SCARED OFF A BURGLAR

Unsuccessful Attempt Made to Enter a Home.

B. F. Shelhamer Awakened at 2 O'clock This Morning by a Man at His Door--He Failed to Get In.

An unsuccessful attempt was made by a burglar at 2 o'clock this morning to enter the residence of B. F. Shelhamer on East Main street.

At the hour named Mr. Shelhamer was awakened by a noise at his door. He listened for a while, and, after satisfying himself that some one was endeavoring to enter the building by means of a key, he arose and aroused his driver.

Mr. Shelhamer procured his gun, loaded the weapon, and the two descended the stairs to meet the intruder. They carried a lighted lamp, and as soon as its rays shone through the window they heard a man hastily taking his departure from the door.

By the time they reached the sidewalk the man had got as far as the corner on Washington street, at which point he turned southward and was soon lost to view.

A Pugilist Asphyxiated.

Moses Cohen, a feather-weight pugilist who fought under the name of Joe Harris, was found dead in bed at his home in Wilkesbarre yesterday afternoon, having been suffocated by gas. It is not known whether it was suicide or accident. He was all alone at home, the family being away. He was found half undressed on his bed with the windows and door shut, but not locked.

Two bottles of carbolic acid were found on the table, but neither had been touched. The gas was turned on full force. He was dead when found last evening. He has had no troubles that the family knows of and was in good health. He was recently defeated by Jack Kinnan, of Pittston, and this preyed on his mind. He had been fighting for the last six years and met some good men. He was 23 years old.

"I have been suffering from dyspepsia for the past twenty years and have been unable after trying all preparations and physicians to get any relief. After taking one bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure I found relief and am now in better health than I have been for twenty years. I can not praise Kodol Dyspepsia Cure too highly." Thus writes Mrs. C. W. Roberts, North Creek, Ark. Grover's City Drug Store.

Via the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Five-day tickets will be sold on Tuesdays and Saturdays, May 1 to October 31, from Freeland at the rate of $7 for the round trip. Tickets good only in day coaches.

Ten-day tickets will be sold from Freeland every day, May 1 to October 31, good on any train, except the Black Diamond express, at the rate of $10 for the round trip.

If people only know what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach, or water brash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which, with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. Grover's City Drug Store.

JAMES G. HARVEY, of Hazleton.

and as a result the men refused to repair the cars sent from the D. L. & W. car shops at Scranton, where the employees are on a strike. The Berwick company then sent the cars down to the shops of the Bloomsburg Car Company to be repaired. The work is under way at Bloomsburg, but the agents of the strikers have been at work during the past week or so trying to organize the employees of the Bloomsburg shops and thus prevent the repairing of the cars.

So far the Bloomsburg men have refused to listen to the labor emissaries. The company officials claim they fear that the shops will be destroyed by fire or otherwise, and last week they secured permission from the burgess to swear in a lot of their employees as special policemen. The shops of the company are now carefully guarded night and day.

UPPER LEHIGH.

Annie Brogan, aged 1 year and 10 months, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brogan, died on Saturday after a lingering illness. The funeral took place today at 2 o'clock, with interment at St. Ann's cemetery.

A slight change for the better is noted in the condition of Mrs. David R. Davis, who has been lying seriously ill. The family was called to her bedside last week.

A new slope is being sunk above the breaker in the vicinity of the "Y." A new engine is being placed in position. The slope will be known as No. 10.

David J. Davis and wife, of Catawago, are visiting the former's mother, who is ill.

The long delayed steam shovel ordered by the company for No. 3 arrived Saturday. It will be placed in position this week.

William Williams has removed to town from West Walnut street, Freeland.

Not Allowed to Play.

Five carloads of excursionists from Pittston and other upper end towns came to Freeland yesterday morning to witness a game of ball to be played between the clubs of Pittston and Edwardsville. When the time arrived to prepare for the game it was discovered that several members of both clubs were intoxicated and were without uniforms, bats, balls or other equipment.

Under the circumstances, the directors of the Tigers park refused to permit the grounds to be used by the visitors, as the men were not in condition to give such an exhibition as would warrant the charging of an admission fee.

The action of the Tigers naturally caused the upper end ball players some disappointment, but the local people had no other choice in the matter. When the park was leased a guarantee was given the late Eckley B. Cox that only respectable sport would be indulged in, and drunkenness and gambling will not be tolerated on the grounds.

Roads Must Be Cleared.

A jury at Wilkesbarre on Saturday decided that township supervisors must keep roads clear of snow as of any other obstruction. The case was that of Charles Wright and Mary Wright against Lehman township. They were thrown from a sleigh in the winter of 1895. The sleigh was upset by running into a snow drift on the road, and Mrs. Wright was so badly injured that she has been an invalid ever since. The jury gave Charles Wright, the husband, $118 as a recompense for the loss of his wife's services, and Mrs. Wright was given $1,000.

Bonner and Quinn Matched.

From Today's Philadelphia Press. Jack Bonner and "Scaldy Bill" Quinn have been matched to box fifteen rounds at Freeland on June 17. The men will meet before the new Sterling Athletic Club and an interesting contest should be the result. Bonner and Quinn are old rivals, having met on several occasions in the past. As novices they fought a number of hard battles in the coal regions and in every case hard fights resulted. Both men are now in training, Bonner in this city and Quinn at Ben Forrester's, in Merchantville.

June Weddings.

The bans of marriage were announced at St. Ann's church yesterday between John C. Boyle, of South Centre street, and Miss Bridget McLaughlin, of Adams street.

Insurance Agent John Boner and Miss Sarah F. Gallagher, of South Washington street, will be married next month.

Mr. W. J. Baxter of North Brook, N. C. says he suffered with piles for fifteen years. He tried many remedies with no result until he used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and that quickly cured him. Grover's City drug store.

MITCHELL'S TRIBUTE.

President of the United Mine Workers on Rev. E. S. Phillips.

The Indianapolis News has the following interview with President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers: "Father Phillips, as I knew him, was one of the most earnest advocates for what he believed to be right that I have ever known. He always tried to be on the miners' side of a question, but did not always see the miners' side as I saw it. He rendered the miners invaluable assistance during the great strike and afterward, up to the time of his disappearance.

"During the strike when he became convinced that my policy in prosecuting the strike was the best one, he publicly declared his adherence to the cause and gave his unqualified indorsement, taking the most active interest in carrying forward the work.

"He was a man of medium height, compactly made, athletic, very quick in his movements. He had a kindly and gentle face, a Christian face, a face that without a ministerial garb would indicate that he was a clergyman. His complexion was fair. He had considerable color in his cheeks and very large dark eyes. I never saw a man of clearer eyes. As a speaker I have cause to have it indelibly imprinted on my memory that he was a man of unusual power; this because of an incident that occurred during the crucial period of the strike.

"The Markle Company had proposed what, in my judgment, was a fake arbitration with its men. I had advised the men not to accept it. A mass meeting of Markle's employees, about 4,000 in number, was called. The meeting was held, the men being addressed from the porch of a school house. I spoke to the men, advising the course I believed best for them to pursue. Mr. Markle then spoke, presenting his side of the question, with some effect. He then called on Father Phillips to fortify the statements that he had made. Father Phillips, believing the interests of the men would be best served by accepting the Markle proposition to arbitrate, made a most eloquent appeal.

"He swayed that great audience wonderfully. He turned them all his way by his eloquence, the magic of his voice, his well chosen words and the plausible argument he advanced. They all seemed as he ended his speech to be with him. I followed him and presented the miners' side of the case.

"The next day Father Phillips came to me. He had thought the matter over, and came to my view of the case. He invited me to go with him to Archbishop Ryan at Philadelphia and ask the archbishop to act as arbitrator for the 140,000 idle men in the entire anthracite coal strike. My position was that arbitration should be resorted to, but that arbitration should embrace all the companies and all the men producing coal in the anthracite field. In presenting the miners' side to the archbishop, Father Phillips supported my arguments, and ever after we have been warm, personal friends."
