THE DR. HENRY M. LAING FIRE COMPANY

We wonder if the people of not only Dallas, but the surrounding towns, give proper thought to the fine work being done by the Dr. Henry M. Laing Fire Company.

When the siren blows, whether it is morning, noon or night, the boys on the active list of the company respond with a willingness that is amazing.

There are many times when they leave a warm bed to go out in the wee small hours of the morning to fight fires. They become wet, cold and hungry—all this is done for you and I—without pay—if not only on account of their affiliation with the company but a bigger and better cause—Community Spirit and Cooperation.

We can do our part by showing our appreciation in many ways. Not only financial, but in moral support.

THE MILK QUESTION

Dallas Council has a problem before them that it is very necessary to give due and proper consideration.

The council members will act for the best interests of the people at large, throwing aside personal feelings that they might have for parties affected and will solve this problem as it should be solved.

TYPESETTING BY WIRE

Now comes the teletype machine, a wizard of a device which hooks a typesetting machine to the receiving end of a telegraph wire, so that when the operator on the sending end starts to reel off the copy the words are automatically set in type without the intervention of any human being between the sender and the finished type output.

If copy goes from a sending telegraph instrument directly into type, what becomes of the copy-reader whose hands have traditionally been charged with the handling of the stuff as it came from the wire? He will be just as much out as the printer; and he will have no job.

Of course the necessities of editing and setting to suit space and style needs in various offices will hold such machines in check for a long time to come, but standardization may in the end overcome these quirks of individualism and one more human link in the chain of production may go into the limbo that is now so full of human discards.

Mechanization is up and coming. But what is the good of a mechanization that does not advance human freedom and human betterment? Man must control machines!

"Fastnacht" Social

Entertainment of unusual interest is to feature the annual "Fastnacht" Social in the Lutheran Church next Tuesday evening, it was reported at the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Malkemes. Rehearsals are under way for two one-act comedies. These plays, along with other amusing numbers, will form the program to which all are welcome, no admission being charged.

The annual "Fastnacht" Social is held every year in the Lutheran Church basement on the evening preceding Lent. A free-will offering is received, there being no other charge. Refreshments will be sold. The community is invited.

Among the women to take part in the dramatics on Tuesday evening are the following: Mrs. Boyd Hagenbuch, Miss Frances Keeler, Mrs. Earl Monk, Mrs. Mary Phillips, Mrs. Jacob Rau, Mrs. L. T. Schwartz and Mrs. Herbert Williams in "Aunt Deborah's First Luncheon." Mrs. Edward Avery, Mrs. J. A. Batey, Mrs. Charles Dressel, Mrs. Albert Drum, Mrs. John Eck, Mrs. Cedric Griffiths, Mrs. William Hoffman, Mrs. George Hunt, Mrs. Charles Laycock, Mrs. K. G. Laycock, Mrs. Christine Malkemes, Mrs. George Malkemes, Mrs. John Obersta and Mrs. G. E. Ruff, in "The Strike of the Ladies' Aid."

Visits New York

Earl Monk motored to Ithaca, N. Y. last Monday where he visited the Tremayne-King Hardware Company's factory at that place.

Earl reports the roads in fine shape as far as Waverly. From there on he encountered snow and in some places the drifts were level with the fenders.

Brotherhood Meeting

Jake Engle, chairman for the Society of Cripple Children, of Pennsylvania, presented several motion pictures of the work being done for the cripple children of the state.

Local Men Held for Court

The parties who became involved in the latest domestic mix-up were held for court. While the local parties only helped out from a sympathy standpoint, they sure did lose their head in acting the way they did.

Improving Church

The Lutheran Brotherhood, together with one men of the church, painted the basement floor of the church the past week.
