FREELAND, PA., OCTOBER 29, 1902.

QUAYISM DOOMED.

The baffled Quay combine has run out the mud machine and raised the black flag. This is a sure sign of coming defeat. The boss never loses his head when things go right and the way to renewed triumph is clear. But a campaign of costly blunders is culminating in a disastrous break-up; hence the tactics of desperation. The people have understood the confidence game that was to be played. The decoy has been uncovered.

Pennypackerism has been thoroughly exposed. The candidate of the machine has told on himself. He has not dared even to make feeble protest that he is his own master. He has fearfully dissipated his party strength at every step. It is seen that a grand smash is just ahead. So orders have gone out to use forbidden weapons; to strike in the dark; to use slanderous falsehood; to mislead the ignorant; to arouse prejudice and passion; to slay in vengeance.

This is the meaning of baseless attacks on the Democratic candidates. This is the secret of the mercenary activity of certain cheap elements, always in the political shambles. The printing press has been prostituted to serve dishonorable purposes. The tempter is abroad, seeking to use conscienceless election officers and political workers. Venal voters will be corralled. A last desperate stand will be made, but in vain.

Let every intelligent citizen calmly consider the purpose which inspires all this wicked work. Let him regard the "last cards" now being thrust into his face as the product of social outlaws. They will stop at nothing. They have ample resources. They despise the law. They will rule or ruin—if they can. The pirates are on deck; but the battle has been fairly fought, with clean hands, and with a full vote on the part of honest citizenship, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday next, will be freed forever from the blighting control of Quayism.

The Quay hirelings stop at nothing. Their base attempt to "work" the miners' convention showed how desperate they are. Only the most degraded politicians would thus impudently meddle with the affairs of honest workmen. The miners know how they have been betrayed aforesaid. They will do their own thinking and their own voting. They know that Governor Pattison signed more labor bills than Beaver, Hastings and Stone combined.

Let no young man begin the duties of citizenship by casting his first vote to sustain the power that has cursed Pennsylvania for a generation. Stand up for pure politics and honest government. Vote for Pattison and the whole Democratic ticket and you will make no mistake.

Pattison and Guthrie have made a magnificent canvass. They have visited nearly every county, made about two hundred speeches each and faced upwards of 200,000 people. Such earnest and faithful work will tell immensely on election day.

See that every polling place is well manned on election day and every vote brought out. This will mean a great victory for the people.

Earnest effort all along the line will ensure an honest legislature. Look to the fight in every district.

DUTY OF INDEPENDENTS

The Veteran Philadelphia Reformer,
H. C. Lea, Urges a Full Vote
For Pattison.

Henry C. Lea, distinguished political writer and representative business man, in a letter to Secretary George E. Mapes, of the Union party of this state, makes a strong, clear argument on what he considers the plain duty of independent voters in the present state fight. Prompted by the Dauphin county court's declaration that all certificates of nomination from the Union party's state convention are invalid, Mr. Lea writes:

Since the decision of Judge Simonton has deprived the Union party of a column on the ballot, it would seem that means should be taken to remind independent voters that their object can be attained by marking either in the column of the "Ballot Reform" or of the Democratic party.

Not a Vote Should Be Lost.

It is of the highest importance that in the approaching election not a vote should be lost of those who desire the overthrow of the machine. It is rare that in the politics of Pennsylvania such an opportunity offers of emancipating the city and state from the foul domination which has rendered them throughout the land the type of all that disgraces our institutions. This is a critical period in which partisan feelings should be forgotten. There are no national issues at stake; the contest is confined strictly within the boundaries of the state, and the result will be simply to determine whether we are to be emancipated or are to continue in bondage to the machine.

Should Stand By Pattison.

No thinking man can doubt that the election of Mr. Pattison—with the record behind him of two eminently honest and conservative gubernatorial terms—will prove a greatly more serviceable to the community than that of his competitor, who represents the malodorous influences that placed him in nomination. Nor can anyone deny that his would be a substantial service rendered to the Republican party by relieving it of the odium which it has justly incurred by its leadership in this state. Nor, moreover, can any Republican apprehend future disaster to his party, through its defeat in November on these purely local issues, seeing that the position of the state, in a presidential election, is one which does not admit the possibility of a question. This is so absolutely safe that, on purely local issues, the warmest Republican can permit himself the luxury of independent voting.

UNION PARTY VOTES

Chairman Hicks Advises Use of Ballot Reform Column For State Candidates.

Advice to Independent Republican voters to turn in for Pattison, Guthrie and Nolan, the candidates on the Democratic and Ballot Reform state tickets, is given in a formal address issued by State Chairman Hicks, of the Union party. He says we recommend:

First—That the members of the Union party vote the Ballot Reform state ticket—Pattison, Guthrie and Nolan—in the Ballot Reform column.
Second—In counties where there are Union party legislative and county tickets, vote for the Union party candidates in the Union column, so that such votes may be counted as Union party votes, and preserve to the Union party the right to make nominations hereafter, by having polled the necessary percentage of the vote. Where there are no Union party legislative and county candidates vote for the Ballot Reform or Democratic legislative nominees, excepting such as have made objectionable records in past legislative sessions.

Third—Vote for such Ballot Reform or Democratic judicial and county nominees, where no Union party column is presented, whose public and private records commend them to the support of the anti-Quay Republicans.
Fourth—Vote for Republicans for congress. Where there is more than one Republican candidate for congress, vote for the one whose election will give the most creditable representation in the district and most emphatically repudiate Quayism and prove most advantageous to the cause of reform.

Fifth—Vote for such Union party voters and independent citizens generally will demonstrate:
First—That this is not a fight upon the part of the independent Republicans to weaken the Republican national administration.
Second—That it is purely a state contest for good government. Credit not and opposition to the thieving combination which has for its sole and selfish purpose the robbery of the people of the commonwealth and the cities therein.
Third—That in spite of any conspiracies the people can find a way, even though it be inconvenient, to resist and oppose the corrupt purposes of the Republican machine of Pennsylvania.

THE BALLOT REFORM ISSUE

Pennypacker Dodges, While Pattison Points to His Official Record.

Chairman Woodruff, of the joint committee for the Promotion of Election Reforms, recently wrote to the two gubernatorial candidates, Messrs. Pennypacker and Pattison, concerning their attitude toward the ballot reform bill and personal registration bill advocated by the joint committee.

Mr. Pennypacker replied very briefly that ballot reform is a question which he has given much attention. He states further that the preparation of a ballot reform bill is now in the hands of a committee appointed for that purpose.

This letter is taken as meaning that the Republican candidate, before committing himself, wants to know what will be done by Senator Quay "Ballot Reform Committee," or by Quay.
In striking contrast with this saying of practically nothing on the main issue of the state campaign is the following reply from ex-Governor Pattison to Chairman Woodruff:

No Mistaking Pattison's Stand.
"I received your letter requesting as fully and clearly as possible my opinion in regard to the important questions, 'Ballot Reform' and 'Personal Registration.'"

"Permit me to refer you to my inaugural address to the legislature in January, 1891, when I recommended the Australian system for adoption, and also 'personal registration.' During the four years, in every message to the legislature, suggestions were made for the improvement of the ballot system of our state. I would quote these at length, but I am sure you have them at hand. If not, I will be pleased to furnish you with copy.

"I hold the same opinion as to ballot reform and personal registration which I expressed to the legislature from time to time."

The SPORTING WORLD

Career of "Boots" Durnell.

C. E. Durnell, the young turfman who recently has become a factor in western racing affairs, has had wide experience for a man of his years. He is only twenty-six years of age and has followed the turf in America, England and France. He has served with

C. E. ("BOOTS") DURNELL.

Enoch Wishard, the trainer for the stable of John A. Drake; has been a jockey, and is now gathering a strong stable of thoroughbreds.

Durnell is nicknamed "Boots" and bears a striking resemblance to Manager Clark Griffith of the Chicago White Stockings. He went to work for Scoggin Bros. in Kentucky in 1888 as a stable boy and jockey. At that time Enoch Wishard was working for the same stable. In 1893 the partnership of McCafferty & Wishard was formed, and Durnell became associated with the two turfmen as assistant trainer.

In 1897 he went to California as trainer for Galen Brown and there brought out his first horse, Potente. He next purchased Dr. Sheppard from Burns & Waterhouse, afterward taking the horse to England.

Durnell returned to America and arranged a partnership with Emil Herz. The latter is a native of Germany, and the present is his first connection with racing in this country. The firm has engaged Jockey Buchanan's riding services for the winter and will retain Jockey Treanor for lightweight riding. It has not been decided whether the firm will race in California or New Orleans.

Concerning "Rube" Waddell.

Some baseball managers declare that "Rube" Waddell, the interesting and eccentric pitcher, apparently has no idea of the "eternal fitness" of things. He is something of a spendthrift, and when he wants money he will promise anything and sign any agreement to get it. In this connection it is related that on one occasion when his services were in demand and he was being bid for by several clubs he had an appointment with a manager at the latter's hotel. They agreed on salary, and the contract was drawn up ready to sign. Then Rube insisted on having some money in advance.

"I haven't a bit of cash," said the manager, "but I'll give you a check for $500 if you'll sign."

"All right," replied the eccentric pitcher; "produce your check."
The manager went in search of a blank check, and during his absence a rival manager entered the office and saw Waddell. He also made the player an offer, and Rube told him of the arrangements already made.

"The check ain't going to do you no good," explained the newcomer; "you can't get no money on it till tomorrow. What you want is cash in hand. Come with me and I'll give you $100 in currency," and he began counting out the bills.

"That's what I want," assented Waddell. He took the money and when the first manager returned calmly notified him that everything was off.

Lord Derby and Cresceus.

E. E. Smathers' challenge to race Lord Derby against any trotter in the world for $25,000 is likely to go unanswered so far as Champion Cresceus is concerned. Mr. Ketcham said regarding the challenge: "I will not race Cresceus against any horse this season. His time is all filled, and I would not consider any proposition for a match race. In fact, I could not do so if I wanted to without having to cancel several profitable engagements, and it would be a foolish proposition for me to do that. Whether or not I would consider a proposition to race him next year remains to be seen."

Yale's Rush Line.

The Yale rush line this year has four men each of whom weighs more than 200 pounds. These are Glass, 211; Holt, 205; Goss, 206, and Hamlin, 203. This is sure to be one of the strongest rush lines in the country and will average several pounds heavier than that of Harvard. For this reason the blue will depend on close formation plays.

"Major" Taylor May Quit.

"Major" Taylor talks of quitting the cycle racing game. The lot of this remarkable rider has been none too enviable since he rose into prominence, and he is heartily sick of the whole game.

Lavigne Going Abroad.

Kid Lavigne, the former lightweight champion, will leave on a trip to Europe shortly for the purpose of taking a long needed rest.

NURSERY NOTES.

Try giving castor oil in warm weather with plenty of sugar. The baby's lips will smack over it.

It is much easier to dress baby on the bed than on your lap. You will have both hands free and greater liberty of motion.

If the baby kicks much in his bath it will be well for the first month to bathe him with his binder on. This will prevent all danger of straining.

There is nothing children love much better than little furniture, made for them. Little chairs they often have, but low tables are more rare. They should have them also.

Mothers make the memories that are to be the inheritance of their children during all our lives. What a tribute to mother love it is, when the silver haired man or woman says: "We did have such good times when we were children!"

It is always a good sign for a baby to sleep a great deal, and delicate and piny infants who sleep much become strong and healthy children. Even babies who are large and thriving at birth, unless they get a great deal of sleep, become weak and sickly.

Facial Mask.

I have been asked about the value of medicated face masks, and have learned the efficacy of a homemade mask in a case of severest clogging and inactivity of the pores. The girl who tried it made a mask for herself from two old linen towels, worn very thin. She made her preparation of oatmeal boiled to a pulp and mixed with buttermilk. Spreading this on the towels, she made two flat poultices, which covered almost all of her face except the nose, and, trying it on, she went to her room and took a nap of two hours.

When she awoke her skin looked fresher and fairer than for a long time, and, encouraged, she persisted in the use of her mask, making a fresh one every day. At the end of a week her skin was like soft silk, and naturally she has sworn by her method ever since. This oatmeal and buttermilk, or simple bread and milk, or even oatmeal and water, cannot but be beneficial to the skin, cleansing it, whitening it and making it softer and smooth. Such is the only "facial mask" I would ever advise.—Exchange.

Grease Spots.

Many a housewife who thinks she knows the best way to eradicate grease spots, the most common of all stains, finds that within a few weeks after treatment the garment has an unsightly ring where the spot was. This was due to the fact that when the stain was rubbed and the grease loosened, it, lacking an absorbent, spread itself into the surrounding fabric. This is the right way to remove a grease spot: Take benzine, gasoline, turpentine or, best of all, ether, and moisten a large ring around the grease spot, gradually working toward the center. When this is reached, immediately saturate two pieces of blotting paper with the spirit, place one beneath and the other on top and press with a weight. By this means the grease will be absorbed as soon as dissolved.

Tarnished Silver.

An enterprising housekeeper has made the discovery that the application of the ordinary oil used in polishing hardwood floors is most effective in cleaning tarnished silver. So many of the cleaning materials used for this purpose are injurious to the hands and keep one's nails and the skin about them in a constantly dry, harsh condition that any simple suggestion like the above is most welcome. The oil should be applied with a flannel cloth and the article given a brisk rub afterward with another cloth. Candelsticks and pieces of the silver service, with beading, curves and crevices out of which it is often so difficult to remove the pastes and powders, will be found practically easy with this simple treatment.

Chum With the Children.

There are many conscientious fathers and mothers who make themselves and their children miserable by taking youthful foibles too seriously. It is an innate propensity of a child possessed of the average good health and spirits to make older people laugh with him, not at him, but at the things that seem amusing to his own sense, and the mother who has the blithe and ready humor to enter into his fun becomes his most fascinating companion.

He needs her rebukes and bends to her correction without all feeling where sternness would arouse his pride and ire, for he is assured that she is ready to share all his innocent pranks and that her disapproval has no foundation in impatience or injustice.

Dining Table Centerpiece.

A fern dish with a few growing plants therein is a pleasing everyday centerpiece for the dining table. It is an easy matter to procure one of these dishes for the china and even the silver ferneries are not expensive, while shallow dishes to be found in the Japanese shops and departments are not only cheap, but are effective. At small cost these may be filled with ferns and by the exercise of a little care will furnish the ever welcome bit of "living green" in the dining room.

The Effect of Light on Dress.

In choosing an evening dress we should certainly take into consideration whether it is intended for daylight, electric light, gas or candle light, for all these different conditions have a great effect. Colors look totally different in gas and electric lights. The former is disguising; the latter shows every inaccuracy and nothing so much as a badly matched color and tones which the French say "bite."
