END OF STRIKE IS IN SIGHT

Break in Operators' Ranks Has Come at Last.

Settlement Rumors Coming Thick and Fast From the Inside Circles of the Two Opposing Forces.

That the anthracite operators of Pennsylvania are preparing to make as dignified a settlement of the strike as is possible under the circumstances is no longer a secret, and the item in Friday's issue of this paper, giving the first announcement of the rumor, has been proven by developments of the past few days to be correct.

The operators have discovered that the closely-guarded conferences of the presidents of the coal roads have not been surrounded with the secrecy which it was thought existed. Their agents have learned that every move determined upon at these gatherings has been checked by the miners. They have also discovered that every contemplated move of the operators has been known to the union leaders.

This information, coming back to the gentlemen who had given their word that the movements of the operators were to remain unknown, has had a depressing effect upon the coal barons, and a feeling of distrust and a suspicion of double-dealing have crept into the conferences, which have never been a unit on the methods adopted to conduct the strike.

The present is not the time for a detailed account of the breaking down of the operators' defense, nor is it necessary now to give further information on the subject. The public at large and the miners and their families are interested only in a termination of the struggle which will be honorable to the strikers.

That termination is now in sight and will be attained if the mine workers present for a short while longer that same solid and unyielding front that has marked their conduct for the past thirteen weeks.

David R. James, operator and owner of the Cambridge mine, South Shenandoah, says in today's North American:

"You may safely predict that the anthracite strike will end in some manner before September 15. No one can tell whether the end will come through a break in the ranks of the striking mine workers or through arbitration or compromise, but it is certain beyond all question that the mines will open. No attempts will be made to open any mine in this region until September 1. These attempts will be of the most determined character, and upon the result will depend the success or the failure of the strike."

has been very unfriendly to the strikers and heretofore ridiculed all rumors of peace, says:

"The coal road presidents will meet on Tuesday in New York, when revised reports from all parts of the region will be discussed, and it is understood that an informal statement will be given out showing the present output of coal and placing the responsibility for the coal famine upon the striking miners. Strike leaders here insist that terms of settlement will be considered at this meeting, and that a settlement will be effected on or before September 1.

"Shamokin operators and business men are of the opinion that the miners' strike will be ended within the next week or two. Business men believe that both operators and strikers are tired of the battle and are about to meet each other half-way."

Socialists Deliver Addresses.

Several hundred men responded to the call of the Socialist party to attend a mass meeting at Krell's hall Saturday afternoon. The meeting was addressed by W. R. Dettrey, of Nuremberg, a member of the executive board of District No. 7, U. M. W. of A., who spoke on the strike question, and by Charles L. Moore, of Philadelphia, an organizer of the Socialist party.

Both addresses were well received by the audience and many who were present expressed themselves favorably to the movement. The meeting was presided over by Charles Jacquot, chairman of the Central Labor Council of Freeland and Vicinity.

The local leaders of the new party predict that the candidates nominated by the Socialists for state, county and district public offices will poll a surprisingly heavy vote in and around Freeland. Some of them venture the opinion that the county will be swept next November by the Socialist ticket and that at least five of the six legislative districts will be carried by them.

However that may be, there is no denying the fact that the party is gaining many new recruits. The majority of these were formerly identified with the Democratic party, although it is said that in other sections of the county former Republicans comprise the majority of followers of the movement.

Death at the Sanitarium.

The first death of a male patient at the White Haven Consumptive Sanitarium occurred yesterday, when John York, of Mt. Carmel, expired. The deceased was admitted to the institution about five months ago, and although he was then informed by Dr. Flick, the president, that the disease had obtained too firm a hold upon his system to give any hope for his recovery, he insisted upon taking the treatment. The opinion of the sanitarium physicians was borne out yesterday, when the patient breathed his last.

Some time ago a female patient, who, like Mr. York, was in the last stages of consumption when admitted, died at the hospital. These two have been the only deaths that have taken place at the sanitarium since it was opened.

On the other hand, hundreds of men and women whose lives were being slowly sapped away by the dread disease have been discharged after taking the treatment and are as strong and hearty today as they were before their affliction.

Brother Dead in the West.

Mrs. Ruth A. Dodson, Walnut street, received a telegram Saturday afternoon informing her of the death of her brother, John L. Stewart, at his home in Fruitland, Iowa. The dispatch stated that he was killed by a railroad train Saturday morning.

Mrs. Dodson immediately departed for Fruitland, and will reach that town today. The funeral will probably take place there, although there is a possibility that the remains may be brought for interment to Wilkesbarre, where he spent the early part of his life.

Mr. Stewart went westward forty-eight years ago, locating in Iowa, where he won success and became a prominent citizen. He would have reached the age of 75 years had he lived until yesterday. Mr. Stewart was a widower and leaves no children.

Coray Quits Politics.

Representative Elisba A. Coray, of West Pittston, the anti-Quay leader in the last legislature, and anti-machine nominee for state treasurer last November, has retired from politics, and is devoting all his time to religious work. Coray is taking an active part in the Young Men's Christian Association movement in this state, and has advised his friends in the Second district that under no circumstances will he again be a candidate for the assembly or any other public office.

Ball Players Ill-Treated.

The Good Willis base ball club, accompanied by a number of their admirers, went to Berwick on Saturday to play the club of that town. A feeling of intense rivalry developed at the outset among the spectators, the supporters of each club vying with one another in urging on their favorite team to win.

In the seventh inning, with the score 7 to 4 in favor of Berwick, one of the special police officers on the ground committed an unwarranted assault upon a Freeland young boy for tooting a horn. The action was immediately resented by the lad's friends, and in a short while a general free fight was in progress.

The Berwick adherents were having things their own way when several of the strikers from Freeland and nearby towns, who are working at Berwick, took a hand in the scrimmage and routed the Berwick pummelers in a manner which will not be soon forgotten by those who were so unfortunate as to come into contact with the coal-marked fists.

The Freeland boys regret the occurrence, but claim they were in no way to blame and had to defend themselves against a mob of discourteous rowdies whom the Berwick police refused to suppress and whose taunts and assaults are wholly responsible for the affair.

The fourth suspect in connection with the murder of Daniel Sweeney, the Bliss mine watchman who was found dead with his skull fractured last Wednesday morning, was placed under arrest Saturday morning at his home in Hanover township. His name is Paul Tomchak.

At a meeting of the Democratic county committee on Saturday Attorney W. S. McLean was elected county chairman. It was decided to hold the county convention on Tuesday, September 23, and the primaries on Saturday, September 20.

The Philadelphia Times was consolidated today with the Philadelphia Ledger and the former paper is now out of existence. The Press, of the same city, reduced its daily issue this morning from 2 cents to 1 cent per copy.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the City Council, Wilkesbarre, Pa., Cured of Rheumatism.

Col. Wm. J. Harvey, a president of Wilkesbarre's city council, who will long be remembered for his great work for the city, was once a mere physical wreck, torn in every muscle and nerve from the frightful pains caused by rheumatism. He consulted the best physicians, went abroad, took mud baths, and almost every known treatment for the disease. One of the city officials had had a very similar experience and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had cured him, so he recommended this great kidney medicine to his friend, and Col. Harvey is today a well man, hale and hearty. In his own abrupt way he states his case:

Dr. David Kennedy,
Dear Sir—This is to certify that I was permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Wm. J. Harvey.

Nothing could be more direct or more to the point than this simple statement. Rheumatism is but another name for uric acid poisoning which is caused primarily by diseased kidneys. Cure your kidneys and the rheumatism disappears.

For all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as sicknesses peculiar to women, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is unquestionably the greatest medicine known to the medical profession.

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail.
