OPERATORS ARE UNFAIR

Violation of Agreement Is Charged by Mitchell.

President of Miners' Union Intimates That Steps Will Be Taken to Secure Redress.

President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, spent several hours yesterday in Pottsville, on his way to Tremont, where a demonstration in his honor is being held today.

He said in an interview that the operators have not treated the men fairly. They have discharged members of committees, he said, and have in a number of other instances violated the agreement which the Mine Workers made with them to hold good until next April.

He intimated that the Mine Workers already have abundant excuse to break away from the agreement. He also intimated that steps would be taken at the Hazleton convention to compel the operators to accord the Mine Workers their rights under the agreement made last April.

President Mitchell says that the union now has a total membership of 285,000 or 75 per cent of the mine workers in the United States.

Building Improvements.

Improvements are still being made to the Fourth ward fire department building. The structure has been raised and a substantial cement floor placed for the engine and hose cart. The entire lower floor will now be cemented. A fire hydrant has been placed near the building, and when the company receives a few more hundred feet of hose it will be prepared to meet any emergency in the ward.

The work of remodeling the alley court at William Gallagher's hotel, South Ridge street, is completed and is pronounced No. 1 by the followers of that sport.

Extensive improvements are being made at the reservoir of the Freeland Water Company on West Walnut street. Work on the improvements to the Washington street school building are rapidly nearing completion.

Contractor Lentz is pushing the work on the double dwelling of Alex Mulhearn in the Fifth ward.

The owners of the South Washington street lots recently placed on the market are making preparations to erect works.

Work has been commenced on the foundation of the Mining and Mechanical Institute building.

Patrick J. Gallagher is preparing to erect a double dwelling, 2334 feet, on South Washington street.

Contractor Griffith has completed a dwelling on South Washington street for a Polish family.

The foundation for the dwelling to be erected by Archie Carpenter, on the Hill, is completed.

The double dwelling erected by Joseph Gresko on Fern street is completed and occupied.

The condensers at the brewery have been encased with a frame building to protect them from the weather.

Carpenters are at work repairing the various public school buildings in the borough.

Wassil Shigo has a building on Fern street completed.

Houses to rent are in demand and collectors and others are besieged with inquiries as to where they can be had.

Courtship Lasted a Day.

Daniel W. Harden, a well-to-do farmer of Hazleton, Union county, courted Miss Lillie M. Gross, of Shickshinny, for twenty-four hours after she had answered his advertisement for a wife. Then they were married at the Shickshinny church, just after the regular services and before the entire congregation. Harden is 40 years old, while his bride is but 18.

Recently Harden advertised for a life mate, asking only that she "be of a lovable disposition." Wednesday of last week Miss Gross saw the notice and at once answered it. The return mail brought Harden's proposal and a photo, and on Saturday he visited her home. Just twenty-four hours later the couple walked from the church man and wife.

The Theatrical Season.

The local theatrical season will open on the evening of September 2 with "Quo Vadis," one of last year's hits, as the attraction. Manager McMenamin has a large number of good shows booked, and patrons will have no cause to complain about the lack or the quality of the attractions furnished during the coming season.

In addition to several repertoire companies, some of which will remain a week and others three nights, the majority of the past two seasons' local favorites will return, besides several new plays, including "Pennsylvania," "The Secret Warrant," "At the Old Cross-Roads," "Tennessee's Partner," "Power Behind the Throne," "Way Down East," "Uncle Terry," etc.

Labor's Great Holiday.

The demonstration committee of the Central Labor Union of Freeland and Vicinity is busily engaged in perfecting plans for the great celebration to be held here in honor of Labor Day on September 2. Without exception the responses to the invitations sent out to the labor organizations of the region are favorable, and the committee is now making arrangements to provide for the immense body of organized workmen who will be here.

It is among the possibilities that President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, will be one of the orators, but if he should be unable to come his place will be filled by others who stand high in labor's ranks.

At the picnic to be held at the Public park during the afternoon games and sports of all kinds will be conducted.

Hide in the Cellar.

Yesterday when a committee representing the miners employed by Cox & Iros, & Co. called at Drifton to discuss certain grievances which are alleged to exist, they were notified that Superintendent L. C. Smith was out of town. Later a conference was secured with John Rohlands, who promised to place the questions in dispute before the company.

The amusing part of the affair is that Smith was seen skulking about the premises during the committee's visit, and when the men evinced no intention of going away without a conference the superintendent took refuge in the cellar and hid himself there until the miners departed.

Mountain Park Excursion.

Tickets for the White Haven Relief Association excursion to Mountain Park next Saturday will be sold at all stations on the Central Railroad of New Jersey between Upper Lehigh and Soloman's Gap. Tickets can also be procured on the trains. The fare from Upper Lehigh and Sandy Run is: Adults, 90 cents; children, 60 cents. Trains leave both towns at 6.50 a. m.

St. Ann's band will furnish the dance music at the park, and the caterer will be M. J. Kelley, of Scranton.

The association proposes to make this year's excursion one of the largest and most successful ever conducted to Mountain Park.

Arrested and Discharged.

An attempt was made on Monday night by unknown parties to enter the home of William Ward, on the Hill. Mrs. Ward heard the men trying to effect an entrance at the front door and her screams frightened them off. Last evening Officer Welsh arrested a man who was acting suspiciously in the vicinity of the Ward home.

At a hearing this afternoon before Burgess Boyle the prisoner was discharged, there being no evidence to connect him with the alleged attempted burglary.

A Costly Trout.

Charles Brehm, of Ebervale, was before Squire Shovlin last evening to answer for an alleged violation of the new game law. It was asserted that he caught a trout out of season in Nescopeck creek last week and failed to return the fish to the water, as required by law.

After the hearing the squire found him guilty and fined him $10 and costs. Failing to pay, the man was ordered sent to the county jail.

Heroine of a Song Dead.

Two years ago, when the Ninth United States infantry was ordered to the Orient, Mrs. Kelley gained fame that was made the subject of a song. Her son Michael was a member of the regiment and she wanted to see him before he left home.

Learning the regimental train would pass over the Lehigh Valley road and would stop at Coxton, she persuaded an engineer to take her there on his locomotive. She kissed her son good-by, and a song writer wrote the ballad, "A Hero's Mother," basing it on the incident.
