SAYS MINERS MUST GIVE IN

Baer Claims It Is the Only Way to End Strike.

P. & R. President Assumes the Role of a Jester When Interviewed Yesterday on Prospects of Settlement.

"The operators are lying low and biding their time when the miners will come to their senses and resume work," said President Baer, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, in New York yesterday. He was asked about the visit he received in Philadelphia from Father Curran, of Wilkesbarre.

"Father Curran had no proposition for a settlement to submit to me," said President Baer. "How could he? He is in no wise a factor in the strike. Father Curran asked me if there was no way in which the trouble could be settled. I told him there was one way—namely, that the miners return to work and behave themselves. Our interview was very pleasant, but I cannot help thinking that it would be better for all concerned if outsiders kept their hands off and left us to settle this difficulty with the men."

"If a general strike should be declared, and the strike orders generally obeyed," he was asked, "in what manner would that influence the situation in the anthracite region?"

"In no manner whatever," was the reply.

"But would not a general strike tend to tie up the industries of the country?"

"I don't know. You haven't noticed the sky falling down, have you?"

In reply to a question whether there was any intention on the part of the operators to resume operations in the near future with non-union men President Baer jestingly replied:

"Oh, the dog days will soon be over now. I don't blame people for not wanting to work hard these hot days. Later on it will be cooler, and then perhaps the miners will find it more pleasant to work."

Father Curran has not gone to New York, nor is it believed that he will. The action of President Baer in telling him that the operators would not listen to anything from him and that nothing he could say would alter the situation has deterred Father Curran from going to New York.

President Fowler, of the Ontario and Western Railroad, said yesterday: "Under no circumstances will there be any conference with the miners or any settlement of the strike, or any concessions. I wish to reiterate that under no circumstances will the strike be settled, except by unconditional surrender of the men. No matter what happens, nothing can change the situation."

PLACED UNDER BAIL.

Charles Jacquot was arrested Wednesday evening by Constable Ziegler on a warrant issued by Alderman Heidenrich, of Hazleton, on information furnished by John Hodgson, North Centre street. Jacquot is charged with riot and unlawful assembly by Hodgson, who is a Drifton shop employe. The accused waived a hearing and gave bail before Squire Buckley to the amount of $800. Mrs. William Jenkins furnishing the security.

Frank Gatski and Ben Brown, of Harwood, were placed under $100 bail each yesterday by Alderman Heidenrich, on the charge of calling Mrs. Emma Acker a "scab."

There will be no more marches by strikers in the Panther Creek valley, this being the determination of the strikers themselves. On the charge of assault and battery and rioting last week, nine men were held under $500 bail each at Lansford yesterday.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

The delegates of District 7 to the national convention at Indianapolis passed through here on the 6.34 o'clock Lehigh Valley train last evening. They expect to reach their destination by 6 o'clock this evening. The convention opens tomorrow at 10 a. m. and the delegates expect to finish their work before Saturday night.

The Reading Company paid its regular employes on Monday and granted a 10 per cent increase to all who remained at work during the present strike. The increase was not given to the special officers and workmen imported into the district.

The weekly meeting of the railroad presidents was held yesterday in New York, but no information was given out by those who attended.

Upper Lehigh has resumed its normal quietness, and the excitement occasioned by the violence committed at the Hoffman home is gradually dying out. The Hoffmans have returned from Eckley, to which town they ran after escaping from their house, and the Upper Lehigh Company will recompense them for the loss sustained by the destruction of their furniture. No arrests have yet been made in connection with this affair, but it is reliably reported that warrants have been issued at Hazleton for parties suspected of having a hand in the work.

An effigy is hanging at the corner of Adams and Carbon streets. No one seems to know how it came there or what it represents. It is supposed, however, that it is intended to reflect on two of Adams street's residents who went into Drifton stockade to work at 1 o'clock Monday morning.

The work of picketing the roads leading from Freeland to Drifton is carried on every morning from 4 to 7 o'clock. Sheriff Jacobs was an interested spectator twice this week, but found nothing doing to warrant interference by him.

District Treasurer Henry Hill has been placed in charge of the affairs of District 7 during the absence of the other district officers, and all matters requiring immediate consideration will be attended to by him.

The question of suspending the dues of their members until the strike is over is being discussed in several local beneficial societies.

ARRESTED THIS MORNING.

Daniel Mulroney, of South Ridge street, was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Isaac Eckert on a warrant sworn out at Hazleton on information furnished by Albam Wasmer, of Front street, a civil engineer employed by Cox Bros. & Co. The charge is assault and battery and is alleged to have been committed on July 1.

Mulroney waived a hearing by furnishing $200 bail before Squire Shovlin to answer the charge in court, Hugh M. Breslin becoming his bondsman.

Public Schools Still Open.

The public schools in Pittston township are still in full blast. It will be remembered that the teachers, during last winter, went out on strike because they did not receive their pay. They remained out nearly two months, when arbitration and promises of pay brought them back to work. Then another obstacle loomed up in the shape of the law, that no state appropriation shall be given to any school district unless the schools have been kept open in said district for at least seven months.

Pittston township stood in a fair way of losing the appropriation, as the schools were not open the required number of months, due to the teachers' strike. Therefore the teachers are at present at work making up lost time in order to secure the appropriation from which their back salaries are to be paid.

No Meeting of Council.

Owing to the absence of A. J. Maloney, representative of the Welshbach Light Company, no meeting of the borough council was held on Monday evening. Nine members were present, but the majority felt that without Mr. Maloney or a proposition from him the council could not make any progress in settling the light question.

The proposed test of the Welshbach light, which was to be given the same evening, was postponed for the same reason.

Mr. Maloney's absence was said to be caused by the dangerous illness of a young daughter at the family home in Philadelphia.

Died Very Suddenly.

Edward Hinkio, aged 73 years, one of the oldest residents of Butler township, died at Hazleton hospital yesterday. The deceased was admitted to the institution ten days ago, suffering from a broken leg. The fracture was reduced and the leg placed in a plaster paris cast. He was doing nicely and up to twenty minutes before his death was apparently in excellent health. Death is supposed to have been due to heart disease.

Mr. Hinkio is survived by a wife and several children, among them being Mrs. Albert Snyder, wife of the Butler township school director.

D. S. & S. Shops at Roan.

From the Hazleton Sentinel.

It is said that in a very short time the D. S. & S. Railroad Company will begin to remove their shops and round houses from Drifton to Roan Yards. This was the original intention when the road was built, but for some time there has not been anything heard of the matter. The company has an excellent location at Roan for their property, and the trouble that has been experienced lately in Drifton is given as a reason for the decision being reached to move.

STRIKE FUNDS.

Amount Contributed in 1887-88 Contest. Miners Will Fight If Given Relief.

Inasmuch as the raising of a fund for the striking miners is now being considered by labor leaders it is worth recalling the amount contributed to the Lehigh region miners during the six months' strike of 1887-88. The total receipts of financial contributions to the miners from labor unions and individuals, exclusive of the amount expended directly from the treasuries of local assemblies attached to District Assembly 87, K. of L., under whose auspices the strike was conducted, were $133,609.06. The amount disbursed for relief and expenses was $133,620.14.

D. M. Evans was the treasurer of the relief committee and expended $11.08 more than he received. In addition to this deficit, bills were contracted by the relief committee with merchants and others in Freeland, Hazleton, Lansford and other towns to the amount of $5,567.72, which brought the total amount expended to $139,187.86.

The strike of 1887-88 was conducted through a period of a year, from September to March, when the demand for relief became very pressing, and the figures given above are presented to show how far a small amount, comparatively speaking, will go when the men on strike are determined to hold out and win.

The Lehigh region strike brought suffering to many families, but there was no starvation reported nor did actual want appear without being promptly alleviated.

If, then, less than $140,000 could support the 14,000 miners and their families who struck in 1887 for six months, or, in other words, if each family averaged less than $10 for the period, the proposed strike fund of a million and a half a month, which would be less than $1 per month from the members of the labor unions of America, would give the 140,000 men now on strike a monthly allowance greater than the average Lehigh striker's family received while the 1887-88 strike lasted.

Should the labor leaders of the country decide to assess the members of their respective organizations and collect a monthly fund of one and one-half million dollars for the anthracite miners, as has been proposed and is likely, operators and others may rest assured that the strike will not end as soon as very many are inclined to predict. The railroad presidents may even succeed in gathering sufficient miners who are tiring of the struggle to open some of their collieries, nevertheless there is nothing in the situation to warrant a general break from the union ranks while financial relief is in sight.

The miner is proverbially a fighter, due, probably, to the conditions which surround most of them in obtaining their rights from their employers, and knowing that much depends upon him in the present contest, he can be expected to uphold his reputation and ask for no quarter until concessions are offered or necessity compels him to humble before those who threw down the gauge of battle.

Therefore, when the expected financial assistance arrives, interested parties may with good reason place the date for the strike's ending at a day so far distant that is not worth considering at the present stage of this gigantic struggle.

ROUND THE REGION.

John Burke and Daniel Reilly, of Wilkesbarre, who went on the mountain for huckleberries yesterday morning, sat down on the Lehigh Valley tracks to rest and fell asleep. A passenger train dashed around a curve and the men were struck. Reilly was rolled down the embankment and badly injured. Burke's head was so badly crushed that he died.

Another street car strike is threatened in Scranton. The cause is the company's interpretation of the agreement that was arrived at on April 7, when the six months' strike came to an end. General Manager Sillman was informed yesterday by a committee of the men that unless he reverses his interpretation by Thursday they will quit work.

Charles Grether and Benjamin Aiello, the Monroe county murderers and jailbreakers, were sentenced yesterday, the former to be hanged and the latter to twenty years' imprisonment. Grether killed a constable and Aiello shot the man with whom he boarded.

Despondent over the departure of her husband, who some months ago was taken to the National Military Home at Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. George Dutter committed suicide at Wilkesbarre by taking "Rough on Rats." She was 64 years old.

Houses of J. J. Wesley, Frank Mulligan and S. R. Stevens, at Plains, were destroyed by fire on Monday. Loss $8,000.

In the opinion of Governor Stone, who is at Gettysburg, there will be no necessity for the sending of the state troops to the scene of the coal strike. The governor expressed himself on the situation soon after his arrival at camp by saying that he would not send a soldier to the mining regions until it had been conclusively demonstrated that the civil authorities could not cope with the situation.

Margaret Williams, aged 3 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Williams, North Centre street, died yesterday. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Services will be conducted at the residence by Rev. Swartz, and the interment will be made at Freeland cemetery.

Alfred Widdick, Jr., who removed from town after Drifton shop strike last year, had his hand severely injured last week in Baldwin's Locomotive Works, Philadelphia. With his family he is spending a few weeks with his parents on Washington street.

John H. Shovlin, of town, was fined $4 and the costs last night by Alderman Heidenrich, before whom he was charged by Cox Bros. & Co. with trespass. The company claimed he took coal from a cave-in on its land.

Thirty-five additional beds have been placed in White Haven Consumptive Sanitarium. The work upon the four brick buildings which are being erected for the accommodation of the patients is progressing rapidly.

Thos. E. Slattery returned Monday evening from Jersey City, where he spent the past two weeks. He has been promised employment there and expects to receive a call within a few days.

William Williams has resigned his position as butler for the Kemmerer family in Upper Lehigh and departed for New York, where he has secured a more lucrative position.

A. S. Monroe, formerly a poor director of this district, has been stricken with paralysis at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Lee, at Princeton, N. J., and his condition is critical.

The monthly test of the fire alarm system yesterday developed irregularities at some of the boxes. The defects were remedied by Borough Electrician McLaughlin.

Drifton Chesters and Hazleton Pioneers will play ball at Hazleton on Saturday. A return game will be played by the same clubs at Drifton the next day.

The interested parties have fixed upon July 26 as the date for argument in the Joseph Birkbeck will contest.

School Director and Mrs. W. D. Kline and family left today to spend a week at Ocean Grove, N. J.

J. F. Qualter, who boasted in a saloon that he kept his money in his shoe where no thief could find it, was sand-bagged and robbed last night at Duryea of $45.

Lazarus Brizzy, the aged man who wandered away from his home at Harleigh on Friday, has not as yet been found. Searching parties continue to scour the woods in search of him.

Thomas Thorburn, secretary of the Anthracite Y. M. C. A., a portion of the association devoted exclusively to work among the miners and the mine boys, will sail on Saturday for Europe to study in England and Scotland the work conducted on similar lines.

Hugh Chesworth and family, of Wyoming, had a narrow escape from cremation and they owe their lives to the frantic neighing of one of their horses, which awakened them. Their home, grocery store, warehouse and barn were burned and the family had barely time to escape in their night clothes.
