.

My Rose! My Rose! I loved you so. With tireless eyes I watched you grow. From fields afar your roots were brought. Your life was all my own, I thought.

ON THE TRIGGER'S PULL

How a Prize Was Won and Lost. BY GWENDOLEN OVERTON.

There is always trouble of one sort or another when a woman meddles with those things which do not concern her sex.

Obviously, carbines were none of Miss Mivart's concern. It felt that she had to play with firearms, she should have kept to Flobert rifles.

Some thought that what Miss Mivart did was done on purpose, and some thought that it was a piece of idiotic silliness. The latter based their argument upon the general frivolousness of her ways.

Greville did not look happy at all. It was not the target record he minded. He never thought about that. It was having to go down the board walk to the hop room behind Burton and to watch Miss Mivart leaning on his arm and looking up into his face from under the white mists of her lace hood.

Now, as the second dance had been Greville's, the third was Burton's. That was the way it had been arranged. As the band began the waltz Miss Mivart stood beside Greville in the center of quite a group.

Anyway just as the waltz started Burton, light hearted and light footed, came skipping and sliding over the candle waxed floor and pushed his way into the middle. "Ours," he said triumphantly.

But Miss Mivart did not heed him at once. She was telling them all how she had learned to shoot a carbine as well as any one, and they—the men, at any rate—were hanging on her words.

"Mr. Greville taught me," she said, "and so did Mr. Burton." This was the first either had known of the other's part in it, and they exchanged a look.

The rifle contest lasted ten days, during which time the air hummed with the ping and sing of bullets over on the range and with the calls of the markers in the rifle pits. Only scores and records and bets were thought and talked about.

Miss Mivart herself had bet with all the daring wickedness of a kitten teazing a beetle. She even went so far as to bet on both Burton and Greville at once.

The adjutant undertook to explain to her that that was called "hedging" and was not looked upon as altogether sporty. Miss Mivart was hurt. Was it really dishonest? she wanted to know.

"Oh!" said the adjutant. "And what does Greville think about it?" The adjutant was married, so he was out of the running.

"Mr. Greville is teaching me, too," said Georgia; "and here he comes for me now."

Burton was safe on the target range, over behind the barracks. Miss Mivart and Greville went in the other direction, by the back of the officers' row, over in the foothills across the creek. Greville nailed the top of a big red pasteboard box to the trunk of a tree, and Miss Mivart hit it once out of 16 times—when she was aiming at the head of a prairie dog at least 20 feet away to the right.

Then her shoulder hurt her so that she was ready to cry. Greville would have liked to have her cry upon his own shoulder, but as she didn't he did some fancy shooting to distract her. He found a mushroom can and threw it into the air and filled it full of holes.

"I'll tell you," she said to Greville as he held up the mushroom can for her to inspect the eight holes he had made with five shots, "let me toss up your hat, and you make a hole through the trademark in the crown."

It was a nice, new straw hat. Greville had sent east for it, and it had come by stage the day before. It had cost him, express paid, $4.75.

It is noted that Dreamer, 2:15 1/4, by Oakland Baron, 2:09 1/4, and Mohel, 2:16 1/4, by Moko, the two fastest 3-year-old trotters of the year, are both by sons of Baron Wilkes, 2:18.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Color in fowls is largely a matter of taste. Almost any way is better than over-crowding.

The first thing now is to get the hens through molting.

Hens that are late in molting will rarely lay until spring.

Ground rawbone not only contains lime, but animal matter of value to the hens.

When guineas are shut up, they rarely sit, but when given a good range they will hatch broods and rear them very readily.

One advantage of buying the breeding fowls in good season now is that breeders usually have a full supply and will sell cheaper.

Turkeys must have considerable range, and they must also be allowed full liberty with their young or they will not keep in good health.

One advantage in giving fowls a free range is that there will be less trouble from lice and ticks. The exercise and fresh air they will pick up will lessen this trouble.

During the summer a supply of dry road dust should be gathered up and stored away for use during the coming winter to sprinkle over the floor of the poultry house.—St. Louis Republic.

BEE BUZZES.

A free circulation of air should pass between the ground and the hive in order always to keep it dry on all sides.

Bees in box hives can be fed up for wintering just as well as in any hive, but they may not be just as easy to handle.

Bees are not known to secrete wax and build comb at any time other than when they are gathering honey or are being fed.

A well formed brood nest is one that occupies the center of four or five frames and is entirely surrounded (except the bottom) with sealed honey.

Each hive should have a good bottom board, which should be planed smooth and painted. It should also be cleated at each end to prevent cupping.

There is nothing that will advance the progress in the apiary equal to a supply of empty combs. A large supply of them may be readily obtained by using foundation.

Four parts of coffee and sugar and one part water simmered until it becomes quite hard on being cooled makes a good candy for fall and winter feeding.—St. Louis Republic.

BITS OF SCIENCE.

A German surgeon recently cut off a patient's second toe and sewed it to the stump of a missing forefinger. It proved a very good substitute and can be moved by the owner, as an artificial finger could not be.

Recent discoveries tend to increase the belief that the sun's corona, the mysterious, pearl colored halo that is seen surrounding the sun in a total eclipse, is an electrical phenomenon similar to the aurora.

The larynx of a man in Sydney, Australia, became useless through disease, and he lost his voice. Professor Stuart of the University of Sydney is said to have made an artificial one, and it can be so regulated as to make the voice soprano, tenor, contralto or bass at will.

THE MOVING WORLD.

An electric plow, operated by movable trolley wires, has been invented in Halle, Prussia.

The use of machinery has reduced the time necessary for the making of 100 watches from 1,749 hours to 355.

By a new opera glass attachment the focusing of the glass is made easier, the spindle being rotated by a rack bar, which is pivoted on the frame and has a serrated knob projecting over the top to open or close the glass.

POLITICAL QUIPS.

The surest way for a man to find how unpopular he is in his own party is to bolt to another.—Denver Republican.

The Anti-Horse Thief association meets at Wichita, Kan., soon. Are we to have still another presidential ticket?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There is a misstatement in the assertion that the campaign liar is taking more rope than usual. He does not use rope, but yarn.—Philadelphia Press.

TAKING THE REINS.

George R. Peck, 3, 2:20 1/4, pacing, is a new one for Joe Patchen, 2:01 3/4. It is now reported that Alcaldia, 2:01 1/4, will be started in a race or two late in the fall.

John A. McKerron, 3, 2:12 1/4, has been a sixth mile in 2:13 1/4, last half in 1:04 1/4, at Cleveland in his work.

The pacing gelding Kingfisher, 2:19 1/4, by Eaglehurst, worked in 2:09 1/4, last half in 1:03, at Lexington recently.

Arion, 2:07 1/4, recently worked a mile over the Readville (Mass.) track in 2:10, the first half in the remarkably fast time of 1:01 1/4.

Ten and one-half ounce shoes and three ounce toe weights converted Monopole from a 2:08 1/4 pacer to a 2:23 1/4 trotter.

The New York state pacer Timepiece, formerly a hobbyist, is racing without the straps this season and has cut his record to 2:19 1/4.

Guido, 2:20 1/4, promises to be a 2:15 trotter for his dam, famous old Primrose. He was a close second to Alkalone in 2:14 1/4 the other day.

The quarter time of Prince Alert's mile in 2:03 at Poughkeepsie was 31, 1:02 1/4, 1:32 1/4, 2:02. The last half was in 1:00 1/4 and last quarter in 29 1/2 seconds.

Frenchy, 2:24 1/4, by Baron Wilkes, owned by Elmer E. Lay of Plainfield, Pa., foaled a chestnut colt last May by Pure Gold, son of Mambino King, that is a natural pacer.

Nolly Gay, by Pamlico, 2:10, stepped into the 2:20 list at Newburg, N. Y., recently. She beat 14 others and trotted three heats over the half mile track in 2:19 1/4, 2:18 1/4, 2:19 1/4.

It is noted that Dreamer, 2:15 1/4, by Oakland Baron, 2:09 1/4, and Mohel, 2:16 1/4, by Moko, the two fastest 3-year-old trotters of the year, are both by sons of Baron Wilkes, 2:18.

Connor, 2:07 1/4, beats but two winning heats as a pacer of the century mark, and he'll not be long getting those. He has also 21 as a trotter, making his present total at both gaits 119.—Horse Review.

CAUGHT FAST IN PUMP.

Charles Fisher, a pumpman employed at the bottom of No. 1 slope, Big Mountain, near Shamokin, had a terrible experience. While he was packing the water cylinder in his pump with his left hand the piston gradually drew up and fastened his hand. In vain he tried to release it. The piston kept pressing against the hand until it became flat. In that position the pumpman tried to turn the reverse lever on, but it was useless.

He remained fast for three hours, when his cries for help attracted a gang of mine surveyors, who rushed to his rescue. When the hand was extracted it was found to have been crushed to a pulp, the bones protruding through the flesh. The hand will have to be amputated.

Do not get scared if your heart troubles you. Most likely you suffer from indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and gives the worn out stomach perfect rest. It is the only preparation known that completely digests all classes of foods; that is why it cures the worst cases of indigestion and stomach trouble after everything else has failed. It may be taken in all conditions and cannot help but do you good. Grover's City Drug Store.

Mrs. Lawson Hubler, 31 years of age, of Deep Creek, near Ashland, died very suddenly. While sitting in the house nursing her seven-month-old infant she was seized with convulsions and fell over on the floor, the child falling under her. There was no one near her to give any assistance, and she died, presumably, in a few minutes.

Her son, aged 6 years, found her lying dead on the floor when he entered the house, where he was attracted by the cries of the baby. He released the infant, which was clasped in the dead mother's arms, and then ran out and told his father, who was at work in the garden.

THEATRICAL.

One of the most sensational and thrilling feats seen on the stage is found in "The Bowery After Dark," which will be the bill at the Grand opera house on Tuesday evening. It consists in stretching a ladder across a street to effect a rescue. At a critical moment it is found that the ladder is too short. No time is to be lost to foil the villain. In the dilemma a human extension is quickly improvised and the rescue is accomplished. Athletes are used in this scene. This act is entirely original. The peculiar tough life of Greater New York's most unique street under artificial light is clearly and realistically portrayed, including an interior view of "Suicide Hall," and an opium joint. The story of the play shows the downfall of a beautiful girl, once a society belle, in one of the greatest pitfalls of the metropolis, and it teaches a wholesome moral lesson to members of her sex with a wayward tendency. The scenery and effects are all new and original.

Bucolic simplicity and genuine rural atmosphere mark the production of "Way Down East," which Wm. A. Brady is offering the public this season. The play has been rapturously received in Chicago, where it is repeating its New York and Boston success. It will be seen here during the season.

Walter E. Perkins and his excellent company made a hit in Freeland last evening with that delightful comedy, "The Man From Mexico." The audience showed unabated interest in the trials and escapades of the leading character until the curtain descended on the last act of his thrilling thirty days' deception. The audience was of fair size and was one of the best-pleased that has left the Grand for some time.

Dr. W. H. Lewis, Lawrenceville, Va., writes, "I am using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in my practice among severe cases of indigestion and find it an admirable remedy." Many hundreds of physicians depend upon the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure in stomach troubles. It digests what you eat, and allows you to eat all the good food you need, providing you do not overload your stomach. Gives instant relief and a permanent cure. Grover's City Drug Store.
