SANITARIUM A SUCCESS

Sketch of America's First Consumptive Hospital.

Seventeen Patients in the Unique Institution Near White Haven Are Rapidly Regaining Their Health.

"High in a spur of the Blue Ridge mountains at White Haven, Pa., is a colony of consumptives," says the New York Journal. "Living in the open air and furnished with nutritive food, seventeen patients of the Free Hospital for Poor Consumptives are recovering health and strength.

"The sanitarium is an old and tumble-down barn. The wind whistles through the cracks and sweeps over the beds of invalids, who have no protection save that they are warmly wrapped. The stronger ones spend their days out of doors. They take their meals in an adjacent cottage whose windows cannot be closed. Yet all improved from the time of their admission. The sponsors and supporters of the enterprise say they will be cured.

"This mode of treatment represents the modern idea of the rational cure of tuberculosis. Pure blood, it is said, is a natural germicide and the most effective one. Given, then, a system ridden with bacilli, the disease is combated by the creation of a rich circulation. An abnormal supply of food, high in nutrition, is administered, accompanied by proper tonics to meet the effects of the unusual work upon the digestive organs. Fresh, unbreathed air, which oxidizes the circulation, is nature's important contribution to the process of healing.

"At present the sanitarium has possible accommodations for fifty patients. Steps have been taken looking toward the erection of a hospital which will have a capacity of 200.

"The White Haven Sanitarium has an ideal location on a plateau on the side of a bluff at the southern end of the Pocono mountains. The knoll rises abruptly to a height of 300 feet above the town. From it a magnificent panorama, with the Lehigh river in the foreground, is beheld. The site is 1,400 feet above sea level. A feature which is considered to be of the most importance is the soil. This is soft, red shale, so porous that dampness is reduced to the minimum. The altitude is such that no smoke or dust reaches the patients. The peak of the mountain affords protection from north winds.

"The colony is conducted by a discipline that is military in its strictness. The patients arise at 7 and retire at 9. They are not allowed to leave the estate. Exercise is assigned to them and such work as their condition will warrant. Expectoration is forbidden and violation of this rule is punished by instant expulsion.

"Practically six meals are eaten in a day. Each man is required to dispose of not less than three quarts of milk and six raw eggs. Many of them consume four quarts of milk and ten to a dozen eggs. At 7.30 o'clock the patients eat a breakfast of cereals, raw eggs, milk and coffee. At 10 there is a lunch of milk and eggs. At 12.30 a bountiful dinner is served, consisting of soup meats or fowl, three vegetables, salad and a dessert of milk pudding. Milk and eggs are served again at 4 o'clock and at 6 a supper of cold meats, potatoes, fruits and milk. The last meal, at 8 o'clock, is of eggs and milk. Eggs are never cooked.

"The effects of this tremendous consumption of food are seen in the changes wrought in the patients. In August there was an average gain of twelve and one-quarter pounds per man. The record case for the month was nineteen and one-half pounds. Several patients have gained six and one-half pounds a week.

"Since the sanitarium was opened, on August 5, some of the men have made remarkable improvement. Two were so nearly cured that they left the place to return to work. All of the work about the hospital is done by the patients, so that it is practically self-supporting.

"The patients to a man are contented and cheerful. They are ready, even eager, to perform all tasks that are asked of them.

"The legislature of Pennsylvania has voted funds to enlarge the sanitarium, which is free and supported by a society in Philadelphia.

School Building Accepted.

At a meeting of the borough school board on Monday evening, with all members present except Directors Kline and Timony, the school building on South Washington street was accepted from Contractor Griffith and school was ordered to begin there the following day. The president and secretary were authorized to place insurance on the new building and furniture, the amount not to exceed $10,000.

An order for $10 for each teacher was ordered drawn to pay their expenses at Wilkesbarre while attending county institute.

The secretary reported that the order for interest on the bonds held by Mrs. Peter Timony was refused, unless the board agrees to pay interest on the interest since the latter became due. No action was taken in the matter.

THEATRICAL.

James R. Waite appeared before his Harrisburg friends at the opera house last evening in a new line, playing the title role in an interesting new play adapted from the popular book "Uncle Terry," by Charles Clark Munn, and dramatized by William Gill. Those who witnessed the production saw a play equal to any of the successful plays written from story life in the New England States. "Uncle Terry" is a sermon play which carries with it a lesson. Numerous scenic effects make the play more realistic and no detail was lacking in this respect.

The story of last night's play is laid alone the coast of Maine and starts with a storm at sea during a blinding snow followed by the wrecking of a vessel and the casting upon the shore of a bundle which contained a little waif, a girl, who later blossoms into a handsome young woman, and before her real identity is known and her fortune restored to her many opportunities are afforded for the introduction of a number of typical New England characters. Mr. Waite as "Uncle Terry" was a great success, and his rendition of the role was just what the author of the story intended it to be. His support was of a high standard.

During the play old time hymns and songs are introduced, which add to the play and make it more sermon like.—Harrisburg Telegraph, September 28, 1901.

"A Hindoo Hoodoo," which will be presented by George W. Larsen and his company on Tuesday will be a strictly high-class performance and one that will prove most satisfying to local theatregoers. The play has been a laughing success in the larger cities. To lovers of genuine hearty and wholly pure fun it offers a most refreshing entertainment.

"Madeline of Fort Reno" last evening pleased those who like plays of frontier life. The company is a good one and gave a satisfactory performance.

Meeting of Council.

The borough council met Monday evening with all members present, except Reifsnnyder. The following bills were ordered paid: H. C. Koons, carpets, $28.21; Tribune, publishing and printing ordinances, $175.15; James McLaughlin, testing fire alarm, $10; M. M. O'Boyle, supplies, $10.55; J. J. Ward, health officer, $40; Dr. I. M. Portzer, secretary board of health, $29; Hazleton Machinery and Supply Co., cement, $11.75; Henry Reinsmith, labor, $5.75; Electric Light Co., street lights, $273.33; City Lumber Yard, lumber, $2.10; J. J. McBrearty, half-year's salary, $63.35; George Fisher, teaming, $4.

Bills of H. Fisher & Co., $1.47; Electric Light Co., $21.68, and Freeland Water Co., $10, were referred to committees. Communications from the Lehigh Traction Company, Anthracite Telephone Company and Electric Light Company in relation to the pole tax ordinance were read and referred to proper committees.

The street commissioner's report showed $138.56 for work on streets.

The chief of police report and bills of officers were approved for $155.90.

Janitor O'Donnell, for feeding prisoners and salary, was ordered paid $34.80.

The burgess' report showed receipts $46.30; $30 due borough and $16.30 due burgess.

The building committee reported having renewed insurance for $10,000 on the Municipal building for three years at a cost of $150, a saving of $30 for the period. Approved.

The business of council not having been completed, another meeting will be held Saturday evening.

Smallpox in Plymouth.

Two more cases of smallpox have been discovered in Plymouth, the victims being Benjamin Walton and his little daughter. The former has given the local authorities a great deal of trouble, he refusing to go to the detention house adjoining the emergency hospital when it was discovered that his stepson, Van Loon, has contracted the disease upward of two weeks ago. His refusal on that occasion was the cause of more or less expense to the borough because it had to provide a watchman to prevent his going out and mingling with the people.

The authorities, as soon as it was discovered that Walton were his daughter, were afflicted with the complaint, hustled them to the emergency hospital despite their protests and the health officers thoroughly fumigated the premises where they resided. There are at present eight persons in the house of detention and three cases of smallpox and one of varioloid in the hospital.

Notice to Milk Buyers. Notice is hereby given that on and after Monday, October 14, 1901, the price of milk sold by the milk dealers of Freeland and vicinity will be 8 cents per quart when purchased in quantities of less than four quarts per day; purchasers of four or more quarts per day will be sold at the rate of 6 cents per quart. Above prices are to continue in force until May 1, 1901.

This slight increase in the price of milk is made necessary by the increase in the cost of hay, feed, etc., during the fall and winter months. Patrons are requested to bear in mind the fact that milk costs considerably more to produce during the above months and that the small advance made barely covers our increased expenses. Believing that our patrons will concede us the right to ask a reasonable profit in the conduct of our business, and requesting your further patronage, we remain,

Respectfully yours,
Milk Dealers of Freeland and Vicinity.
