

OFFICE: MAIN STREET ABOVE CENTRE. LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE. SUBSCRIPTION RATES. FREELAND.—The TRIBUNE is delivered by carriers to subscribers in Freeland at the rate of 12 1/2 cents a month, payable every two months, or $1.50 a year, payable in advance.

Entered at the Postoffice at Freeland, Pa., as Second-Class Matter. Make all money orders, checks, etc., payable to the Tribune Printing Company, Limited.

FREELAND, SEPTEMBER 5, 1902.

THE DEMOCRATIC SIGNAL GUN.

It has been the extraordinary privilege of Robert E. Pattison five times to lead the people in a crusade for the overthrow of corrupt forces in Pennsylvania politics. This is a record unparalleled in the history of the state.

During the past four years there has been a revival of ring misrule the most odious in the annals of the Commonwealth. The time is at hand when there must be another mighty union of the forces of patriotism, and in obedience to the manifest popular will, ex-Governor Pattison is again the standard-bearer, supported by associates of superior fitness and ability, enthusiastically sustained by every element of his own party and a great host of independent voters, determined once more to clean house at Harrisburg.

This successful reform leader never wastes words nor leaves any doubt as to what he means in his public utterances. His speech of acceptance at Reading, given in our news columns, is a masterly presentation of the issues of the hour in Pennsylvania that will be read with satisfaction and inspiration by every good citizen, irrespective of partisan views. It is, indeed, in no sense a party cry, but an earnest and convincing appeal to the patriotic heart of the Commonwealth. It clearly shows the supreme question, the restoration and maintenance of honest and economical legislative and administrative methods. It is pointed out, also, how the record gives every assurance that should inspire renewed public trust. For 30 years Governor Pattison has consistently fought for these high ideals, and he never was so strong with all classes of the people as today. His burning words will find an echo in the hearts and minds of patriotic citizens everywhere. Read this speech carefully and hand to your Republican neighbor. The address of Mr. Guthrie is also a clear-cut and vigorous presentation of fact and argument that will carry great weight with thoughtful and fair-minded men. This public-spirited citizen has done much for the cause of reform, and in the present campaign he will press home the truths which all the people should hear. Mr. Nolan, like the straight-forward man of affairs he is, evidences the worthy purpose to meet every requirement of official station. The campaign for the rescue of the state from the hands of public pirates has most hopefully begun. The Reading signal gun will be heard from the Delaware to the Ohio, and at every point there will be a rallying of the friends of clean politics and good government.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Beauregard Signature of Chas. H. Peterson

PATTISON'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Issues of the Hour Are Vigorously Presented.

DUTY OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP

How the State Has Been Misgoverned and the People Wronged—A Ringing Appeal to Patriotism.

QUESTION OF BALLOT REFORM

Ex-Governor Boldly Arraigns the Machine and Urges Unity of Action For the Good of All.

Reading, Sept. 4.—This has been a great day and greater night for Pennsylvania Democracy and the cause of political regeneration throughout the state. Influential men from every county were present to take part in the ceremonies incident to the notification of the nominees of the Erie Convention. It was suggestively noted, also, that a large number of Republicans and independent citizens were present to extend their hearty congratulations and give open pledge of support during the campaign and at the polls.

In the afternoon there was a public reception at a beautiful suburban retreat and a banquet at which enthusiasm ran high. Early in the evening the Auditorium was packed with a great crowd to hear the speeches of the occasion, every expression of the candidates being applauded with a vigor which showed the spirit that possesses the friends of reform in the pending contest between the people and the bosses, who have so sadly marred the state.

As chairman of the notification committee, Hon. R. E. Wright, of Allentown, performed the pleasant work assigned him in a happy manner. He said:

SPEECH OF CHAIRMAN WRIGHT.

We are assembled today by direction of the Erie Convention to present to you Governor Pattison, and to Messrs. Guthrie and Nolan a formal notification of their nomination for the most important public positions. While the convention which named you represented the organized Democratic party, it acted and spoke for a wider constituency than could be comprised in any political organization. It convened, planned and acted not for partisan victory, but for Pennsylvania's honor. It represented and gave voice to an outraged public sentiment, demanding that the control of our state shall be wrested from the hands of those who dishonor it. It spoke for all men in our state who stand for pure, honest government and a decent administration of public affairs. It named its nominees, and its instruments through which our Commonwealth should be rescued from the hands of the political freebooters who have so long controlled it; and its nomination which has outraged public opinion, has prostituted the powers and benefices of government to the purposes of the unprincipled politicians and the enrichment of their fortunes, and which has recklessly and defiantly disregarded all constitutional, legal and moral obligations and restraints.

In the platform of the convention that named you will be found a recital of some of the ills that a long-suffering people have deemed worthy of mention. I need not repeat, as you have done in your hearing the painful, but familiar history of Pennsylvania's dishonor. As I have said before, in every newspaper and from every pulpit, a shameful story has been told; in every town and hamlet; at country cross roads, in counting house and factory, in village store and by the good burghers returning from church, the sad story of the shame of our Commonwealth has been told and retold with indignant blush.

We have seen corrupt and corrupting legislatures moved to their villanies by American senators; we have seen pay rolls padded to reward thieving officials; our law makers make law-breaking a thrifty trade; our state treasury temporarily looted to aid the speculative ventures of favored politicians, their relatives and cronies; banks plundered and broken in extending aid to impetuous bosses—we have become familiar with the work of the unscrupulous politician, the boxes and fraudulent returns. We have seen senatorships purchased, valuable franchises stolen and municipal governments ruthlessly overthrown in reckless contests between rival political machines, and made the sport of personal ambition.

To the rectification of all of these wrongs we have been dedicated by the convention that named you; that you will be faithful to the pledges no one questions, that you will be chosen to the tasks we firmly believe, as we have faith in the honesty and integrity of the people.

As the spokesman of the notification committee, let me on its behalf to you formally advise you of your nomination and to express the hope that should find lodgment in the mind of every self-respecting Pennsylvanian that success may crown the end of your battle for the redemption of our Commonwealth.

GOV. PATTISON'S ADDRESS.

Governor Pattison's reception by the vast audience was an event that will be long remembered. After the cheering subsided he spoke as follows: Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee, Friends and Fellow Citizens: It is with feelings of grateful appreciation of the honor bestowed for a third time, that I appear before you to accept the nomination of your convention assigned me in the pending contest between the people of Pennsylvania and those who would deprive them of their sovereign right of honest and just government. I trust it may be taken as a happy coincidence that it was here in this beautiful and prosperous city, so delightfully located in the midst of a community famed for zealous devotion to the highest and best principles of economic home rule, that the successful campaign of 1890, along the same lines which confront us today, was so auspiciously inaugurated. The spirit of patriotic protest against the misconduct of selfish and faithless public servants, has grown with passing years, and the logical result of the more reckless and defiant methods pursued by the combination of autocratic rulers and their mercenary followers which has so recently allowed the honored name of our glorious Commonwealth to be so dishonored.

The Supreme Question.

The pressing duty of twelve years ago faces every good citizen with steadily increasing weight of responsibility. We are again called to do battle for the principles that have been the great legacy of the founders of our great state. It is our privilege, also, to once more unite with unselfish earnestness in the defense of our country to the best interests of all the people. As the lines have been drawn, we may justly demand the most effective co-operation of self-respecting and right thinking citizens irrespective of partisanship. The supreme question before us is one which appeals to every patriotic instinct, is above and beyond the real or imaginary boundaries of any ordinarily divide men in the discussion of public affairs. It is the preservation, unfiled and unbroken, of the fabric of honest legislation and administration, with which we are concerned. Twice the people have decided this issue against their would-be masters—in 1892 and in 1898 official and candidly believe that they will thus vindicate themselves and maintain their rights in 1902.

The Rising Tide of Revolt.

You will pardon reference to the fact that in a speech of acceptance in 1890, it was pointed out that all history taught the danger of entrusting, even to wise and virtuous men, dictatorship in affairs of state; that in a democratic government absolute power is a temptation to misuse which is ever present, can only be achieved and maintained through a resort to unprincipled methods. The people of Pennsylvania are forbearing and patient beyond all others, slow to wrath and careful in action; but when there is a moving of the needle in the machinery of government, it speedily becomes irresistible.

Integrity of Party Organization.

Political parties may properly divide upon public issues, but there are some questions that are common to all, and the answer to which requires a party organization. Under our system of government it is of vital importance that each party should be so organized and conducted that in the expression of its will this shall mean the faithful expression of the popular will, to be followed by the redress of public wrongs, the correction of abuses, the maintenance and the enforcement of true principles. Manifestly, this cannot be done through the leadership of a party is either corrupt, despotic, and wherein serious influence is exerted over the consciences of many party workers. The existence of these vices in any party organization must always be condemned and its members must be expelled.

In nearly every great city in this country, from the reign of Tweedism, in New York, which was brought to an end through the wonderful energy of a great American citizen, Samuel J. Tilden, whose memory must always be revered by the people, to the disgraceful and dishonorable overthrow of a ruinous cabal in the City of the Golden Gate, largely through the righteous co-operation of Republican citizens of San Francisco, the same course has been traced. Conscienceless political leaders have been sternly admonished that they cannot with impunity continue indefinitely to hold the great law in the conduct of party organizations and the administration of public affairs. It is the imperative demand of all patriotic men and women that the integrity of political faith; that they shall be controlled and directed not by their worst qualities, but by their best; that they shall maintain this basic principle or popular government cannot continue. Candidates for public office must be honestly selected, without undue influence or the use of every means to secure the popular will. There is no abiding place upon American soil for the political auctioneer and his subservient crew.

The Machine's Defiance of the People.

It is no wonder revolt is in the air in Pennsylvania, when these just sentiments have been so openly denied; when the great law in the conduct of party organizations and the administration of public affairs, it is the imperative demand of all patriotic men and women that the integrity of political faith; that they shall be controlled and directed not by their worst qualities, but by their best; that they shall maintain this basic principle or popular government cannot continue. Candidates for public office must be honestly selected, without undue influence or the use of every means to secure the popular will. There is no abiding place upon American soil for the political auctioneer and his subservient crew.

The cohesive power of the organization of our administrative officers and office holders in this city and they are all ours. Under the present administration no man can get an office unless he is in the organization. It is today the organization that voted forty thousand dollars for tax receipts. How could we do that if we did not have the office holders? If we had an office or prerogative in political life we will have to get it through the organization. The office holders are the backbone of the organization. It is the office holders who make a code of political ethics, government in this country, which the immortal Lincoln declared, upon the hallowed field of Gettysburg, "is not a party, but a people." It is the office holders who are the backbone of the Alpha and Omega of his political creed. With this as his motto, he lives, bargains, trades and thrives. His influence over administrative officers and in the halls of legislation is hostile to the interests of the people, corrupt and debasing to the last degree. He is the willing yet always thrifty servant of monopoly, the well-paid lobbyist whose account may be charged the defeat of many measures demanded by the people, and the success of others solely because those caring nothing for the public welfare.

How Official Power is Abused.

It is through the utilization of a de facto party organization and its subservient representatives, that city councils and legislatures have become the scene of iniquitous performances never conceived in other days, when the law was respected and the people were free from the heel of the odious political boss. The citizens of our afflicted state will recall many struggles to secure needful and just legislation, in which the tremendous effort, in the face of the most aggravating obstacles, to procure even a measure of justice for long-suffering and oppressed people, and the enactment of costly offices, and the enactment of a new ballot law, which is only the beginning of what must be done in this direction. In every way possible, members of the legislature have been annoyed, held up and pursued by this malign power, always determined to promote selfish interests.

legal restriction or regulation concerning this matter, making it a penal offense to influence legislators in any manner now practiced at Harrisburg. The very best members of the legislature at times powerless to carry out the public will, have been driven to their consent, in violence of their consciences, to arrangements and deals with corrupt men who are nothing less than public pirates. During the past 20 years reform measures have only been enacted by the courageous union of independent Republicans and Democrats, who cooperate conflicts with the powers of evil.

The Battle For An Honest Ballot.

My distinguished colleague, our worthy candidate for the office of lieutenant governor, Mr. Guthrie, will doubtless speak to you with clearness and activity upon the subject with which his name has been long and honorably identified. He has been a host in himself in the battles for honest reform. His influence will be felt in the classes of our people in favor of the complete carrying out of this long needed reform. I merely desire to call your attention to the fact that the official capacity as the state executive, I addressed the law-making body as follows:

The constitution requires that all elections shall be free and equal, but such elections are not secured by existing laws. Nor is our ballot secret, and the political parties have given birth, here as elsewhere, to many phases of corruption, to the use of money by rich candidates, to the bribery of public officials, to the employment of labor, to false counting, and to marked, altered and suppressed ballots. I merely desire to call your attention to the fact that the official capacity as the state executive, I addressed the law-making body as follows: The constitution requires that all elections shall be free and equal, but such elections are not secured by existing laws. Nor is our ballot secret, and the political parties have given birth, here as elsewhere, to many phases of corruption, to the use of money by rich candidates, to the bribery of public officials, to the employment of labor, to false counting, and to marked, altered and suppressed ballots. I merely desire to call your attention to the fact that the official capacity as the state executive, I addressed the law-making body as follows:

How the Farmer is Oppressed.

Upon no class of our citizens has the evil of political machine domination been more extensively and more fully felt. Without detracting from the importance of other pursuits and occupations, we may observe that the tiller of the soil always stands at the front, the ever faithful mainstay of the industrial world. It is a significant fact in our state the general course of legislation, under the direction of the political machine, which has been referred, has been towards building up all forms of monopoly at the expense of agriculture. The farmer has been greatly injured in excess of his proportion for the support of government. In some localities the possession of land has become a burden instead of a source of profit. The demand for property has been denied. The appeals of the agricultural interests, through the formal action of a great number of Farmers' Union, have been ignored. Permit me to repeat and emphasize what I said upon this subject to the law-making body in my annual message in 1893:

"The inequality of our tax laws still continues. I have suggested on two occasions more extensive and more equitable burdens of taxation. Taxation to be just should be distributed as nearly as possible on all alike, and should be even in practice. In our state, values constitute the basis of taxation, the value of real estate and the value of personal property. Nearly all the revenues of our state, in our counties, school and road tax, are derived from values as a basis of taxation. If the two forms of property, real and personal, are equal in value, under a just system they should equally bear the burdens of taxation. Real property, comprising the farms and lands, and personal property, comprising all at two billions of dollars for tax purposes, and personal property, in which is classed all property not real, to the extent of this appraisal, is valued at one billion of dollars. The whole amount realized for all purposes is approximately $4,000,000, of which real property pays $2,000,000 and personal property $2,000,000. Appreciating the principle that taxation should be laid with some regard to the encouragement and diversification of industry, and believing that in our state this ideal has been kept constantly to the front, nevertheless, I am of the opinion that real estate has undoubtedly borne the burden of the tax in our state. It is to promote and encourage the industries of the Commonwealth and to invite capital and enterprise, real estate, especially in the form of land, has become so depressed as to need relief in a more equal distribution of taxation. There is no disposition nor desire to pursue or oppress any form of property, but the injustice of our system must be admitted by any searcher after truth, who would distribute equally the burdens of government. So long as we continue raising our revenues upon the basis of values, the injustice of compelling a value in land to be taxed beyond a value in personal property, is inevitably felt by many of our fellow citizens."

Promises Made to Be Broken.

Notwithstanding all their many sins of omission and commission, the men who have made Pennsylvania's politics a byword and reproach, have always been profuse in their declarations of a purpose to promote the public welfare. They are always promising to do what is right and then as steadily doing what is wrong, giving the promise to the ear and breaking it to the hope, and at times the audacity of the machine forces have been without a parallel in the political history of this or of any other state. It will be recalled that in the Republican state convention of 1895, the same declarations being substantially repeated, the following year it was said:

"We decay the growing use of money in politics, and the corporate control of legislatures, municipal councils and political primaries, and demand the enforcement of the laws to correct such abuses."

"We earnestly insist upon a reform of civil service which will prevent the enslavement of public officers and employees and the compelling of those appointed to public office to the peace to confine themselves to their duty, which will insure absolute freedom and fairness in bestowing state and county and municipal offices, and will punish any form of favoritism in granting them; which will forbid the grant of exclusive franchises to deal in public necessities, contracts, conventions and sanitary requirements; and will insure the recognition of ability and fidelity in the public service, keeping service in the country forever foremost, when accompanied by ability and fitness."

"We demand that public officers shall be for public benefit and the term of subordinate positions shall be during good behavior. No public employe or officer should be permitted to influence primaries or elections, nor upon any pretense be assessed upon his salary and all unnecessary positions and salaries should be abolished and expenditures and taxation reduced. There should be uniform valuation of property for public purposes, corporations enjoying public privileges should pay for them, and schools should be divorced from politics and kept absolutely free from political influence and control."

The Record That Condemns.

Everyone of these pledges has been systematically violated, in accordance with the derisive enthusiasm with which they were received by the men who were to carry them out. They have so manifestly insincere declarations. The betrayal of public interests never was so shameless as during the last session of the legislature. This session never was such a corrupt use of money, so much legislative debauchery, so little effort made to correct crying abuses and to purify the public service. Favored contractors have revealed in fat things, dividing their ill-gotten gains with powerful political and official patrons. The public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is sought to evade all these burning questions, and to turn the people's minds away from the consideration of the public record, by a self-complacent and demagogic course will not answer. The incorruptible freemen of the Keystone State are weary of shams; they demand their public franchises have been appropriated without competition returns to municipalities or the state. Debauchery of the ballot, at primary and general elections, never was so flagrant and widespread. And now it is