ALDERMAN IN DANGER

Wilkesbarre Official Gets Infernal Machine.

Matches Arranged So They Would Ignite on Sandpaper and Explode a Box Filled With Powder.

Alderman Robert Conahan, of Wilkesbarre, found an infernal machine at the door of his home yesterday morning, but discovered what it was before there was any explosion. It was a cigar box carefully wrapped and labeled "Alderman Conahan, with the compliments of the season." As he pried open the lid some powder fell out. He was suspicious and did not open it until he had soaked it for half an hour in a bucket of water.

Then he discovered that the box was full of gunpowder, and attached to the lid were eight matches in such a manner that they would scrape against some sandpaper and be ignited when the box was opened. The affair was very crudely constructed, and it is doubtful if there would have been an explosion, even if the alderman had opened the box when he first got it.

He has no idea who intended to injure him, but supposes it must be some offender who appeared before him and who desired revenge.

Birthday Party.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Park M. E. church gave a birthday party to a few of their members on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Hodgson. A very enjoyable time was had by all who were present. Ice cream, cake and fruits were served in abundance.

Those present were: Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Shaffer, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. Mismar, Mrs. Newhart, Mrs. John McClellan, Mrs. Beers, Mrs. McCarron, Mrs. Turnbach, Mrs. Fackler, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Beltz, Mrs. VanHorn, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Soder and Mrs. Davis.

Harcur Acquitted.

Thomas Harcur, charged with the murder of Ralph Mills, of Beaver Meadow, a deputy at Onedia colliery during the strike riot on October 10, was acquitted at Pottsville on Saturday. Attorneys Carr and McCarthy took a prominent part in defending the accused miner.

Harcur is also charged with rioting and with aggravated assault on Coal and Iron Policeman Kellaer, and will be tried on these charges later on.

erty and Mrs. Noone thought to scare Doyle away from the place by assuming the role of a ghost.

Covered by a sheet, she made a visit to Doyle's place and pretended to be a visitor from across the river Styx. Doyle saw the pretending ghost and attacked her with an ax, fracturing the skull. Mrs. Noone's physicians say she will recover but will not regain the use of her faculties.

Train leaving here for New York and Philadelphia changed from 1.30 p. m. to 1.20 p. m.

A Diphtheria Cure.

The Scientific American gives this receipt as one which the world ought to know. At the first indications of diphtheria in the throat of a child, make the room close and then take a cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts. Hold the cup over the fire, so as to fill the room with fumes. The patient, on inhaling the fumes, will cough up and spit out all the membranous matter, and the diphtheria will pass out. The fumes of tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat and afford a relief that has baffled the skill of physicians.

After Stuart's Record.

The hearing of evidence in the case of Rev. D. E. Stuart, who is suspected of the murder of his wife, was postponed on Friday until December 1, to give the district attorney time to examine the case. The latter said in his plea to the court for an extension of time: "Constable Kulp has in his possession letters and telegrams and other things which tend to show that the prisoner is not above suspicion in other parts of the country. I would like time to have these investigated."

Stuart was placed under $10,000 bail, which was furnished.

Mrs. Birkbeck's Funeral.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, and were carried in the funeral procession by six young ladies.

THEATRICAL.

Charles Manley, the eminent character actor, will present his very successful musical rural comedy-drama, "Down on the Farm," at the Grand opera house on Friday evening. "Down on the Farm" is described as being a most fascinating play, with the attractive theme of New England country life for its subject, and has been warmly received in all the large cities of the United States, and its strong dramatic effects have been most highly commended. The company supporting Mr. Manley is a very able one, composed of metropolitan favorites who have been selected for their special adaptability to the parts assigned. The company is one of the ablest now on the road, and the specialties deserve particular mention, being very strong.

"Down on the Farm" carries its own band and orchestra and special scenery. There will be a street parade made at noon by the Tube band.

The snow storm shown in act three of Wm. A. Brady's production of "Way Down East" has been pronounced by all who have seen it to be one of the most wonderful devices ever introduced in stage craft. To the audience, the storm is a real blizzard, and during the scene many ladies have been known to draw their wraps about them. The play will be given here early next month.

May Contest Election.

The Hazleton Standard this morning claims that sufficient evidence has been brought to the surface to warrant James A. Sweeney, the late Democratic candidate for the legislature, to contest the seat of Representative-elect H. W. Haworth.
