Mr. Mitchell said he had no means of telling how the mission to New York in he interests of neare might turn out. the interests of peace might turn out, nor how long the committee will be while Mr. Mitchell is a member of the counciliation committee it is doubtful if, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, he will exercise his privilege of passing upon the miners' troubles in that capacity. The two representatives of organized labor who are his colleague are Frank P. Sergeant, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and James Duncan, national secretary of the Granite Cutters' Union. The other members of the committee are other members of the committee are Franklin McVeagh, of Chicagoi J. K. Ruttshnitt, vice president Southern Pacific Railway; William H. Upon the result of the conference in New York today depends whether or not the committee of fourteen miners authorized by the convention will be appointed. The committee will consist of seven men from District 1, five from District 9 and two from District 7. If the operators agree to meet the miners' representatives before the Civic Federation committee the fourteen names will be announced, and while negotiations are pending the collieries will work every alternate day of each week.

Should the operators refuse to meet, President Mitchell, through the district presidents, will order a suspension of mining, to begin next Tuesday.

In either case there will be no work on Tuesday, as it is April 1, which is hereafter to be known among the miners as Eight-Hour Day and will be observed as a holiday in the anthracite and bituminous regions.

The scene represents a rocky gorge in the heart of Africa. The heroine, who is pursued by a band of Arabs, reaches the gorge, finding the bridge gone. Three of her friends appear on the op-posite side of the chasm, and fling their interlocked bodies across the rayine, thus forming a living bridge gover which time.

Recovered the Body.

Recovered the Body. The body of John Gumbash, who was drowned in Hazle Brook slope a week ago yesterday, was recovered yesterday morning. The body floated to the sur-face of the water and was discovered by the men in charge of the works. The body was badly swollen and there was a large cut on his head. It was given in charge of Undertaker McNulty, who buried it in St. Ann's cemetery. "My Friend From India," which will be presented here on Monday evening next by the Frankle Stock Company, is a very pleasing entertainment. Addi-tional charm and pleasure is afforded because the play will be presented by an excellent company. The many odd and mirth-provoking situations in the play arise primarily from a newly-rich Kansas City pork packer's family's en-deavors to enter society through decep-tion. Specialties will be given between acts, also some of the latest moving pictures.

Will Improve Property.

At a meeting last evening of the stockholders of Washington Camp Hall Association, the corporation which owns the P. O. S. of A. building, the direct ors were given authority to make the alterations in the structure which were proposed a year ago and later abandon-ed.

The first floor of the building will be dropped twenty inches, bringing it to within one step of the sidewalk. An entire new front will replace the present facing, and the design for that por-tion occupied by the NeuBurger store will be one of the most handsome fronts outside of Wilkesbarre.

In addition to these changes, it was agreed last evening to crect a one-story addition, fifty feet in length, at the rear of the store-room, making the total depth of the first floor 140 feet. This This addition will be fitted with sky-lights.

Work upon the alterations is expected to begin within the next two weeks The improvements will cost about $5,000 The decision of the stockholders to remodel and improve the building has caused the NeuBurger estate to retain possession of the present storeroom, and the plans for the proposed building
