DEATH FROM LOCKJAW

Eckley Woman Succumbs to the Disease.

Mrs. Charles Harvey, Unable to Longer Struggle Against Her Affliction, Died Last Evening.

At her home in Eckley at 6.45 o'clock last evening, Mrs. Ann Harvey, wife of Charles Harvey, died after several days of suffering. The cause of death was lockjaw, which, owing to her weak constitution, she was unable to overcome. During the early part of November, while walking about her yard one morning, Mrs. Harvey stepped upon a board. A rusted protruding nail entered her foot. Although medical attention was promptly given the wound, the injury continued to grow worse.

Two weeks later symptoms of lockjaw appeared, and the following day, a week from last Thursday, Mrs. Harvey was compelled to take to her bed, where she remained and suffered untold pain until death relieved her last evening.

The deceased was aged 39 years. She is survived by her husband and one son, aged 6 years, and one daughter, aged 3 years; also by three brothers, Cornac Quinn, Peckville, Lackawanna county; Con Quinn, Haverhill, Mass., and Patrick Quinn, Drifton, and one sister, Mrs. James J. Maloy, Freeland.

The sad circumstances surrounding her death caused many expressions of sympathy among her large number of acquaintances. She was preceded in death by her mother, Mrs. Ann Quinn, on August 10 last.

The funeral will leave the residence in Eckley at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. A requiem mass will be read at St. Ann's church at 10 a. m. The interment will be made in St. Ann's cemetery.

Football Yesterday.

Freeland and Hazleton football teams played yesterday afternoon at the Tigers park. The score at the end was 23 to 5 in favor of the visitors. The game itself was much more interesting than might be judged from the score. It was a warm contest from start to finish, but at no time was there a chance for the Freeland boys to win. They lacked team work, not having practiced together sufficiently, and to this alone is due their defeat. Individually they did well, but their opponents did well collectively and consequently made points when the opportunities came.

Hugh Ferry, of the Hazleton team, and Lavelle and McMenamin, of Freeland, were injured during the game. The former's leg was badly hurt, Lavelle's nose was fractured and McMenamin's knee was injured.

Off to West Virginia.
From Today's Philadelphia Times.
"Mother" Jones, of coal strike fame, dropped into Philadelphia last night and hunted up a few congenial spirits at the Trades Assembly Hall, 931 Callowhill street. She is on her way to West Virginia, where she will report to President W. C. Stephenson, of the West Virginia United Mine Workers, for organization work.

The miners of the Mountain state are to be organized during December and January, and the national organization is lending the state organization all possible assistance. In regard to conditions in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania Mrs. Jones said:

"The miners in the anthracite region are now well satisfied and everything is going along smoothly. The semi-monthly pay law is being gradually put into effect, and other conditions are being rectified. The miners are all joining the unions and new locals are being formed all through the region."
"The girls employed in the silk mill at Freeland are still on strike and have formed a union. They are determined to win. At Carbondale and Wilkesbarre the silk mill operatives are also on strike and sent for me in both places. I did what I could to help them, but was not successful. In Wilkesbarre they struck because the boss demanded that they give up their union cards to him, which they refused to do."

FOSTER BOARD.

School Directors Meet in Regular Session Saturday Evening.

All members of the Foster township school board, except Director Argust, were present Saturday evening at the December meeting of that body.

The principal reported having made thirty-one visits. The enrollment is 1,067, with a percentage of attendance of 82. A night school has been opened at Upper Lehigh with an enrollment of 47.

Buildings were reported damaged at Sandy Run, Foundryville and Ripples. Books and supplies are required in the schools. The repairing was placed in the hands of the building committee for attention and the book committee was instructed to purchase supplies.

The committee on insurance reported having increased the insurance from $12,200 to $12,495, the additional $295 being placed on the new building at Eckley.

It was decided to offer a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of parties found destroying school property.

The president turned $2 over to Treasurer Doudt from Prof. Alden for tuition.

It was decided that the Christmas vacation extend from December 21, 1900, to January 2, 1901.

A communication from F. O. Haiges requesting an appointment for three years was accepted, but no action was taken.

The following bills were read and ordered paid: Press, publishing, $12; Mrs. Sallie Stevens, cleaning, $3; G. B. Markle & Co., coal, $3.85; Thomas Fear, labor, $1; Irvin Ennax, cleaning, $4; Daniel F. Burkett, wood, $3; Upper Lehigh Coal Co., coal, $10.20; Parlor Broom Co., brooms, $1.50; Mrs. Thomas Hughes, cleaning, $4; Mrs. Thomas McBrearty, cleaning, $4; Mrs. Frank Martina, cleaning, $4; Mrs. Thomas Kessel, cleaning, $11; George R. Keller, supplies, $8.81; John W. Davis, wood, $1.30. A bill from Cox Bros. & Co., coal and hauling, $19, was laid over.

THEATRICAL.

From the Mahanoy City Tribune of November 24 last we clip the following concerning the show which will appear here Thursday afternoon and evening:

"Prof. Sipe's troupe of trained animals gave performances at Kater's opera house on Wednesday and Thursday. This troupe of trained horses and dogs and Prof. Wormwood's ponies, dogs and monkeys performed a number of feats and many tricks which scarcely any one would credit to a dumb animal unless an eye witness. They jump rope, walk the tight rope, make high dives and do all manner of tricks. The monkeys are the best trained in the world and are really so laughable that one almost needs an extra grille. To see the performance is to be cured of the blues and to miss it should be the cause for regret of a life time."

Lovers of first-class comedy can find the real article at the opera house on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening. The Wills company is producing some of the most popular plays of that variety in a manner that has never been equaled at popular prices here, and frequently the high priced aggregations fall below the Wills standard.

"Down on the Farm" gave satisfaction to a fair-sized audience Friday evening. Several of the specialties rendered were very good and the company throughout was up to the average appearing in rural comedy dramas.

The Durno-Emmet Combination made a big hit here Saturday evening. It was the third of the M. & M. series and gave pleasure to a large audience.

A minstrel company and "Way Down East" will appear during the forepart of next week at the Grand.

Stuart on Parole.
The adjourned habeas corpus hearing in the case of Rev. D. E. Stuart, the Wyoming minister, against whom warrants charging murder and other crimes were issued two weeks ago, did not take place on Saturday, as arranged. Judge Woodward, who granted the writ, was out of town, and the associate judges refused to hear the case in accordance with an established rule of the courts.

Detective Kulp, who arrested the defendant, appeared with a number of witnesses and asked that a hearing be held. Attorneys McQuade and Feist, for the defendant, demanded of Judge Halsey that their client be heard or given his liberty.

Assistant District Attorney Mulhall said the commonwealth was ready to proceed with the case, but at the same time asserted that the accused had some rights. In his opinion, there should be some warrant for depriving the defendant of his liberty.

Subsequently, bail was forfeited before Judge Halsey, and the accused was released on parole to answer the summons of the court.

Dr. Whitney, who made an investigation at the instance of the coroner, says that he found no signs of the use of carbolic acid.

Relatives Brought Together.
Through the obituary of the late Thomas E. Davies published in the Tribune, a large number of his relatives in Wales learned of his death and communication with the family here has been established. The Tribune article was copied by the Swansea Cambrian, the leading newspaper of Wales, with the result that letters from cousins and other relatives across the water have been received by William E. Davies, of Drifton, a son of the deceased.

Among those who learned of Mr. Davies' death through the article was Mrs. Mary B. Jenkins, of Brynsylf, Swansea, the step-mother of the deceased, who was then on her death-bed. She died November 10 at the age of 89 years.

Profits Reduced.
The anthracite strike, which was brought to a close just before election, will probably have cost the railroad and coal companies not less than $10,000,000 in gross earnings, and will actually have cost them in profits in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. The losses of the roads in October alone, reports for which are just issued, according to the Financial Chronicle, of New York, aggregated $6,512,338.

Finger Blown Off.
Hugh Malloy, the well known hunter and proprietor of the Star Shoe House, had one of his fingers blown off today by the accidental discharge of his gun. He was on a hunting tour in the woods of Butler township at the time.

Gentlemen, for hats and caps go to A. Oswald. He has a nice variety.
