MISSION OF TRUE DEMOCRACY.

For a full quarter of a century, the Democratic party in Pennsylvania has been battling with the vicious and corrupt forces that have at times so deeply disgraced the majority party that the conscience of Republican voters has rebelled. Every reform victory won in Philadelphia, Pittsburg or any part of the state, has been chiefly the work of patriotic Democratic voters, who have courageously performed their duty at the polls. Twice an honest and fearless executive was elected and in the face of the most discouraging obstacles a substantial working force has served the people most effectively. The true spirit of Democracy is always hostile to the elements represented by Quaysim in any form.

So in the present campaign for the rescue of the state treasury from the control of the ring and the protection of the court of last resort from demoralizing machine contamination, the Democratic citizenship of the commonwealth must be looked to for six-sevenths of the voters necessary to secure the success of the fusion movement. That the rank and file of the party will be fully equal to the occasion there can be no manner of doubt. They recognize the supreme fact that in such a contest mere partisanship must be secondary; that the first duty is to the state. Thus they are ready to join hands with the foes of machine misrule at every point. Their purpose is to overthrow the enemies of honest government and to that end their votes will be cast next Tuesday in solid array. A victory for fusion will be the triumph of pure democracy, for this combined effort is in behalf of the principles for which honest Democrats have always valiantly contended.

That success can be won is clear enough, if patriotic men fully realize their opportunity and their duty. There are 500,000 Democrats in Pennsylvania today and they have never had a better chance to express their convictions. A vote for Yerkes and Coray means the condemnation of the worst ring that ever cursed any state; an effective protest against every form of political and official debasement. These reform candidates stand for the practical exemplification of bedrock American principles. They meet the Jeffersonian requirements. They are clean, able, experienced, honest and courageous. It is the mission of true Democracy to support such candidates at all times. Let every Democratic voter, therefore, go to the polls and help to strike down the long entrenched ring of public pirates that have misruled and plundered the commonwealth.

The Democrats of Luzerne county have seldom placed before their fellow-citizens a ticket which should meet with more support than this year. The names of Lynch, Jacobs, McLean, Barrett, Berge and Allegar stand for all that is upright and honest, and to the present day their opponents have not been able to openly say one word against their characters and reputations. Individually and collectively the Democratic candidates are a credit to their party, and Luzerne county citizens will do themselves credit by electing them to office next Tuesday.

Independent Republicans who vote for Coray and Yerkes will aid in dealing the state octopus a telling blow, but they must remember that the state machine derives its strength from the local machines throughout the state, and the Luzerne branch is one of Quay's most ardent supporters. To deal a death-blow, vote against the Republican county ticket as well as the state candidates.

Republicans in Luzerne who have county-office aspirations must wait until the present gang dies or is driven out of politics. This is going to be a house-cleaning year in the state, why not make it the same in Luzerne? The party is not pledged to give a few Republicans all the offices all the time.

THE WAY TO SECURE HONEST ELECTIONS

Every Citizen Should Vote For the Constitutional Amendments.

The proposed amendment to the constitution in the interest of personal registration is one of the most important matters that will come before the people at the November election. While the general interest revolves around the election of the state and county officers, the fact should not be lost sight of that the registration amendment is a direct stride in the direction of reform in the methods of conducting the elections in Pennsylvania. The defeat of the amendment at the coming election will prevent its reintroduction in the legislature within a period of five years.

The registration amendment has been endorsed by the new Union party, the Democratic organization and the independent element generally. At the same time many individual leaders of the Republican party have expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the amendment.

The proposed amendment discriminates between the cities and the country, enabling the legislature, in providing for personal registration, to confine it to the larger cities of the commonwealth.

This discrimination between the cities and the rural district is in recognition of the fact that to compel personal registration in the country would entail only hardship and needless expense, without bringing about any good result. Personal registration in Philadelphia and the larger cities of the state means the practical elimination of the fraud which has become notorious in connection with the elections.

SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?

How the Quay Ring Violates the Law in Philadelphia.

In a recent speech at an enthusiastic Democratic meeting in Philadelphia, ex-Governor Pattison said:

"The old adage that 'in union there is strength' was never truer than it is in this canvass. The same uniformity of purpose that was necessary in the early '60's for the preservation of the nation is essential today to preserve the integrity of our city. I do not recall a campaign in 30 years in which the citizens of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania presented such a united front against a debauched and disgraceful rule as they do today.

"The men who are in power today have an absolute disregard for the constitution, upon which all legislation is based. Instead of a government of the people, for the people and by the people, the condition that we have today is a government of officeholders, for officeholders and by officeholders.

"Consider one part of it alone—the ballot laws. That no policeman, no fireman, no city officials shall interfere in elections or try in any way to control or influence the people's votes. And what have we today? As I learned in a recent tour of the wards, the city is absolutely under the power of these men. At every polling place you will find 15 or 20 officeholders with clubs. The old-fashioned people would never have allowed that; they fought for their rights. How long are we going to allow it?

"And yet there are some of us who are indifferent to all this, who say 'my family first, then my state.' Fellow citizens, the first duty of every man is to his state—if it were not for his state he would have no family. We must throw off this yoke. I believe sincerely that we will be restored to our own election day."

The Democratic press of Pennsylvania never made a finer showing of genuine patriotism than during the present fight for the honor of the commonwealth. It is an aggressive unit for a successful movement against the combined public plunderers. Vote for Yerkes and Coray.

No right thinking American citizen can have any respect for a judge of any court who secretly gives away in advance its decisions. Such unprofessional and unjudicial conduct in a member of the highest tribunal in the state is to be condemned without mercy. Vote for Yerkes.

This is the year when the Democratic voters of Pennsylvania are coming out with their fighting clothes on. That means a great vote for Yerkes and Coray, two of the best candidates ever presented for the suffrages of the long suffering people of this state.

This is the year when a great non-partisan movement in Pennsylvania means the overthrow of Quaysim and all that it implies. This is why the machine is working secretly but desperately to keep its grip on the state treasury.

During the last session of the most corrupt legislature Pennsylvania ever knew, the machine forces united to serve themselves. Now it is the people's chance to stand together in their own interests. Vote for Yerkes and Coray.

In politics the honest citizen always finds out what the machine wants him to do, and then quietly vote the other way. Mark your ballot for the reform candidates, Yerkes and Coray.

S'SH SLEEP AT LAST

LAXAKOLA DOES IT

NO ONE BUT A MOTHER can appreciate the benefit that sound refreshment of sleep gives to an ailing, teething, feverish, colicky, fretful infant. Almost distracted by its constant crying, and worn out with weary, anxious care and watching, she tries everything possible to obtain even relief for the little sufferer.

With what comfort and delight she sees her little one drop off into a deep peaceful health-giving slumber, after its little clogged bowels are cleared of their poisonous burden by a single dose of Laxakola, the great tonic laxative and mother's remedy.

Laxakola is a pure, gentle and painless liquid laxative, and contains valuable tonic properties which not only act upon the bowels, but tone up the entire system and purify the blood. A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies, which will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhoea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as it neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the cause of the fermentation. LAXAKOLA will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature, and induce sleep. For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz., laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At drugists, 25¢ and 50¢; or send for free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., 139 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 376 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

How Good Manners Saved Him.

This anecdote proves the profitable character of good manners and was told to me by a descendant of the gentleman who owned them: Mr. M. of — was a rebel in 1745. He was taken and was being brought to the tower with Kilmarnock and Balmerino. A block stopped the sad cortege, and a lady, looking from a window, cried, "You tall rebel!" (Mr. M. was 6 feet 4 inches). "You will soon be shorter by a head!"

"Does that give you pleasure, madam?" said Mr. M. "Yes, it does."

"Then, madam," said Mr. M., taking off his hat and making a low bow, "I do not die in vain."

Lady — was moved. She made interest for Mr. M. There came a paper in the hand of George II. to this effect: "Let Lady — [the name is obliterated] have access to her tall rebel and be hanged to her."

The royal clemency was extended to Mr. M. I saw his pardon, beautifully engrossed within a decorative border and framed, on the wall of his descendant's study. It is fair to add that practically the whole county of Ross and also the Earl of Sutherland petitioned for the life of the courteous Mr. M.—Andrew Lang in Longmans'.

How to Grow Short.

If you climb a mountain, your height decreases by three-quarters of an inch, and it may even diminish, exceptionally, by a full inch.

This is a fact known to all experienced mountain and Alpine climbers. On reaching the summit of the heights that form the pleasure ascents of holiday makers in the Alpine districts the stature of the climber is found to have become less to the extent already mentioned.

Doctors think that the attitude assumed of necessity in ascending is the cause of this diminution. Some persons believe that the pressure of the atmosphere produces this shrinking. In favor of the medical theory there is the other unquestionable fact that the decrease of stature is greater in those who carry a heavy pack during the climb.

When the Alpinist has descended to the ordinary level, his height begins to increase, but the normal length of the body is not attained until several hours after reaching the regular surface of the earth.

King of Virginia. Apropos of the British royal titles a reference to colonial possessions appeared in an English sovereign's designation so long ago as the reign of Queen Elizabeth. The poet Spenser dedicated his "Faerie Queene" to Elizabeth, and then he described her as "queen of England, France and Ireland and sovereignty of the Dominion of Virginia."

It may also be remembered that the Virginians refused to acknowledge Oliver Cromwell's protectorate until he sent a fleet to compel them to do so. Charles II., in return expression of the colonists' loyalty, had himself proclaimed in Virginia on his restoration as "king of Great Britain, Ireland and Virginia." The former statement has been made that Charles caused the arms of Virginia to be quartered with those of England, Ireland and Scotland. Certain it is that they appear so on English coins struck as late as 1773 by order of George III.—Liverpool Post.

English Fruit Culture. Fruit culture is often conducted on a large scale in little England as well as in great America. A manufacturer of jam and jelly has a thousand acres at Histon, near Cambridge, employing at times 800 hands. The factory is in the center of the fruit farm.

Captain Charley Barr.

Captain Charley Barr, the skipper of the champion yacht Columbia, is the exception to the old sailor's rule that "nothing but blue eyes ever makes a sailor." Captain Barr, who is dark unto swarthinness, has a pair of keen black eyes that have landed the Columbia to windward of her rivals about every time she tried to get that advantageous position. Recently, when asked how he managed to land his boat to windward with such surprising regularity, Captain Barr said:

"That's an easy trick. My jockeying begins long before the other boat is in sight. I get out first, I know from where the other fellow is going to come, and I know approximately the starting line. What more does any man want? I get to windward of where my opponent must appear, and after that, no matter to where I sail, that last dive for the line is in my mind, and I simply keep to windward. And any man that cannot keep to the windward with the Columbia needs to learn his business all over again."—New York Times.

Insanity Among Women.

Professor Immer of Berlin, a leading specialist in mental diseases, has been investigating the causes of insanity among women and has come to the conclusion that if women are admitted into competition with men the inevitable result will be a tremendous increase of insanity among women. He finds that the percentage of women teachers who become insane is almost double that of men teachers. Inquiries were also made about women employed as telegraphers, sales clerks and in the telephone service and, further more, with regard to women engaged in the Swiss watchmaking trade. These inquiries showed that in the occupations mentioned a far larger proportion of women than men succumb to mental disorder.

Tea and Coffee.

England and Russia are the two chief tea drinking countries of Europe, and the partiality of the Russians for tea is shown by the fact that, while the consumption of coffee in that empire is less than it was four years ago, the consumption of tea has tripled during that period. Germany and France are the chief coffee drinking countries of Europe, and in the United States, in which usually tea has been a more popular beverage in the country and coffee in the urban districts, the increasing popularity of the latter has been affecting adversely the importation of tea into the United States.

Tea drinking in the United States is certainly not on the increase, and coffee drinking certainly is.

Vegetable Butter.

Is the cow to be altogether eliminated from the dairy? The British consul general at Marseilles hears that "a new fatty substance for consumption in the United Kingdom, to take the place of butter, is being put on the British market. It is called vegetable and is nothing else than the oil extracted from coprahs (dried coconuts), refined and with all small and taste neutralized by a patented process. It becomes like sweet lard and is intended to compete with margarine on the breakfast table as a substitute for butter." A Liverpool firm, we are told, will this year help in an effort to popularize the stuff.—London Telegraph.

The Handshaking Peril.

"Shaking hands with the president," in the promiscuous manner in which it has long been permitted in this country is, to use a slang expression, "mere poppycock." It only furnishes the pretext for vainglorious future boasting by those who are permitted to participate in it. Of itself considered the practice is devoid of any sensible feature and answers no good purpose. It is an imposition upon the good nature and the personal dignity of the president. And now that it has been shown to be fraught with danger let it be abandoned once and for all.—Wilmington (Del.) Evening.
