Attorney Valentine Takes Place On County Bench

William Alfred Valentine was formally inducted into the office of judge of Luzerne County courts Monday in the presence of all the other members of the bench, and a majority of members of the bar.

Formal ceremony was held in Court Room No. 1, which was crowded to the doors with friends and admirers of the new judge. Judges W. S. McLean, B. R. Jones, C. D. Coughlin, J. S. Fine and E. Foster Heller of the Orphans' Court took their places on the bench, together with ex-Judge H. A. Fuller and the new jurist.

Elias Cohen, secretary to the judges, first read the commission signed by Governor Fisher, appointing W. A. Valentine a member of the Luzerne County bench to succeed the late Judge John V. Kosek, for the term ending the first Monday of January, 1930. Judge Fuller administered the oath, after which a recess was taken for fifteen minutes while the judges, attorneys, officials and friends of the new jurist congratulated him.

Ex-Judge F. W. Wheaton, and Daniel A. Fell were present in the court room and also Joseph E. Fleitz, a member of the State Compensation Board, who was mentioned for judge. The assemblage were Mrs. Valentine, her two sons and one of her daughters, the other daughter, Mary, being a student at Wilson College, Chambersburg, and unable to get here for the ceremony.

The new judge received his honors modestly and returning to his chambers formerly occupied by Judge Kosek, found the rooms filled with flowers, he having received more than a score of floral tributes from friends and admirers. He directed that the flowers be sent to the various hospitals.

Judge Valentine is the thirty-first judge to be commissioned for Luzerne County. His first judicial act was to administer the oath of office to Attorney James T. Brennan, who was recently appointed alderman for the Seventh Ward of Wilkes-Barre to succeed the late Alderman Ricketts.

His first written order was the appointment of Judge Fuller as master in a pending divorce case, and District Attorney Lewis had the honor of making the first motion, in connection with criminal court matters.

Celebrates Fifty Years Married Life

Married fifty golden years, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Post, of Carverton Road, Trucksville, Sunday celebrated the anniversary surrounded by the members of their family, although it was actually fifty years ago on Friday last that they were united in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Post were married in Cortland, N. Y., January 25, 1879. They came to Wilkes-Barre in 1900 and resided there until eight years ago when they moved to Trucksville. At Sunday's celebration dinner was served. A substantial gift of gold was the chief of many gifts. Friends in the Wyoming Valley Lace Mill, where Mr. Post is employed, sent a beautiful basket of flowers.

Guests present were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Post and children, Norman and Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burkin, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Post and children, Janet and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Post, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Will Merrill, Harpersville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Post and children, Jane and Harry and Miss Roxie Smith.

Farm Organizations for Increased Tariff

Organized agriculture threw its weight Monday behind the movement for sweeping increases in tariff rates on all classes of farm products.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee at the fourth day of hearings given over to agriculture import duties, representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation and National Grange joined in appealing for higher tariff protection on scores of commodities.

Submitting a proposal for increasing duties on items in sixty of the eighty sections of the farm schedule, Chester Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared it was his belief that "tariffs on raw farm crops will not necessarily increase the price over the retail counter, but will protect the American farmer from his foreign low cost produce competitor."

"If the American farmer can be protected from the competitor abroad who has the lowest cost," Gray argued, "there will be enough efficiency and competition among farmers on our farms to supply food, clothing and shelter for our people at a reasonable price and on the basis of what we call the American standard of living."

Gray contended that the "American consumer, who is very largely a farm resident as well as an inhabitant of towns and cities, in recent years, is troubled not with kitchen costs as the main factor in the cost of living, but with rent, motor costs, amusements, and various other modern factors which make the family budget shrink more than kitchen costs."

Rural League Clubs Start Lining Up 1929 Prospects---Beaumont, Alderson and E. Dallas Will Have Good Teams

From the Hot Stove League comes the news of several changes and strengthening of clubs that is expected to make a real fight for the pennant in the Rural League this season. Fernan Wilson, holder of the East Dallas franchise has teamed up with Idetown and assures the fans of a much stronger club. Fritz Vollinger, a left-handed pitcher and Leo Cummings, a catcher, who has been in service with professional clubs will form the battery. Art Montross, at one time with the Dallas Independents will be used as a relief pitcher. Fernan has a large roster to pick his fielding prospects from and would be unable to announce his lineup at this writing.

From all indications Archie Austin has been doing his stuff at Beaumont. As we have been informed that Glen Bulford has been signed for first base while a pitcher, infielder and an outfielder has been added to the club for 1929. With such added strength the Beaumont Club should be a top-notch-er and we wish them luck as Beaumont is rated as one of the best base ball towns in the league.

A chat with Ed. Morgan, manager of the Alderson Club, gives us enough news to state that his club will be in the fight from start to finish and the club winning the pennant will have to fight it out with Alderson.

Manager Labar, of Dallas, seems to be satisfied with his 1928 lineup, but would be pleased to have an extra pitcher on deck which would avoid some of last season's trouble when the club went on the field pitcherless. In such cases Freddie Rogers was sent to the mound and usually made a good job of it, but it also made a weak spot in left field. There are also several youngsters to be given a chance, the most promising being Cecil Wilson, Elwood Elston, Dick Gebhart, Phil Anderson and Dick Evans, the latter having played with second and third class clubs before coming to Dallas.

It is hard to get a line in Centre-moreland, as Manager Lasco has given up his interest in the club, which makes it look as though Center may not be with us this season. Should this be the case Valley View would be glad to take up their franchise.

We have not heard from Noxen for some time, but it can be expected we will see the Tannery boys in line when the season opens.

Hunlock's Creek and Roaring Brook recently admitted to the league, have their clubs all set for the bell. Their players have all signed 1929 contracts and are awaiting for spring to open up so as to get in trim.

To Confer On Voting Machine Legislation

A conference for consideration of the administration enabling legislation for voting machines by Senator Frank J. Harris of Pittsburgh with Governor Fisher.

Senator Harris, for some time has had a bill drafted incorporating his own ideas for setting up the machinery for making the constitutional amendment passed last November effective.

The measure has been given the approval of the Pennsylvania Elections Association and the Philadelphia committee of seventy and the sponsor hopes to have it receive the approbation of the Governor for the added strength his support would give it in the legislature.

It will be the second enabling bill for voting machines presented thus far. Representative Albert Davis of Lackawanna having introduced a bill which was re-committed to the elections committee after appearing on the calendar.

Grange Would Return Alien Law Violators

Any attempt from any source to push legislation which will let down the stringent laws against foreign immigration will encounter determined opposition from the Granges of the country, as recent action taken by States Granges and by the National Grange indicates that organization to be as positive as ever that the present restrictions against more aliens coming into the country shall be strictly adhered to, in spite of the demand for cheap labor which is being voiced in certain industrial directions.

At the last session of the National Grange not only was the declaration very strong against letting down the bars to more incoming aliens, but the Grange also declared that "None but those who are ready to enter into the improvement program of our social and moral laws, and with ourselves to seek higher standards of living, should be admitted to the United States. If they do not observe our laws, but persist in violating them, former aliens should have their naturalization papers taken away from them and be sent back to the land from where they came."

Rev.
