UNIONS HONOR LABOR'S HOLIDAY

Organized Workingmen Are Celebrating Today.

Miners and Other Trade Unionists Parade This Morning and Will Hold Picnic This Afternoon.

The organized workingmen of Freeland and vicinity, under the auspices of the Central Labor Union, are today celebrating in a festive manner the one day of the year which the law of the state has decreed shall be theirs to enjoy. No other town of Pennsylvania, population and circumstances considered, it may be safely said will excel Freeland in paying homage to the Labor Day of 1902. The workingmen of the town and surrounding villages are gathered here as never before and the day's outing promises to be one that will be long remembered.

The exercises began this morning with a parade, followed by addresses at the Public park. The afternoon and evening will also be spent by the workingmen and their families at the park, where the Central Labor Union is conducting a picnic.

The change in the hour of parade was decided upon Friday evening and was made necessary by the scarcity of speakers. Had the original hour chosen been adhered to it would have been necessary to dispense with the speeches, so great is the demand today throughout the state for men to address the toilers who are celebrating in every city and town. Those who spoke here this morning will also speak at Hazleton this afternoon.

Early in the morning the town began to take on a holiday appearance, flags and bunting being displayed at a majority of the business places on Centre street. At 9 o'clock the locals from the outside towns began to come in and were promptly assigned to their positions in the line by Marshal John F. Boyle and his aids, Edward Doggett and Charles Jacquet.

Ideal weather greeted the paraders and induced many who were not inclined to participate to join in with their unions and march to town and over the route. Several of those who were in line came quite a distance and showed the effects of their long walk under a warm sun.

The parade began to move at 10 o'clock in the order given in the program published last week. The Citizens' band led the procession, followed by the miners' unions of Hazle Brook, Eckley, Highland, Sandy Run, Jeddo, Drifton, Upper Lehigh, South Heberton and Freeland, with the engineers, firemen and pumpmen comprising Local 1930, also of town, bringing up the rear. In addition to the band five drum corps furnished music for the marchers.

The members of United Brewery Workers' Union, of town, rode in a prettily-decorated wagon with a tapped keg of their product displayed.

When the head of the parade reached Carbon and Washington streets the rear of the line was at South and Ridge, the paraders covering twelve long squares and numbering over 2,800 men and boys. Banners demanding arbitration and asking that the boys be sent to schools, instead of the breakers, were carried by Jeddo local.

The speakers' carriages, in the forefront of the parade, were filled by D. J. McCarthy, Esq., Matthew Long, National Board Member P. G. Gallagher, District Secretary John P. Gallagher, District Board Member W. A. Dettroy and District Vice President Andrew Matti.

The speakers were preparing to deliver their addresses when the Tribune went to press.

The People's Alliance.

The call issued by Burgess John F. Boyle for a meeting of the business people and other citizens for the purpose of forming a branch of the People's Alliance was responded to by a large number on Friday evening. The Municipal hall was well filled with persons interested in the settlement of the strike when the burgess called the meeting to order.

The gathering organized by electing Mr. Boyle to continue as chairman, and then listened to a lengthy address by Councilman Matthew Long, of Hazleton, who gave a lucid explanation of the object of the People's Alliance. The speaker demonstrated the necessity at this particular time for an organization of this character, one that has for its purpose the settlement of the strike, and gave conclusive evidence that in joining the alliance no man need fear that he is affiliating himself with a political movement or spite society.

The People's Alliance, the speaker said, was founded on such broad Christian principles that every honest American can boldly uphold them without fear of criticism from any quarter. He said that the time has come when those who are suffering from the effects of the war between capital and labor must courageously come forward and make a determined effort to bring about a return of the peace and harmony that prevailed in the anthracite region prior to the inauguration of the strike.

Mr. Long discoursed at some length on the questions at issue between the operators and their miners, and backed up his claims that the public is justified in interfering with extracts from recent speeches and interviews tendered by President Roosevelt, Senator Hanna and other prominent men. He gave some interesting personal experience in dealing with coal operators and also dwelt on the necessity for purer politics in the state and country.

The address, which consumed nearly two hours, was well received, and was followed by the election of E. J. Curry as secretary of the Freeland branch. D. J. McCarthy, Esq., of Hazleton, spoke also on the object of the alliance and the good that can be accomplished by concerted action on the part of the people and public-spirited citizens who give their approval and support to its principles.

The appointment of delegates to the general convention of the People's Alliance was postponed until tomorrow evening, when another meeting will be held and at which the membership is expected to be largely increased. Invitations are being sent to all the business and professional men of town to attend tomorrow evening's meeting.

A convention of all the branches of the People's Alliance, Boards of Trade, and all other business organizations of the cities and towns of this and other states affected by the strike will be held at Hazleton on Thursday next.

Runaway Horse Killed.

While Dr. George Wentz, of Drifton, was making a purchase in a South Centre street store Saturday evening he left his bay horse attached to a light runabout stand. The animal became frightened in some manner and started at a mad pace for his stable at Drifton. It went at a furious gallop and everything remained intact until within about twenty-five yards of the railroad crossing below the Woodside school house. There the animal dashed against a horse and buckboard coming to town, driven by J. Zakutney, of Luzerne and Centre streets.

The runaway horse struck Zakutney's outfit with such force that it released the horse from the buckboard, the shaft of which pierced the runaway horse through the breast, throwing it to the ground and killing it instantly.

Zakutney's horse on being released ran to town, but was captured without doing any damage. The spot where the accident occurred was very dark and the crash came so unexpectedly that Zakutney did not know for some time what became of his horse. Beyond the breaking of the shafts on both vehicles no further damage was done.

$200 Reward Offered.

A new organization, known as the Civic League of Luzerne County, has been formed and has placed in another column of the Tribune an important notice to voters of both parties. The organization is non-partisan and offers a reward of $200 for all successful prosecutions of offenses against the primary election laws.

The organization has a charter membership of over forty citizens of Wilkesbarre, including both Democrats and Republicans. Following is a list of the officers: President, H. H. Welles, Jr.; vice-president, George R. Bedford; secretary-treasurer, R. Nelson Bennett; directors, E. H. Chase, I. P. Hand, T. R. Hilliard, S. J. Strauss, Asher Miner, J. C. Bridgman, P. M. Chase, Thomas H. Atterton, G. M. Reynolds.

The Seventeenth Week.

The seventeenth week of the coal strike began today and finds no perceptible change on either side. The only important development of the past two days is the circulation of a rumor that Governor Stone is considering the advisability of calling an extra session of the legislature, for the purpose of having the assembly pass a compulsory arbitration act which he has had prepared to meet the exigencies of the occasion. It is reported at Harrisburg that the extra session will be called unless the strike soon comes to an end.

Fire This Morning.

Fire broke out in Dr. H. M. Neale's office in the P. O. S. of A. building at 11 a. m. today. The blaze had gained considerable headway when discovered, but was extinguished before the firemen arrived. Two desks, two sides of the room and a medicine chest were badly damaged by the flames.

ROUND THE REGION.

Protesting against being removed to Lehigh county almshouse, Joseph Ruch, a veteran of the Civil war, died when within half a mile of the home. Ruch, who was 76 years of age, lived alone, but recently became so ill that he could not care for himself. It was then determined to have him removed to the almshouse. The old man begged piteously not to be taken there, and his wish that he might never be taken there alive was gratified.

Controller E. A. Jones, of Lackawanna county, has held up over $1,000 worth of bills of aldermen, justices and constables for discharge cases. The controller refused to approve the bills, declaring that they are "false" cases. One justice sent in twenty-six discharge cases, all against the same defendant and on the same charge.

Proposals for the construction of the new bridge over the Lehigh river at White Haven will be received at Harrisburg between September 23 and 27. The new bridge will be four feet higher on the Carbon side and two feet higher on the Luzerne side. The engineers' estimate of the cost of the structure is $38,000.

Extensive improvements are to be made at the DuPont powder plant at Wapwallopen. A large electric plant will be constructed which will supplement the water power when this proves insufficient. Fully two years will be required to make the alterations and improvements already planned.

Scranton Municipal League, after several months of apparent inactivity, has resumed its crusade upon violators of the laws against Sunday liquor selling. A dozen arrests were made yesterday, among which were some of the leading restaurant keepers.

An Allentown alderman was adjudged guilty this week of a violation of the factory law. He had been arrested at the instance of Deputy Inspector Leisenring, charged with issuing certificates to children who are unable to read or write the English language.

Samuel Nash, aged 72 years, proprietor of the Nash hotel and one of Scranton's prominent citizens, sent two bullets into his body in the Jermyn hotel. His chances for recovery are good. Despondency over money matters is held responsible for his rash act.

The Carbon county fair, which will be held at Lehighton beginning September 16, promises to be better than ever before. The grounds have been very much improved and the list of prizes to be awarded is much larger than before.

White Haven is afflicted with a typhoid fever epidemic. The town is without sewers and this is said to be the cause of the disease's spread.

George Cross, an excursionist from New York city, was killed at Glen Onoko last evening while trying to board a moving train.

Foster School Board.

A special meeting of Foster township school board was held Saturday evening with all members present except Messrs. Weber and McHugh. The repairs and cleaning were reported as complete at all buildings with the possible exception of Highland. All supplies and books ordered were reported as having been received.

The matter of an increase in salary of Thomas Sarricks, teacher of the grammar school at Sandy Run, was taken up. A motion passed unanimously that the salary be fixed at $65 per month, instead of $60.

Treasurer Johnson reported having received the state appropriation. It amounts to the following: Appropriation, $5,530.51; special, $275.55; total, $5,810.06. This amount is $83.78 less than last year.

The following bills were ordered paid: Tribune Printing Company, Limited, publishing statement, $15.75; Mrs. John Gerlach, cleaning, $8; Mrs. Patrick Murrin, cleaning, $8; Mrs. John Mealing, cleaning, $8; Mrs. Daniel Boner, cleaning, $12.50; Mrs. Thomas Jenkins, cleaning, $8; James Brehm, labor, $2; John Walton, cleaning, $8; M. J. Geary, supplies, $451.20.

Treasurer Johnson reported having received Order No. 385 drawn in favor of a former teacher for four days' pay, $8, which had not been signed by the president. The secretary will investigate and report at the next meeting.

The Flag Problem.

The objections filed by the National Slavonic Society, against the free entry of the costly Hungarian flag which arrived at New York yesterday as a gift to Hungarians in the United States, has received the attention of the government of Austria-Hungary, and may develop into an international episode. Every Hungarian consul in the United States has been notified to watch proceedings closely and to cable his government freely concerning anything that might tend to produce unpleasantness between the United States and Austria-Hungary. The Austro-Hungarian government proposes to go further and will probably attempt to prosecute the leaders of the National Slavonic Society and ask for their extradition if sufficient legal evidence can be accumulated.

The Slovak leaders are defiant and express no fear of results. They take the ground that the decision of the treasury department in Washington not to admit the flag which has made all the trouble duty free is an official recognition by this government of the justice of their position.

Racial hatred which has endured for centuries between Slovaks and Magyars is said to be responsible for what has already occurred.

A communication on the above subject was received today, too late for this issue. It will appear Wednesday.
