medicines is that so many claims have been made for them that people don't or won't believe what honest makers say. We have been telling our story sixty years. Did we ever deceive you once? If we make any statement that isn't so, we will stand the loss. Go to the druggist and get your money back.

Here's an example. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a good cure for a cough that comes from a cold. Your cough, if you have one, may not come from a cold; your doctor will tell you about that.

He didn't look as if he needed a rest." "No," said the church member, "it wasna him; it was the congregation that was needin' a rest."

Mushroom growing is said to be the Intest fad that has attacked Baltimore, and interesting stories of the success, both material and financial, that pri-vate growers of mushrooms are meet-ing with, are being circulated. The cellars of a brewing establishment no longer in operation, in the southeastern section of the city, have been con-verted into mushroom farms by some enterprising growers, and it is said that they are yielding very satisfac-tory crops. that they are yielding very satisfac-tory crops. Besides these growers, who have gone into the business on an exten-sive scale, a number of women have started smaller farms in the cellars of the houses in which they live. Ac-cording to the figures given by Mr Theodore Eckhardt yesterday, these women farmers run a fair chance of adding very considerably to their pir money.

women farmers run a fair chance of adding very considerably to their pir money. The yield from a fifteen-foot bed Mr. Eckhardt said, should be abour ninety peeks in three months. Thi cost of the bed would be about $10 The mushrooms would sell for seven ty-five cents a peek, bringing the farmer $07.50, making a gain of $57.5* on the undertaking. The things that are necessary for success in mushroom growing, accord-ing to Mr. Eckhardt, are, first, the cellar in which they are to be growt (and this must be so arranged that the plants can be kept at a tempera-ture of from sixty degrees to seventj degrees); second, good ventifation, al-plenty of fresh air is essential. Ar rangements must be available also by which the soil can be kept moist. Good manure, rich in phosphate, must be used to form the foundation of the bed, which will be built prefer-ably upon a dirt floor. Two loads will be necessary for a bed fifteen feet long. The mushroom spawn can be procured in the shape of bricks from the florists and nurscrymen. The tem-perature of the bed must be done until it is below ninety-five degrees. Then the bricks can be broken in half-inch pieces and distributed evenly over the bed. In eight or ten days a white thread-ble

In eight or ten days a white thread-like growth will begin to appear, and when this is noticed the bed must be covered to the depth of one-half to three-quarters of an inch with sandy loam. The beds are built in conical shape, starting from a base about three feet wide and building up to about two and a half feet high, with a width of about ten inches on top. A frame of six-inch boards may be used to keep the bed in place. The expenses will be: For manure, $4; labor, $2.50; six bricks of mush-room spawn, $1; loam, $2.50.—Balti-more Sun.

"Paper Fer er Transfer." "I read this morning of a wenthy woman who walked twenty blocks to save carfare. I may have my faults, but, thank goodness, there is not a stingy bone in my body." Is something I detest. Don't you, dear?" Her companion, a meek little woman in a black bonnet, nodded. "I have no use for people that put themselves to inconvenience just to save a penny. Have you?" "No," assented her companion. "It is sordid." "Yes." "People of that kind make me lose my temper. I have seen one person read over another's shoulder just to save the price of a penny paper. Haven't yon?" "Yes, occasionally." "Well, I see it every day. I am al-most tempted to say something. One day a woman asked me to let her step on the weighing machine while I was on. Light and Health. M. Trelat, a well-known authority on hygiene, recently gave it as his opinion that the best light for the house is the slanting light as opposed to the vertical and the horizontal lights. According to this view, the London Lancet points out, houses should be constructed to receive the grees—that is to say, from a place cor-responding with the mid-heavens— and, in order to obtain this light, houses should not be higher than two-thirds of the width of the street. If a street, for example, were thirty feet wide the houses on each side should not be higher than twenty feet. The suggestion is, of course, not to cut down our houses, but to widen our streets. How shall a mother who is weak and sick with some female trouble bear healthy children ? How anxious women ought to be to give their children the blessing of a good constitution ! Many women long for a child to bless their bome, but be-cause of some debility or displacement of the female organs, they are barren. Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more suc-cessfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the parts, curing all displacements and in-flammation. Actual sterility in women is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is given free to all expectant or would-be mothers.
