HOW THEY MAKE THEIR MILLIONS

Personal Experiences of a Former Coal Miner.

D. D. Davies Tells How He Was Robbed and Black-listed and Driven Out of the Anthracite Region.

From the Stroudsburg Times. "If there ever lived a class of people upon whom society is so dependent for the comforts and blessings of modern life it is the coal miner," said D. D. Davies to a Times reporter the other day.

For many years Mr. Davies has worked in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania. He moved to Stroudsburg recently and is engaged in the manufacture of a patent cover for pots and pans.

At the request of the Times Mr. Davies has written his experience with coal companies, which, in view of the present strike, are interesting. "Let me tell you my experience of their mode of dealing with the individual. I have lived in the coal fields since 1853, was raised among the mines and understand mining and handling coal.

"I say this in justice to my fellow men, when outsiders think they are heathens, especially some coal presidents treat them so and who try their utmost to bring them into disrepute and contempt when they employ sneaks and blacklegs to go among them to incite riots and incendiaries, to create damage to mines and properties, but no law abiding citizens will do so.

"The coal combine employ men to do these things but they do it on the sly and if any of the perpetrators are caught they do the same as they did in the Mollie Maguire scheme, the Kerrigans and the meanest and lowest are let loose for lying and telling upon the very ones they had made tools of to do their dirty work.

"I was working for the D. S. & S. Company, or Coxe Bros. & Co., at that time. My wife and mother were with me. At the time I am about to speak I was driving gangway for them. I had to send in a contract, or terms upon which I would do the work in writing. The proposition was accepted, I got the job but I kept a copy of the terms for future use if ever necessary.

"Then I started religious service during week nights and Sunday school and religious service during Sunday, for it was a new mining village. I did my best to elevate and better the condition of my fellow men where I had an opportunity but trusts take no stock in that.

"One month I found my account $80 short. I went and told 'Dan' Coxe and 'Bill' Seiple about it, asking them to correct the mistake. They would not do it. I would have to see to the correction myself. They would not in any manner assist or enable me to get my $80 back, according to the terms of the contract. One day I wrote to the company at their home office about it and how it was made.

"I never got a reply but the next day as we were going to work I was told a dispatch had been sent to stop the job and my place was given to another man. They kept my $80 to increase their millions and they are still keeping it. I wrote to them several times about it but they never answered a letter.

"Then I went to another part of the coal regions to live, seeking for work at many mines under different owners and management. At every colliery I would be asked my name and where I was from, at which mine I worked last. Then I would be told to call around in a couple of days and they would let me know. They always told me my services were not wanted and that they had no job for me, (but they had for others that went after me.)

"Mother and I and my wife then were in sore distress. We needed food and clothes, because I had been put on the blacklist. We were starved out of the coal region simply because I asked Coxe Bros. & Co. to correct a mistake of $80 in my account when the foreman would not and their superintendent would not assist me in recovering. I asked for what I had worked hard for, using dynamite in blasting every day in a narrow, confined place. Those who are strangers to headaches, let them handle dynamite in places where the air is not in circulation, and they won't be strangers long.

MURDER TRIAL.

The Fate of Thomas Smith Will Be in Jury's Hands Tomorrow.

Thomas Smith, one of the young men accused of the murder of Michael Charo at Freeland on Easter Sunday night, is now on trial before Judge Ferris. Louis Dinn, who is alleged to have been an accomplice in the killing, was jointly indicted with Smith, but when arraigned the defendants asked for separate trials and the district attorney chose Smith as the first to face the jury.

The selection of a jury took up considerable time and the panel was nearly exhausted before the following jurors had been selected and sworn: N. P. Jordan, hatter, Wilkesbarre. Lyman Moore, farmer, Dallas township.

The following witnesses gave testimony before adjournment: Surveyor N. B. Rutter, Dr. W. H. Deardorff, Elmer Salmon, George McLaughlin, Esq., and Louis Dinn.

The latter was the principal witness and he told an apparently straightforward story of his movements and of the trouble at the church previous to the shooting. He answered all questions frankly and without hesitation and although put through a severe cross-examination by Mr. Farnham, did not contradict himself in any particular.

The prosecution closed its case yesterday after the testimony of Andrew Cahy, Peter Bruner, Miss Bld Furey, Mrs. Mary Boyle, John Jacquet, Frank DePietro, John Zuperko, Michael Deegan, James F. Welsh, John Molk and Patrick Welsh had been heard.

The defense opened at 3 o'clock and the following persons gave testimony before adjournment: Surveyor N. B. Rutter, Dr. W. H. Deardorff, Elmer Salmon, George McLaughlin, Esq., and Louis Dinn.

A bold attempt was made to burglarize the postoffice at White Haven. The burglars, evidently professionals, succeeded in opening a window and when about to enter were frightened off by pistol shots. There were four men, well dressed, evidently no novices at housebreaking, seen to run from the vicinity of the office.

Seven Twelfth regiment soldiers, ill of typhoid fever, have been taken from Shenandoah to Williamsport hospital within four days, and there are eight others fever-stricken soldiers in that vicinity. The sickness is attributed to the water used in Shenandoah.

The C. S. Turner Company, of Wilkesbarre, has been chartered in Delaware to manufacture, buy, sell, and deal in cigars, tobacco, teas and other products of domestic or foreign soil, to lease or purchase warehouses. The capital is $50,000.

Frank Wilson, James Kelly and William Jones, boys of 12 years, spent money lavishly at Mt. Carmel and were arrested yesterday and sent to Wilkesbarre, where they had, it is alleged, stolen $40 from Wilson's father.

At a meeting of the United Mine Workers' Advisory Board, of Shamokin, it was decided to establish a general store to distribute groceries to strikers, and that no more orders on merchants will be granted.

Miss Mary Boyle, a daughter of Daniel Boyle, of Beaver Meadow, was one of a party of seventeen young ladies who entered Villa Maria convent, West Chester, this week.

VICTORY FOR DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S Favorite Remedy

It cured Patrick Kieley of North Pownal, Vt. After He Employed Five Different Physicians and Took Nearly a Wagon Load of Medicine, With No Benefit.

"It is with my sincere thanks and gratitude," writes Patrick Kieley of North Pownal, Vt., to Dr. David Kennedy of Rondont, N. Y. "I write you of the great benefit I received from your medicine, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My case was a severe one and a puzzler to the doctors. About eighteen months ago I began to feel a pain in my right side; it gradually grew worse until I was compelled to give up work entirely. I would belch up quantities of wind and water. I employed five different physicians, and after taking about a wagon load of medicine, I seemed to grow worse. By the advice of a friend, I began to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. After taking the first bottle I felt some better, and by the time I had taken three bottles the pain was entirely gone. I have tried all of the different sarsaparillas, compounds and nervines on the market, and I consider Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy the superior of them all."

If you suffer from kidney, liver or bladder trouble in any form, Bright's disease, rheumatism, dyspepsia, excess or any form of blood disease, or if a woman from the sickness peculiar to your sex, and are not already convinced that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the medicine you need, you may have a trial bottle, absolutely free, with a valuable medical pamphlet, by sending your name, with post office address, to the Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondont, N. Y., mentioning this paper.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is for sale by all druggists at $1.00 a bottle, or 6 bottles for $5.00—less than one cent a dose.
