YESTERDAY'S DEATH LIST

Three Women of This Vicinity Called to Rest.

Mrs. Albert Shive and Mrs. E. P. Gallagher, of Town, and Miss Mame Breslin, of Jeddo—Other Deaths.

Miss Mary Breslin, a school teacher of Hazle township, died at her home in Jeddo yesterday morning after an illness of six weeks. The deceased was a daughter of Philip Breslin. She was engaged as teacher in Hazle township the past two years and was among the most efficient of the corps. Her death is mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Besides her parents she is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Jennie, Kate, Bid and Agnes, and John, Neal and Andrew, all residing in Jeddo.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 8.30 o'clock, followed by a requiem high mass at St. Ann's church. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery.

MRS. ALBERT SHIVE.

Mrs. Albert Shive died at 9 o'clock last evening at her home, corner of Ridge and South streets. For some time past she had suffered from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Shive was a resident of this vicinity for twenty years, seventeen of which she spent in Drifton and three in Freeland.

The deceased was aged 57 years, 1 month and 10 days. She is survived by her husband and the following sons and daughter: Alfred, William and Mrs. Christian Stoltz, of Freeland, and Elmer, of Perth Amboy, N. J.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon. Services will be conducted at the residence by Rev. J. B. Kerschner, of St. John's Reformed church. The remains will be interred at Freeland cemetery.

MRS. EDWARD P. GALLAGHER.

Mrs. Edward P. Gallagher, wife of ex-Burgess Gallagher, died yesterday morning at the family residence on North Ridge street. The deceased had been unwell for some time, but until recently her condition was not considered serious. Besides her husband she is survived by six small children. Mrs. Gallagher was aged 38 years.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made at St. Ann's cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM COLLITT.

Mrs. Ernest Drawhelm, of Upper Lehigh, is at Wilkesbarre, attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. William Collitt, who died yesterday. Mrs. Collitt was a resident of Upper Lehigh for several years and her friends here were surprised to hear of her death.

School Board Meeting.

Directors Bell, Buckley, Isaacs, Kelly, McCole, McGeehan and Purcell attended the March meeting of the borough school board Wednesday evening.

The following bills were ordered paid: E. B. Shelhamer, hauling coal, $14; Cox Bros. & Co., coal, $37; L. H. Lentz, repairs, $4.21; Press, envelopes, $2.10. Another bill from L. H. Lentz, laid over from a previous meeting, owing to a dispute in the number of hours charged for labor, failed of approval.

Principal Williams reported having collected $7.25 as tuition fees during the term.

Treasurer McCole reported a balance of $97.10 on hand on March 1.

Tax Collector Malloy presented a statement which showed over $1,600 in taxes due the district. He estimated that about $1,000 of this amount could be collected and notified the board that $500 awaits the treasurer's call.

The radiation in the room erected in the Daniel Cox building last summer was reported insufficient to properly heat the room and that school had to be dismissed for one whole day on this account. The building committee was authorized to confer with Mr. Lentz, the contractor, and ascertain whether he will remedy the defect or if he prefers that the board should have the work done and deduct the cost from the money withheld from his contract.

The 5,000 union miners at Nanticoke had agreed to quit work on Wednesday if any non-union men were employed at Nos. 5, 6, or 7 miners of the Susquehanna Coal Company or the Bliss colliery of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company. Card inspection committees were to have been placed at the entrance of each mine, but the flood and the storm has compelled the shutting down of each mine.

DRIFTON.

The big storm on Wednesday was severely felt in Drifton. The stopping of the trolley cars kept a large number of our men in their homes that night, they being unable to go to Freeland, and for that their families were thankful. The night school was not opened, as the teacher, Mr. Hoffman, could not get here. The running of trains on the D. S. & S. was done with difficulty and only after the breaker employes had shoveled the snow from the tracks. The trolley cars reached town yesterday morning and by evening they got as far as Freeland.

Coxe Bros. & Co. have men at work making preparations to meet the next "thaw." It is feared that when the snow begins to melt again the water will rush into the mines, and to keep out as much of this as possible is the object of the work now being done.

Relatives here have received word that Francis Ward, of Woodside, who is receiving treatment at the Miners hospital for injuries received two weeks ago in the mines, is in a critical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stevens and daughter, Miss Jennie, left on Wednesday for Pottsville to attend the funeral of the former's mother.

The breaker boys who are idle on account of the floods and blizzards are taking advantage of their vacation by attending school.

Superintendent Harvey E. Hoffman is making his regular monthly visit to the schools of Foster township.

The water in No. 2 slope is still being brought to the surface by the aid of the gunboats.

There will be a meeting of St. Ann's Cadet Society at their rooms on Sunday.

Con Gillespie, who has been laid up with a fractured arm, has recovered.

Sarsfield McCarthy, whose leg was badly hurt a week ago, is improving.

James North and son, Denis, visited Hazleton yesterday.

New shutouts have been placed in No. 2 breaker.

Wednesday's Snowfall.

Wednesday's heavy snow storm, while not doing so much damage as the flood of last week, paralyzed the railroads again, and the running of trains on schedule time has not yet been effected. From 3 o'clock on Wednesday traffic on rail and trolley roads came practically to a standstill for that day. Trains were abandoned at several points on the local lines, and the entire forces of the companies were set to work clearing the tracks. Fortunately the snow ceased falling and drifting Wednesday night and fine weather has since been the rule.

Many collieries which had recovered sufficiently from the flood effects to resume work have been thrown idle on account of the railroad blockades. It is expected, however, that most of the mines hereabouts will resume operations the early part of next week. It is feared that when the body of snow now on the ground begins to melt that another freshet will result. The operators of the surrounding collieries are trying to guard their mines against flooding when that time comes, and gangs of men are making passages for the water to flow off to the streams and canals, instead of into the mines.

The depth of the snow which fell on Wednesday varies from eight inches to three feet in town. Out of town, where it had a better opportunity to drift, it is six feet deep in some spots.

Miners Will Appeal Again.

The executive committee of the United Mine Workers, of District No. 1, will make another attempt tomorrow to see the officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company, and make a second effort to have the discharged firemen at the Woodward, Avondale and Pettebone collieries reinstated.

There are only twenty of these, but their discharge has resulted in a strike of the mine workers at the Avondale and a lockout of the men at the Pettebone and Woodward, 2,150 in all.

The firemen refuse to sign an agreement to obey the new swing shift rule for Sundays, which compels them to work ten hours on one shift, one Sunday, and the next fourteen hours in two shifts.

The United Mine Workers have approved their course, and sanctioned the strike at the Avondale, which is tantamount to endorsing a strike at every one of the twenty-one collieries of the company where an attempt is made to enforce the order, and the firemen who refuse to obey it are discharged.

ROUND THE REGION.

Attorney Ray Van Horn, who is the clerk for Plymouth borough, has asked the council to reduce his salary from $250 a year to $200. He says that as the finances of the borough are low he does not think the borough can afford to pay him the full amount, and as he is a taxpayer himself he is willing to accept less. The council accepted his proposition. No other officials have yet followed his example.

Michael H. McAndrew, a young man who resided in Archbald, went to Wilkesbarre Monday to make arrangements for his wedding. When he called at the home of his betrothed, Miss Mary Ritter, he was taken suddenly ill. He was put to bed and died yesterday. Instead of a wedding there will be a funeral from the Ritter house.

Colonel Jacob G. Frick, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, died at his home in Pottsville in his seventy-eighth year. On June 28, 1863, he made himself famous by burning the Columbia bridge across the Susquehanna river, at Wrightsville, cutting off the the Rebel invasion of Harrisburg.

Joseph Shaver, 29 years old, was waylaid by three highwaymen near his home at Mahanoy City, beaten into insensibility and robbed of $30 in cash, and other valuables. Then they pitched him into a ditch of shallow water where he lay an hour before recovering consciousness.

The charges of perjury and violating his election oath made by John Mulvey against Recorder James Barrett are evidently not to be pressed. At the hearing set for Wednesday the prosecution had no witnesses and the case was postponed indefinitely.

George P. Mahle, of Wilkesbarre, who is serving a term in the Western penitentiary, writes to his friends asking them to intercede for him, as he believes he is dying and does not want to die in jail. Some of them will act in his behalf.

Congressman Rufus K. Polk, a resident of Danville, died Wednesday while visiting friends in Philadelphia. Heart disease is said to have been the immediate cause of his death. He was one of the leading Democrats in the state.

The body of William Rielly, a Luzerne hotel man, who was swept off a Wilkesbarre bridge while driving across in a cab during the flood last week, was recovered yesterday some distance below the bridge.

The Lackawanna Railroad Company has given a subscription of $10,000 for a new railroad Y. M. C. A. building in Scranton and the work of erecting a $30,000 building will begin at once.

A little son of M. B. Callahan, of Pittston, scratched a vaccination sore and then rubbed his face, on which were several pimples. He now has twenty-one vaccination sores on his face.

A Centenarian Doctor.

"A practicing physician 100 years old is a rather unusual combination, yet of that the town of Coffeyville, Kan., can boast," said George B. Bailey of Atchison, Kan. "He is Dr. N. O. P. Wood, and he has been selling medical advice and writing prescriptions since 1830, when he graduated from a medical college in Kentucky or Tennessee. He was born in Dublin Jan. 4, 1802, and came to this country with his parents in 1824.

"In spite of his age, he is still a hearty and comparatively hale old fellow. Of course he doesn't make many calls and never goes out in the evening. He visits during the day, however, and receives patients at his house. His mind is in fine condition, and he enjoys excellent use of his faculties, considering.

"Dr. Wood attributes his old age to heredity and temperate habits. He comes of a family which has always lived long lives. His father was 102 when he died and his mother eighty-seven. His uncles, aunts and brothers all lived to be between ninety and 100 and one to 104 years. All the members of the family have been temperate in their habits. Dr. Wood has never used liquor or tobacco. He has always taken a great deal of exercise and eaten and slept regularly."—Washington Post.

Cards a Queen's Fad.

The principal hobby of the queen regent of Spain is the collecting of playing cards, says the London Daily Telegraph. She possesses a large number of curious packs, many of which have no little historical interest. One set, made of ivory, is believed to have belonged to Prince Eugene, who fought with the great Duke of Marlborough, and to have accompanied him in all his campaigns. Queen Christina also owns some exceedingly rare cards of Egyptian, Arabian, French and Spanish manufacture.

Mildred Holland's new play, to be produced in the early spring, is called "The Lily and the Prince."

Happenings of the Past Two Days in and Around Freeland Recorded Without Waste of Words.

Although Centre street has been cleared for traffic, the Lehigh Traction cars are run no further than the borough limits. It is presumed that the ordinance passed on Monday evening by council, taxing the company's cars which enter town, is responsible for the inconvenience which the Traction's patrons are given.

Fighting Filipinos has no fascination for Freeland young men, and the recruiting station which was recently opened here was closed last night. Our town has hundreds of men who are willing to enlist in any righteous fight, but there is not one, as is shown by the recruiting agent's record, willing to go empire-making.

An Oswald has the agency for the celebrated Elysian's extracts and perfumery. The finest goods made. Try them.

Rev. J. B. Kerschner is at Dorrance today and held services at the funeral of the late Frank Eroh, who was drowned in the flood last week. Among the Freeland people who attended the funeral were Daniel O. Krommes and family, of the Second ward.

Attorney George McLaughlin returned Wednesday night from Philadelphia. The crippled condition of the railroads is shown by the fact that he consumed twelve hours in going from Freeland to that city on Tuesday and over eight hours in returning.

Nothing but perishable freight, and very little of that, has been brought to town by the railroads this week. The stocks of several business men are very much depleted, as a result of the inability of the railroads to get their goods to town.

Fresh fish every day during Lent at Hartman's market, next to Central hotel.

A card party was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Newhart, Walnut street, in honor of their guest, Miss Albright, of Cleveland. A number of friends were present and spent a pleasant evening.

Ernest Eckert was tendered a farewell party by several of his friends at the Tigers rooms on Wednesday evening. He returned yesterday to Paterson, N. J., where he holds a position as pianist.

W. W. Straw was yesterday appointed by the court to serve as an auditor in Butler township.

A daughter has been born to Dr. W. H. and Mrs. Deardorff, South Centre street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Carr, Pine street, this morning.

Not Used to Hard Work.

Men who have been brought by the bridge-building companies to work on the wrecked bridges on the Jersey Central and Lehigh Valley Railroads, between White Haven and Mauch Chunk, are deserting in large numbers. These men were hurriedly gathered together in New York and other large cities and come from a class not used to work. They eat and sleep in coaches along the railroads and live high, but they are apparently unaccustomed to hard labor and few of them care to exert themselves.

Three of the deserters struck town Wednesday night and were given lodging at the police station. They spent several hours yesterday begging money from our residents to assist them in getting back to New York.

Hall Directors Elected.

The stockholders of the proposed Slovak Hall Association, which will erect a hall on Ridge street, have elected the following officers: President, Charles Dusheck; vice president, John Shigo; secretary, Mike Czervanka; directors, Stephen Hudock, Andrew Shigo, Mike Czervanka, Julius Dusbeck and Mike Kletz. Architect McGlynn, of Wilkesbarre, has submitted plans for the erection of a new building.
