Labor Day in Freeland.

The committee appointed by the Cen-tral Labor Union of town to make arrangements for the celebration of arrangements for the celebration of Labor Day is already at work. The members propose to make the day one which will stand as a red-letter day in "Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that committees from the striking firemen be appointed to wait on the coal companies and other em-ployers tomorrow and ascertain whether they will consent to reinstate the men the history of organized labor in the coal fields. Invitations to participate in the demonstration here are on the way who left their employ last Tuesday. These committees will report to a joint committee of United Mine Workers and the officials of the stationary firemen at to each of the fifty-one local unions of the United Mine Workers of District No. 7, and assurances of attendance have been received from several of the Fireworks Last Evening.

The congregation of the Italian Cath lic church last evening celebrated the Feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel with services at the church, music and fire-works. At 7 o'clock the Citizens' band paraded the streets and upon arriving at the church rendered several sele ons. Services by Rev. Longo followed nd the church was unable to accom-odate all who wished to enter.

The principal event of the evening was the fireworks, and no more beauti-ful display was ever witnessed in town. The vacant squares opposite the church were chosen for the purpose, thus avoiding all danger of setting fire to build-ings. A dozen set pieces had been erocted, and with bombs, rockets and the like, the large area, where upwards of 2,000 people had gathered, was hand-somely illuminated for three-quarters of an hoar
