GAME LAWS TO BE ENFORCED

Local Hunters Decide Upon Stringent Measures.

Game Protective Club Is After Violators in Earnest This Season--Special Officers to Patrol the Woods

cers to Patrol the Woods.

The Freeland Game and Fish Protective Association held a meeting in the Municipal building last evening. Nearly every member of the club was present, and the question of effectually preventing violations of the game laws and suppressing this growing evil was the main subject discussed.

The club finally decided to put an end to violations of the game laws by prosecuting every offender. Particular attention will be paid by certain members of the club to Sunday hunting and shooting, while others will confine their attention to the sections of the laws reliating to the protection of the flicker, robin and all other song or insectivorous birds.

lating to the protection of the flicker, robin and all other song or insectivorous birds.

In addition to those who will give certain sections of the laws their especial attention, President Malloy was authorized to appoint special police or watchmen, whose duty it shall be to traverse regularly the territory assigned them. The secretary was ordered to make immediate application to the State Game Commission for police powers for the special watchmen, so that they can arrest offenders without a warrant. Following are the names and districts of the special police:

Mt. Yeager—William Seiwell, Thomas Davis, Neice Malloy.
Butler Valley—John Bosczowski, Bernard Malloy, P. L. Gallagher.

Bradersville and Oley Valley—Frank Malloy, Thomas Roberts, Lewis Young, Laurytown and Scale Siding—Patrick Prenk Power Patrick Power

Laurytown and Scale Siding—Patrick McNells, Frank Dever, Patrick Dever. White Haven and Kidder Township— Hugh Malloy, Sr., George Seiwell, E. J.

Hazle Township—E. A. Oberrender.

Hazle Township—E. A. Oberrender.

Several of the above officers began work this morning in the woods, and as soon as their commissions as deputy game wardens arrive from Harrisburg violations of the law must cease or else prosecution of the offenders to the full extent of the law will follow.

SUMMARY OF GAME LAWS.

SUMMARY OF GAME LAWS

Inasmuch as the club is determine enforce the laws this season, to enforce as use clib is determined to enforce the laws this season, the Tribune below gives a summary of the game laws of the state and those of our readers who indulge in hunting will do well to acquaint themselves with its provisions and therefore avoid the trouble which may result from even trivial and customary violations. Secretary Kalbfus, of the State Game Commission, says: Game wardens throughout the state have been instructed to be vigilant and keep a sharp lookout for violators of the law. Fines imposed include the costs, or if they are not point.

Speaking of "A Secret Warrant," which appeared at Hazleton Monday evening, the Standard said yesterday:
"The Secret Warrant' is one of the most brilliant romantic dramas that has been presented here in a long time.
The company is a select one, and while the audience was small, not one left the house but what was pleased. The company appears at Freeland on Thursday night and the best we can say to the lovers of the drama on the North Side is that if they fail to see this production they will miss one of the best things of the season."

By the act of July 9, 1901, the act of trapping or hunting upon "posted cultivated land" is made wilful trespass; penalty $5 with costs. Upon failure to pay, the offender may be imprisoned not to exceed three months. All shooting paraphernalia, including guns, etc., is forfeited to the state unless penalty and costs are paid.

The purchase or sale of pheasants, quali, woodcock, wild turkey and deer is prohibited. Penalty $25. The shipment or carrying out of the state of its game birds or game mammals is prohibited. Penalty not less than $50 or more than $100.

Ducks, geese, brant, swan and snipe can be killed from September 1 to May 1.

The game act of June, 1878, provides a "that nothing in this act will prevent any person from killing any wild animal or bird when found destroying grain, fruit or vegetables on his or her premises." This section has not been repealed. By act of April, 1901, "owners to ressees of real estate are permitted to kill rabbits at all times of the year, where said rabbits are destroying crops or fruit trees," and for no other purpose or reason.
