JUDGE VALENTINE

Governor Fisher last week settled the dilemma of a judge to succeed the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Kosek. Attorney Valentine is quite satisfactory. In this appointment we most highly commend our Governor for his appointment of an attorney who qualifies primarily because of his legal ability and dignity rather than because of his political power. Attorney Valentine has legal ability. Some time ago he was appointed as one of the six leading attorneys in the State of Pennsylvania on a committee for the legal aspects of the revision of Pennsylvania State laws. This appointment was considered quite honorary because of its high rank. Attorney Valentine seems to have no pier in the whole of Luzerne County in criminal and civil cases. He is very ably representing the county in its fight against the coal companies in their battle for the reduction of assessed coal valuations. Attorney Valentine's ability is further attested through his writings. His authoritative text books on the legal phases of the liquor problem and his text on election practises are writings of decided merit. . . . As a bit of human interest although in no way whatsoever connecting with the legal ability of Attorney Valentine is the location of his office. The owners of the Coal Exchange building may soon find it more profitable to substitute for the name of Coal Exchange that of Attorneys' Building. The building has housed the legal office of Attorneys Fine, Coughlin and McLean, all judges now, as well as the office of ex-Judge Fell. Since we have as judge a man of such ability and poise we have every right to expect and believe that we receive a very fair and impartial administering of justice.

GREATER WILKES-BARRE'S REVAMPED CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The proposed plan of the Citizens Committee of Wyoming Valley calls for a lot of things. Scrapping the name of the Chamber of Commerce although very admittedly not scrapping its many good points; calls for some cash—quite a bit of cash. Some cash to be paid into a revolving fund. This fund to be used as a loan to needy small industries in our valley and to proposed new industries. The loan in turn to in reality be working capital loan not just a commercial loan. The banks can finance the commercial needs of our industries, they cannot always finance the working capital needs. The amount of cash virtually demanded for this phase of the new program virtually amounts to one-quarter of a million dollars, no small sum in itself but maybe entirely too small for what is expected of it. But this is not all the cash required. Takes about $50,000.00 a year to operate and execute these proposed new plans. The present budget of the chamber of commerce calls for some $19,000.00 whereas it was double that ten years ago. With our needs all but doubled over those of ten years ago it is not to be wondered that the Chamber of Commerce was so weak. Relatively as of ten years ago it was only 25% as strong. It had not kept up and as such follows the road of elimination.

When these plans are perfected and only partly executed Greater Dallas will have been very profitably helped. Accordingly we need to keep informed, and to become a part of Greater Wyoming Valley or to be Greater Dallas. In either case we must receive a considerable amount of help. We have many very beautiful homes "UP HERE" and many more equally beautiful spots on which to build some more homes. Maybe we have two or three very appropriate small factory sites, inexpensive in their purchase price comparatively and yet possessing attractive merit for a new small industry.

Watch and follow carefully this new movement on foot for the Chamber of Commerce.

Clouded Evenings

OAKLAND

Announces the Appointment of

GUY E. WOOLBERT

As Associate Dealer Of

Frank F. Matheson Company

We are pleased to announce the appointment of a new local dealer whose standing and experience fully qualify him to meet the exacting standards required of those who sell and service Oakland and Pontiac Sixes.

We hope you will meet this new dealer. Visit him at your first opportunity. Permit him to show you the New All-American Six whose superb power, stirring performance and vivid style have established an entirely new conception of the modern motor car.

Let him point out the new features of today's Pontiac Six—excelling even its famous predecessors in power, speed and economy, besides possessing exclusively among all low-priced sixes the smart beauty of bodies by Fisher.

In addition to new cars of matchless value, this dealer also is authorized to sell Good Will Used Cars—reliable, inexpensive transportation backed by a fixed policy of honest value for the customer's dollar.

Our new dealer will welcome you whenever you find time to stop in. Call on him soon!

"Tell The World"

IN SPITE of all your enthusiasm over a new salad oil or shoe or hair dresser, you cannot possibly pass on the good news to more than a few people. You can't really "tell the world."

The manufacturer himself is in the same fix. He can't tell the world. His salesmen can't. His dealers can't. And the world ought to be told. It wants to know. It wants to know what's new, what's not only good, but better than the best; or cheaper; or more durable; or more useful; or just plain more fun.

Advertising "tells the world" today. Back of every advertisement is somebody, perhaps a whole group of somebodies, full of enthusiasm just as you are when you discover something that makes things easier or better for you. They are telling just as many people as they can reach in the world in person. But that is only a tiny fraction of those they speak to in advertising.

Advertisements are truly personal things to the people who write them. And they can be exceedingly personal for you, too, for they mean better food, better clothing, increased health, a happier home, greater prosperity.
