Local Borough School Comment

The writer was accosted by one of our town school directors the other day who attempted to give your honorable scribe a "call-down" on an article which was purported to have been written, criticising some action of the local school board. Upon calling the director's attention to the fact that the article was under a previous management, he immediately withdrew from the scene.

Now The Post want its known to not only some of these school directors but to everybody, that we are here to publish news, and will not publish any defamatory articles of any source.

If our school directors, council, or other borough officers are using their offices at any time to a disadvantage to the taxpayers, this paper reserves the right and will positively use it, to call the attention to the taxpayers, if such is the case.

We commend the present school board for the building of this school, and say in connection that it should have been started much earlier. We, of course, do not agree with the architect's plans in every entirety but that is only a matter of personal opinion.

We would suggest that immediate attention be given to improved heating in the old building for on cold days, several of the rooms do not become heated until mid-morning.

The little tots in the first grade, who have to go in the morning, sometimes find it a little cold on their arrival.

However, we think that the majority of the board have the school district entirely at heart and working as humanly as possible to remedy all these defects.
