UPHEAVAL IN OLD LUZERNE

Democrats Carry County by Large Majorities.

Every Candidate Given a Magnificent Vote in the Fourth District--Freeland and Foster Democratic.

Yesterday was one of the greatest days in the history of Luzerne Democracy. The entire county ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 956 to 4,372.

The result bore out the predictions made in these columns last Friday.

While the Democrats anticipated victory, none among them looked for such overwhelming majorities as the voters gave the ticket.

The total returns, as compiled at the county seat at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and furnished to the Tribune by the Wilkesbarre Leader and Hazleton Plain Speaker, are as follows:

COUNCIL MEETING.

The borough council met Monday evening with all members present except Messrs. Doggett, Rute and P. G. Gallagher.

The following bills were ordered paid: Matthias Schwabe, stone and hauling, $43.20; City Lumber Yard, lumber, $6.80; Electric Light Co., supplies, $21.63; Electric Light Co., street lighting, $546.50; John W. Davis, heating ashes, $4.25; R. C. Roth, repairs, $10.25; Asa Rute, electric work, $21.30; New York and Pennsylvania Brick Co., bricks, $90; Lehigh Valley Railroad, freight, $7.50; Tribune, license book, $2.75; Hugh Dennison, Jos. Ferry, John Gallagher, Francis Mooney, drying hose, $36; T. A. Buckley, coal, $10.50; Freeland Water Co., water rent, $12.25.

A communication from the chief of the fire department was accepted and the fire committee was ordered to purchase gun coats, lanterns and axes and to examine hose.

A petition from residents of Fern street praying for the extension of the sewer to that street was accepted and laid on the table.

A letter from the Lehigh Traction Company was read in which they reiterate that they had not been notified of the passage of the pole and car tax ordinance.

Ex-Secretary Buckley showed to the council by the minutes that they had been notified. Messrs. Moehan, Gallagher and McNeil showed to the council where Traction officials have been guilty of various feuds in the falsehood line on different occasions.

It having been shown that the ordinance had been referred to committee for amendment and pigeon-holed, it was decided that the committee and solicitor investigate the legality of the same and report Wednesday evening next.

The Freeland Overall Manufacturing Company was exonerated from paying a borough tax. The amount, $5.88, was ordered returned.

Squire Buckley appeared before council on behalf of a property-holder of the Hill and asked that a committee and the solicitor investigate the legality of the owner's rights to a lot that is now being used as a street. They will report at the next meeting.

The expenditures on streets last month was $128.21.

Burgess Boyle's report was accepted and showed $23.50 due borough and $12.40 due burgess.

The police report and bills for $136.45 were approved.

The janitor was ordered paid $32.25 salary and feeding prisoners.

The street committee reported brick for sidewalk secured and laid. That the white brick or flag was not satisfactory for sidewalk purposes and that to cement around Municipal building would cost about $400.

Councilman Kline took the floor and stated that he observed nothing in a street committee report in relation to "canal" that has been constructed on Johnson street. He accused the committee of being swayed by one man power who was using his position to make Democratic votes in a close ward.

He objected in strong terms to the procedure. The member present from the street committee stated that the canal was a public road and that former councilmen had experienced much trouble with it until a meeting of the property holders and council was held when a compromise had been effected whereby the street was to be 30 feet with a reservation of 6 feet for sidewalk on the north side.

Councilman McLaughlin advocated that the council should take a hand and clear up all streets where obstructions are at present as being the quickest way of settling the matter once and for all at the cost of an attorney's fee.

A motion that the street commissioner fill up ditch on Johnson street and remove obstructions on Pine street received the votes of Messrs. Gallagher, Moehan, McLaughlin, Kline and Moerschbacher. Messrs. Hincer, McNeil, Rolfnyder and Sweet voted no.

The street committee was ordered to have the alley between Walnut and Chestnut conform to grade.

The finance committee was ordered to effect a settlement with ex-Collector Kline.

District Institute.

The date of the district institute to be held by the teachers of Freeland, Foster, Jeddo, White Haven and Denison has been changed from November 30 to December 7. Two sessions will be held, from 10 to 11.45 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m.

The business to be transacted includes the election of permanent officers and the appointment of committees.

An interesting program is being prepared and among the numbers are Miss Catherine Longshore, of Hazleton, on "Physical Culture"; Prof. C. E. Edmunds, of Freeland, on "Pronunciation"; and Prof. Geo. P. Bible, of East Stroudsburg normal school, on "Literature."

There will also be selections by a mandolin club and addresses by Superintendent J. C. Taylor, of Lackawanna county, and Superintendent D. A. Harmon, of Hazleton.

Funeral Tomorrow.

The funeral of the late James Krommes, of Upper Lehigh, whose injuries from a fall from a fence while hunting last Friday resulted fatally at the Miners hospital on Monday afternoon, will take place from his home in Upper Lehigh tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Krommes was a son of George Krommes, of town, and besides his wife and four children is survived by several other relatives.

The interment will be made at Upper Lehigh cemetery.

"A Country Kid."

"A Country Kid," which will be presented by the Clark-Scoville Company at the Grand Monday night, is said to have seven specialties which are alone worth admission to see. The Winchesters will be seen in a fine musical act. Baby Carrie, a little child of seven years, sings songs and does a cake walk that stands alone. The Scovilles appear in a neat and refined society sketch which is always sure to please. George Mello, a monologist of wide repute, tells a few funny things in a funny manner.

How It Affected Him.

Henpecke--As a rule death seldom affects me, but there is one man whose sad taking off has filled my life with misery.

Wigwag--He must indeed have been a dear friend.

Henpecke--On the contrary, I never saw him. He was my wife's first husband.--Philadelphia Record.

Quite Speedy.

Elder Passinup--My boy writes home that your son Jack isn't getting along very fast at college.

Deacon Oldham--Don't you believe what your boy's telling you, elder. Jack's going through fast enough. He runs away ahead of his allowance every month.--Chicago Record-Herald.

Sufficient to the Day.

Deacon Medders--Yes, ho, ho, ha, ha! I got the best of Deacon Plunket in that horse trade yesterday.

Mrs. Medders--Well, Josiah, do you think that wuz Christianlike conduct?

Deacon Medders--Why, what's the matter? Yistidy wuzin' Sunday.--Philadelphia Press.

A Confident Commendation.

"I wonder who taught that parrot to swear," exclaimed the lady, in justifiable indignation.

"I don't know," answered the sailor who had the bird for sale, "but I can recommend him, ma'am, whoever he was, as a mighty proficient an' pains-takin' person."--Washington Star.

A Broad Hint.

"Papa has forbidden you to come to the house. He says you are a dangerous man."

"Dangerous! What can he mean?" "He says you are the kind of a man who will hang around a girl all her life and never marry her."--Life.

Shocking.

Cholly--What's your hand bandaged for, old chap?
