Wonder If He Saw This?

He was immersed in the darkest dungeon beneath the castle moat.
"If I had a saw, a file, anything—" he moaned, as he looked at the solid bars across the solitary window.
Then a thought struck him. His face brightened, like a Cripple Creek conflagration. Rapidly running over his supply of collars, which had just come from the laundry, he selected one fitted to his purpose.
Five minutes later the great middle bar of the window, dexterously severed by the saw, like edge of the laundered collar, fell apart.

He Was Free.

If he had had his collars laundered at the Freeland Steam Laundry he would be in jail yet. We have a device for ironing the top edge of collars and cuffs and return them to you with a perfectly smooth edge. Try us.

RESUME WORK ON MONDAY

Union Officials Have Ended the Big Strike.

Mine Workers Advised to Make Demands at Once Upon Operators to Com- ply With Pay Law.

President Mitchell last evening issued the expected order which declares off the strike in the anthracite coal region. Monday next is the day set for the order to take effect.

The announcement that a sufficient number of operators have complied with the demands of the Scranton convention to warrant the union officials ending the strike was received with unbounded enthusiasm throughout the coal fields.

Those operators who have not yet fallen in line are expected to do so before Monday, otherwise the battle will be transferred from the United Mine Workers to the American Federation of Labor, which will fight the dissenters with all the financial and other resources at its command.

The operators who up to last night had not complied with the demands of the strikers were as follows: Susquehanna Coal Company, Wyoming valley; William Penn Mine, Schuylkill county; Summit Branch Company, Lykens district; Mineral Mining Company, Shamokin district; Union Coal Company, Mt. Carmel; G. B. Markle & Co., Jeddo; John Jermy, Scranton; Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, Panther Creek district; Cox Bros. & Co., Drifton, and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company.

Three of the companies which had not assented operate in this region. The Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company had agreed to pay the advance, but did not promise to abolish the sliding scale. The Drifton corporation had not assented to the demand that the increase be paid until April 1 next. Markle & Co. had not posted notices of any kind.

THE OFFICIAL ORDER.

The official order declaring the strike at an end is signed by the national president and secretary, the members of the national executive board and the presidents and secretaries of the anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers. It congratulates the strikers upon the victory won, and calls their attention to the operators' agreement to consider all other grievances which may be presented.

In connection with the latter, the union officials advise the men to make immediate demands on their employers for their compliance with the semi-monthly pay law.

The strikers are also cautioned of the danger of neglecting their duty to the organization. They are asked to continue their activity as members and stand united, otherwise the advantages they have gained may soon be lost.

SEMI-MONTHLY PAY LAW.

The aim of the United Mine Workers to bring about a compliance by the operators with the semi-monthly pay law should receive the hearty and united support of all people in the anthracite region. It is the law of the state and there never was a more opportune time than the present to insist upon its enforcement. To the business people, in particular, it is important. If the law is not obeyed the majority of the men who have been idle will not receive any pay worth considering until December 22 next.

The semi-monthly pay law fosters a spirit of economy and honesty among the workers, it maintains trade at a normal standard all through the month, it gives men their earnings two or three weeks sooner than under the present system, in brief, it is only just to all concerned, but above all, it is the law of Pennsylvania, and every citizen should assist in having the law upheld.

Drifton and Jeddo Companies Holding Out Against the Strikers.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon no new notices had been posted at Drifton, nor could any information be obtained concerning the intentions of Cox Bros. & Co.

At Jeddo office of Markle & Co. no notice has yet been posted, and no person authorized to speak on the subject of an increase by this company could be reached by telephone.

The Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company, contrary to expectations, had not given notice at its South Side collieries at 2.30 o'clock that it will abolish the sliding scale.

and obeyed, regardless of who the law defier may be.

LARGE LABOR MEETING.

One of the largest meetings held in town during the strike took place Wednesday evening at the Grand opera house. W. B. Fairley, of Alabama, a member of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers, delivered one of the best labor speeches heard in town for some time. He was followed by "Mother" Mary Jones, who spoke for over an hour. Considerable enthusiasm was displayed by the large audience.

FOUR HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Thomas Harter, George Konshick, Michael Callahan and Jacob Reitmeyer, four of the Oneida strikers arrested and charged with assault and battery and intent to kill during the riot at Oneida were held without bail by the court at Pottsville yesterday. The other seven men were held under $1,000 bail each on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. They were also placed under $1,000 bail each on the charge of inciting riot.

CARPENTERS ATTACKED.

A Schuylkill trolley car carrying carpenters en route to St. Nicholas colliery was held up in Mahanoy City on Wednesday. The carpenters had taken breaker boys' places and assisted to wash coal at Boston Run. Several were struck, but not severely injured. Sheriff Toole caused the arrest of Charles Elliott, charged with connection with the raid, but Squire May discharged him for want of evidence.

An Important Case.

August Kellert is the defendant in an important case which was heard yesterday before Squire Shovlin and continued until Tuesday next. He is charged by Health Officer Ward with removing a contagious disease placard from his residence at Washington and Main streets, where a case of diphtheria existed some time ago.

Attorney Carr represents the prosecutor and Attorney Stroh the defendant. On behalf of Mr. Kellert it is claimed that the Board of Health is not a legally organized body, as its president also holds the office of tax collector, and that this makes its actions void. This construction of the law is denied by the prosecution, and to give the attorneys and justice an opportunity to more fully examine the law the hearing was continued.

Preparing for Business.

The Central Pennsylvania Brewing Company has contracted with L. H. Lentz to erect a large ice house, stable and wagon shed for the use of its Freeland branch. The buildings will be located on the rear of the lot of Mrs. Jane DeFoy, on Washington street, and work will be commenced in a short while.

Manager W. J. Morgan is pushing the business hard in Freeland and the company's sales this year are larger than ever before.

Will Probated.

The will of the late Thos. E. Davies was probated today before Deputy Register of Wills Hiram P. Kuntz. The deceased bequeathed all his property to his wife during her life, except some minor articles which he left to his grandchildren. Upon the death of Mrs. Davies, which occurred two days after his own, the property is to be divided among the surviving son and daughters. William E. Davies, of Drifton, is named as executor.

Held Up Last Night.

Frank Weidner, of Pine street, stripping foreman at Buck Mountain, was stopped on the hill between Eckley and Highland by several unknown men while driving home last evening. He states that a shot was fired at him, which he returned. His horse, becoming frightened, dashed forward and soon had him away from his assailants.

AFTER VOTES.

Republican Parade and Mass Meeting on Wednesday Evening.

The mass meeting conducted by the Republicans on Wednesday evening at Yannes' opera house was well attended, but by far the larger number present was composed of people from Hazleton and vicinity. The absence of Freeland voters was remarkable and caused no little comment. District Chairman H. P. Kuntz presided and introduced the speakers.

J. H. James, Esq., of Pottsville, delivered the first address. He spoke on the benefits of Republicanism in general, but as he is not an orator he failed to arouse any interest in his remarks.

Hon. H. W. Palmer, candidate for congress, followed Mr. James. He confined himself principally to the trust question, claiming that the trusts are bred in Democratic states and that his party is not responsible for their evil doings. He then took up the remedy offered against trusts by Colonel Bryan, that of placing all articles manufactured by trusts on the free list, and spoke of the evil effect this would have upon American labor. The questions of imperialism and expansion were also touched upon. In closing Mr. Palmer referred to the fact that he is a candidate and that he is not owned by corporations, but that he owns himself.

George S. Ferris, Esq., candidate for judge, merely mentioned the fact that he desires the support of the voters and will fulfill the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

Wm. Reigby, of New York, was the last speaker, and his peculiar actions before he began caused a ripple of interest to appear among the audience. He took imperialism and expansion for his subjects, but did not create the sensation which many were led to expect.

The county and legislative candidates were present on the stage, but through some oversight none of the speakers referred to them in any way further than advising the voters to support the entire ticket.

A free trolley ride from Hazleton and surrounding towns induced the Republican club of that city and West Hazleton and Jeannette clubs to come here. Led by the Citizens' band and two drum corps the visitors paraded Washington, Ridge and Centre streets before the meeting and made a good appearance. Lanterns, torches and transparencies were carried.

Near the Lehigh valley depot two of the transparencies were badly disfigured by stones, and later two bass drum heads were broken by missiles which were thrown at the marchers. This work was severely condemned by the people of town, and if the identity of the guilty persons can be established it is said they will be prosecuted.

Last evening's Hazleton Plain Speaker says: "About seventy-five members of the Republican club were not furnished transportation to Freeland last night and upon returning to their headquarters they cheered lustily for Bryan, showing their disgust at being left behind. Company A decided to disband and form a Bryan Club. Nearly every member broke his lantern. The matter will likely be patched up tomorrow."

Married Yesterday.

Herbert W. Fritz, of Rockport, and Miss Ellen P. Stewart, of Freeland, were married yesterday morning at 11.15 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. A. Dodson, on Walnut street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Hartman, pastor of the Park M. E. church. Edw. C. Ebert, of Weatherly, acted as groomsmen, and Miss Clara Marks, of Sandy Run, was bridesmaid. Over 100 invited guests witnessed the ceremony and tendered many wishes of success and prosperity to the happy couple.

A collation consisting of sandwiches, coffee, cake and fruits, was served to all present. During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Fritz departed for their residence near Rockport, where they have made their home. Their departure from town attracted no little attention, as their carriage was sprinkled with several pecks of rice, and huge placards, the work of joking friends, adorned the sides and rear, containing such inscription as "There is only one girl and I've got her," and "We have just been married."

Mrs. Fritz was one of Freeland's most estimable young ladies. For some years past she taught school in Foster township, and her qualifications won her the regard of her pupils and their parents wherever she was stationed. Mr. Fritz is a well-known young man of his section and is a teacher at Rockport school.

The esteem in which the friends of the family held the bride was shown by the very large number of handsome and useful presents received by her. The list embraces almost every article required in a household.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Statement of Facts Concerning the Claims Colonel Martin Has to the Support of Voters of All Parties.

The court has decided that the Democratic county convention failed to nominate a judicial candidate, which explains the appearance of my name on the ballot, in the column under the head of "Citizens' Party." Make your mark opposite name, T. R. Martin—[X].

In that convention I had a majority of the delegates, but political intrigue prevented them from nominating the candidate of their choice.

As I owe no allegiance to any political faction, boss or bosses, therefore the people have the opportunity, at this time, of electing a judge independent of all political influence.

The people demand the prompt transaction of the business of the courts, and protection by the court, from the browbeating and bullying of counsel, where by suitors are discouraged from seeking their rights and witnesses attending in response to the summons of the court are unnecessarily humiliated.

To promote the interests of justice, it is the duty of the court and members of the bar, not only to be manly and courteous toward each other, but likewise to have due regard and consideration for others having business with the courts.

When you go to the polls on election day, vote with that same independence and fearlessness which I shall exercise on the bench if elected judge.

Being one of the great body of people, I fully assent to the foregoing demands of the people, and if in your judgment I am deserving of, and fitted for the office of judge, I shall appreciate and be obliged to you for your support.

Very respectfully,
T. R. Martin.
