BOARD OF TRADE IS ORGANIZED

Great Enthusiasm Shown at First Meeting.

Permanent Organization Effected and a Good Start Made--Officers and Committees Chosen.

At a well-attended meeting held last evening in the Municipal hall the Board of Trade of Freeland was reorganized with a membership of twenty-six representative citizens, after which officers and committees were named as follows: President—A. Oswald. Vice president—Edward Murphy. Recording secretary—W. R. Flad. Financial secretary—James G. Bohlin. Treasurer—Hugh Malloy. Committee on industries—Hugh Malloy, W. D. Kline, Dr. W. H. Deardorff, J. J. McMenamin, W. F. Boyle, Chas. Orion Stroh, Esq. Committee on mails—F. M. Everett, William Dougherty, B. F. Davis. Committee on railroads—Ely Crawford, George S. Christian, A. H. Blackley. Committee on trolleys—A. Goepfert, S. J. Neuberger, R. J. O'Donnell, Esq. Committee on town improvements—W. E. McLaughlin, Esq., M. Refowich, W. G. Martin.

The enrollment fee has been placed at $1, which includes membership for one year. For the present meetings will be held each Tuesday evening. An invitation to join is extended to all interested persons.

The meeting opened by choosing Attorney George McLaughlin as temporary chairman and S. J. Neuberger as secretary. The object of calling the people of town together was explained by several of the promoters. Hugh Malloy gave a lengthy address on the subject, calling attention to the inadequate mail facilities, railroad and trolley accommodations and various other existing evils which deserve immediate consideration if Freeland is to be saved from the fate of all non-progressive towns.

The speaker stated that, as treasurer of the former Board of Trade, he holds $10.35, which was corroborated by W. D. Kline, who was secretary of the defunct body.

A communication from Roth & Hart, who do business under the name of Peerless Piano Player Company, asking for information about the town, with a view of locating a branch here, was read as an illustration of the many opportunities to secure industries which are lost by not having a Board of Trade. The concern named now employs over 300 men in New York state, but wants a location for a branch factory, and guarantee to employ not less than 200 men at the start.

The communication served to cause those present to realize what might be accomplished by an organization, and a motion to form a Board of Trade met with unanimous approval.

Twenty-six citizens promptly stepped forward and placed their names on the list, at the same time depositing the enrollment fee, which was fixed at $1 each.

A committee of seven, consisting of Chas. Orion Stroh, J. J. McMenamin, W. R. Flad, R. J. O'Donnell, Edward Murphy, Dr. W. H. Deardorff and W. F. Boyle, was named to choose permanent officers, and their selections, as given above, were approved, as were also the lists of committees which were offered.

Meetings will be held weekly, on Tuesday evening, until further notice. Applications from all who desire to enroll as members will be received by the officers between now and the next meeting.

The excellent start made is an encouraging sign and the members predict that within a short while the town will have an energetic and aggressive Board of Trade working for Freeland's interests, in whatever direction its influence may be required.

Charged With Sunday Selling.
Constable Kulp, of Wilkesbarre, came to town today and served subpoenas on eight business men. They are charged with selling on Sunday and are to appear before Alderman Richards, of Wilkesbarre, on Friday morning to answer the charge. The prosecutor is James Everett, of Wyoming, but local people are said to be back of the movement to close the stores of town on Sundays, and it is reported that a list of sixty-three alleged violators of the law is held.

Those upon whom the subpoenas were served today are: John Kushnerick, M. Merkt, S. Senie, M. Refowich, M. Leichman, D. F. O'Donnell, S. Linz and John Shigo. Counsel has been engaged by most of the above to look after their interests.

On behalf of the defendants, Attorney Kline entered bail in the sum of $200, or $25 for each, before Squire Buckley this afternoon for the appearance at Wilkesbarre on Friday morning of the eight who are accused.

WILL TRY AGAIN.

Jeddo Man Buys His Third Marriage License Within a Year.

John Kowalchik, a sturdy young miner of Jeddo, came to town last evening and invested in a marriage license. John's nerve, when his experiences with these documents are learned, is remarkable. Twice before, within the past year, John has invested in marriage licenses, but circumstances arose on both occasions which prevented the ceremony. The first young lady upon whom Mr. Kowalchik lavished his affections broke the engagement a few days before the arrival of the date chosen for the wedding, and John consigned the license to the flames of the cook stove in his boarding house.

In November last he met another heart-charmer and after a siege won her consent to become his wife. He forthwith purchased another license, but again fate interposed by cooling his ardor. He refused to fulfill the promise to wed, and both went their ways rejoicing in single blessedness, with License No. 2 consigned to the wastebasket.

John, however, soon repented, and his desire to become a Benedict strongly asserted itself again when he met Miss Mary Kowalski, a fellow country-maiden who resides at Hazleton. She capitulated, and after the usual vows were exchanged Mr. Kowalchik hurried to town and invested in his third marriage license.

On the ground that he was “steady customer” and “maybe have to come again,” John made a strong plea for a reduction in the price of the document he bought last evening, but after being assured by Justice Buckley that no wholesale rates are quoted on marriage licenses he paid the price, and from now until next Tuesday, the day fixed for the auspicious event, he will be one of the most restless men in the anthracite region.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late James McCollum took place this morning from the residence of Michael Halpin, Walnut and Pine streets. The remains were followed by a large number of people to St. Ann's church, where a requiem mass was read.

The remains of the late John Carr, who died Saturday evening at Wilkesbarre, were met at the Lehigh Valley depot yesterday morning by his many relatives and friends of this section. A requiem mass was read at St. Ann's church, after which interment was made in St. Ann's cemetery.

The funeral of John Kilkelly, a former resident of Freeland, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. J. Riley in Wilkesbarre, will be held tomorrow morning. A requiem high mass will be read in St. Gabriel's church, Hazleton, at 9 o'clock. Interment in St. Gabriel's cemetery.

The funeral of Patrick Burke, who was killed by an explosion of powder on Monday, will be held from the family residence, Hazleton, tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, with requiem mass in St. Gabriel's church. Interment in St. Gabriel's cemetery. Mr. Burke had many relatives here who will attend the funeral.

THE ILL AND INJURED.

Miss Ella Meehan, who received treatment at St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, has been discharged from the institution and is recuperating at the home of friends near the city. She has been greatly benefited by the treatment.

Miss H. C. McLaughlin, one of the teachers in the Daniel Cox building, is on the sick list since Monday evening, and her position is being filled by Jeremiah McGinley, the substitute teacher.

Patrick Rogan, of Adams street, has returned from Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, where he had his eyes successfully treated.

Charles Boyle, of town, who was injured some time ago in an accident at Oakdale, is able to be around again.

Daniel Gill is recovering from a severe illness.

Did Not Steal the Money.

A gentleman who was stopping at a same Nesquehoning hotel as the glass blowers who were here recently came to town today and says there is no truth in the statement published yesterday, in which it is alleged that Leonard Boskowsky, who left here with the troupe, stole $30 from a registered letter entrusted to his care by Mr. Willis, the proprietor of the show.

It is said that Willis owed Boskowsky quite an amount for wages, which the latter was unable to collect. He was given $6 by Willis to purchase a money order to pay for printing, and thinking there was little hope of ever getting the wages due him, he retained the money and departed for St. Louis, where a position awaited him.

Will Marry This Evening.

At St. James' Protestant Episcopal church, Drifton, Charles Williams, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Miss Anna Salmon, of East Main street, will be married at 8 o'clock this evening in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. J. P. Buxton, pastor of the church. The groom will be attended by Charles Chapelle, of Audenried, and the bride by Misses Mattie Lewis, of Freeland, and Annie Chapelle, of Audenried. Mrs. Frank Smith, of Cox addition, a sister of the bride, will serve as maid of honor.

A reception will be held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Salmon.

Moore-Cannon Nuptials.

The marriage of Attorney Edward J. Moore, of Sugar Notch, and Miss Nettie Cannon, of Wilkesbarre, took place in St. Mary's church yesterday with a nuptial mass. Among the bridesmaids was Miss Mame McDonald, of Freeland. Miss Cannon is a graduate of Bloomsburg normal school and is a teacher in Wilkesbarre city, while Mr. Moore is county president of the A. O. H. and has a large number of friends in this section.

Good for Children.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and Laryngitis because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissues. Happenings of the Past Two Days in and Around Freeland Recorded Without Waste of Words.

The special convention of District 7, U. M. W. of A., adjourned this afternoon, having completed the business for which it was held. During the convention the delegates ordered that $200 be donated to the widow of Patrick Burke, a miner who was killed at Hazleton on Monday. Burke was evicted from his home at Hazle Brook during the strike.

“Foxy Grandpa” and his company of artists gave a finished performance at the Grand opera house Monday evening. The piece was one of the most entertaining ever seen at the local house and the audience thoroughly enjoyed the play. The patronage accorded the production was not what it should have been.

Jesse Wolfe, the Butler valley young man who was placed under $2,000 bail on Monday, charged with shooting Mrs. John Sipple and attempting to assault her step-daughter, was taken to the county jail yesterday by Constable Welsh. His friends failed in their attempt to secure bail for him.

James M. Gallagher and family removed today from Walnut street to the Brown building, corner of Walnut and Centre streets, and the Williams family, who occupied the Brown building, removed to the house vacated by the Gallagher family.

Garden seeds can be had at Wm. Birkbeck's for 3 and 5 cents a package.

The Crescent basket ball team will play the second of a series of three games with Plymouth club on Friday evening. The contest will come off at Plymouth.

Mail from New York, Philadelphia and other Eastern points is now received here on the 9:58 a. m. train. This is a slight improvement in the service.

Neal Delasandos and Miss Mary Glotta, both of town, were married this morning at St. Anthony's church by Rev. Longo.

A young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sweeney fell last evening and fractured her arm at her home in Oakdale.

“Minnesota's Best” flour is sold by A. Oswald. There is none better made.

A ball will be held at Krell's hall tomorrow evening by the Slavonian Young Men of Freeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mitslades, of New York city, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Goepfert.

Misses Nettie and Prudence Snyard, of Summit Hill, are visiting Upper Lehigh relatives.

The Pittsburg Eagles will meet the Crescents at Krell's hall this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shelly, of Pittsburg, are visiting Freeland relatives.

The molders employed at Jeunesville Iron Works have been granted an increase of 10 per cent in their wages. The minimum rate will hereafter be $2.75 a day.

Beautiful wall paper, 7c per double roll up, at Wm. Birkbeck's. Stock is large.

Rats scampered across the stage of Hazleton opera house while a performance was in progress Monday evening, and the feminine contingent of the theatrical company was badly scared.

Andrew Carnegie has offered St. John's Lutheran church, Tamaqua, $600 toward remodeling the church's organ. This is the fourth church in that borough that received assistance from Mr. Carnegie.

James Brennan, of Centralia, welded a five-link small copper chain and yesterday at a foundry had the chain attached to a derrick and lifted an 1,800-pound steam pipe cast. A single link of Brennan's chain also stood the test of 850 pounds.

Rev. Father McEnroe, of St. Mary's Catholic church, Beaver Meadow, in an address to his congregation, denounced the practice of people attending weddings uninvited. Hereafter indiscriminate attendance at weddings in his church will be prohibited.

Enlarging Their Homes.

The home of Councilman James P. McNelis, on Front street, is to be enlarged and improved. The present structure will be moved several feet to the rear and a large addition will be made to the front. The appearance and value of the property will be considerably enhanced when the improvements are finished.

Mrs. Patrick Shovin has awarded a contract for a large addition to the rear of her home on South Washington street.
