IN SESSION

Mine Workers Deliberating at Hazleton.

Labor Legislation the Sub-ject of Much Discussion. President Mitchell Refuses Gift of Home.

The first session of the convention of The first session of the convention of anthracite miners opened at Hazleton yesterday. Nearly 500 delegates re-sponded to President Mitchell's call for order in the Grand opera house at the opening session. The proceedings were public. Mr. Mitchell made a short speech. Among other things he said: "I cannot but feel gratified over the magnificent attendance of miners at this convention. When I first came to the anthrecite projent to assist you in

When I first came to the authractic region to assist you in your struggle for better wages and con-ditions you were not strong at all, the total membership of this district along either an enthusiastic reception by the not amounting to more than there ard delegates here today. Now hardly a miner is not a member of our union. "At this time I do not deem it prudent to tell you what I think the convention should do, but it is my belief that the operators should not hesitate to meet with us in joint conference. Last fall when I went to New York to interview a gentleman at the head of one of the great railways I was told that the Mine Workers did not represent the miner. Now we do, and it seems that we should a gentleman at the head of one of the great railways I was told that the Miners. Now we do, and it seems that we should be fairly treated and that a conference should take place. The same friendly feeling should prevail in the anthractie fields as in the bituminous regions, where the operators and their men meet every year and agree on the next year's wage scale." Almost immediately thereafter a sharp discussion of the mine inspectors' bills was inaugurated, and the debates, exween some of the labor leaders, espe-cially between T. D. Almost immediately thereafter a sharp discussion of the inne inspectors' bills was loakyurated, and the debates be-tween some of the labor leaders, espe-cially between T. D. Nicholls and Ben-jamin James, at times developed acri-minous personalities. Tresident Nicholls, of District No. 1, started the discussion of the measure by by the convention regarding the Garner and Ferrebee bills. He said that the ferrebee bill, while containing practi-cally the same provision as the Garner measure, vests in the governor the ap-pointment of the inspector, while the people. He asked that the union indors the latter. No action was taken, how-ever, although an hour or more was consumed in a discussion of the main features of both measures. There was differences of the question of reducing the inspectors salaries, a number of delegates led by T. D. Kicholls, who claimed that, as the miners of the three districts de-manded a reduction, he was willing to follow their instructions regardless of his personal opinion. MICHIELL DORSN'T WANT A HOME. cheer rent the air. TODA'S SESSION. The most important matter transpir-ing at today's ession was the reading of a letter from President Olyphant, of the D. L. & W. Railroad, to President Mit-chell, in which the former declines to attend the joint conference, giving as his reasons that any agreement made by the men and operators would not be binding npon either side and that such conferences would disturb the coal markets. The official call for the joint confer-ence was read this morning by President Mitchell. He stated that he believed the operators should meet the men, but did not say what ought to be done if the operators fail to accept the invitation. A permanent organization was effect-ed by choosing President Mitchell to preside during the convention. John Galigher, of McAdoo, was elected as secretary. After the credentials of the degates had been accepted, the body wen into executive session. "Mother" Jones arrived at Hazleton has evening, and upon making her ap-parance on the stage today she was given an enthusiastic roception by the delegates. Special Council Meeting.

The most daring and annoy-ing theves are germs, parasites and microbes, which rob us of that which is of greater value than wealth. Medical science in its recent progression in bac-teriological research, has discovered how the human system is constantly robbed of organic vitality by parasites. The epidermis of the scalp is often attacked and people are thereby depived of a good head of hair. The parasite can be destroyed by the antiseptic ingredients in "Luxura," and the growth of hair re-vived by the Invigorating properties of "Luxura." "A Runaway Wife" will be the open-ing play of the Irving French Company, Mr. French has a part in this piece which gives his well known ability a splendid scope, and it would not be like him if he did not take advantage to the fullest degree of such an opportunity. Irving French is a name which in recent years has become associated in the minds of the theatre-going public as an ideal comedian. This popular comedian has, after a number of years, won for him-self not only the warmest praise of the critics, but also the sincere admiration critics, but also the sincere admirat of all those that have had the pleasur of seeing him in "A Runaway Wife." Mr. French's support this season is som of the very best artists that are playing at the popular 10, 20 and 30 cent scale of prices.
