Miss Nadine Rice spent the weekend with Miss Louise Barnes of Palmerton, Pa. Miss Barnes was formerly a teacher in the high school.

Mrs. Sanford, of Shavertown, gave an excellent program of music for the high school on Friday morning, February 15, 1929. Among the selections were:

- "Wake Up."
- "When I Was Seventeen."
- "When Daddy Was a Boy."
- "The Three Chestnuts."

This program was thoroughly enjoyed by all the students.

Because everyone in the high school opened bank accounts, the thrift service gave the library four books. They are:

- "The Iliad of Homer."
- "The Travels of Marco Polo."
- "The Origin of the Species."
- "The Life of Napoleon Bonaparte."

The Home-Making Class held a Valentine Party at the high school, Tuesday, February 12, 1929. The room was decorated with crepe paper. Refreshments were served to the following: Anna Adams, Jean Davis, Esther Cortright, Emily Lewis, Thelma Bulford, Freda Eyet, Eleanor Staub, Dorothy Goodwin, Elinor Rockwell, June Palmer, Dorothy Hay, Anna Stencil, Dorothy Roberts, Lila Travis, Margaret Blaize, Margery Fink, Jenny Stark, Florence Richards, Margaret Evans, Edna Billings, Ruth Bennett, Eleanor Warmouth, Anna Welitchko, Florence Trumbower, Alberta Lyne and the teachers, Miss Smiley and Miss Robinson.

It was hard to decide whether Miss Smiley or June Palmer drank the most punch but the laurels were finally awarded to June.

Senior Play

The Senior Play, "Who Wouldn't Be Crazy," is progressing rapidly considering the fact that several changes have been made in the cast.

According to the coaches, Miss Smiley and Miss Robinson, the play is going to be a great success. It is hinted that Miss Smiley is already on the verge of insanity.

As yet neither the time nor the place has been accurately settled.

Banking News

All the classes of the high school banked 100 per cent on Tuesday, February 19.

Lake Township

CALVIN J. McHOSE, Supt.

The Lake Township High School students are making good progress in their English classes. Subjects taken up are not only about adjectives, adverbs, nouns, pronouns and other English subjects which are demanded according to the school code, but also writing of poem, nomination speeches, letters of condolence, invitations and the like which will be of priceless value to them later in life.

This Thursday our assignment was to write a toast, and all the class said that it couldn't be done, but when called upon, we were prepared. There were toasts for every occasion.

We have decided to publish at least a few of them, so that others might become acquainted with what we are doing. Here are some toasts written by members of the Junior and Senior classes:

Toast for the annual banquet of the Latin Club, by Josephine Grey; Senior: "In fritta dum flueri curreat dum montibus umbra bustrahunt palus dum sidera pascet osemprionas nomequer turim laudesque manibunt, quae me cumque vocant terrae."

(Virgil)

Translation—As long as the rivers flow into the sea, as long as the shadows flit over the mountains, as long as heaven feeds the stars, forever will your honor and your name and your praises remain, whatever lands may call me.

Toast to "Lucky Lindy" and his bride-to-be:

Here's to "Lucky Lindy,"
The pride of all our land;
Who flew across to Paris,
And won honors big and grand.

Shy of girls and bashful,
A bachelor man that he'd be;
But he stole a march on all of us,
This lucky author of "We."

Miss Marrow is to be his bride,
Some sunny day in June;
"Another chance gone," say all the girls,
He's set the date too soon.

Raise your clear, cool crystal,
To our bride and groom-to-be,
Don't forget we've chances yet,
We're very young, you see.
(Lena Koeber, Junior)

Toast given at Annual Flappers' Banquet:

Here's to the wonderful one-horse shay,
That our grandparents used in their happy day;
Here's to their customs and sly demeanor,
Their robust maidens (today they're leaner)

Here's to the grand old fashioned beam,
Tho' these things are allright we'll have you know,
That we prefer autos to one-horse shays,
And rather relish the modern ways.
(Lois Sorber, senior.)

Laketon Games

The outcome of the Wetherly-Laketon games was surprising and not so pleasing to us.

The first game which was played by the Second team was very interesting in the fact that the score was very close. Neither side scored many points in the whole game. The score at the end was 6-7 in favor of Wetherly.

The Varsity of Laketon was tuned up to the occasion more than ever,

HIGH SCHOOL PAGE

This page is contributed to the interest of all the High Schools served by The Dallas Post. It has the approval and active support of A. P. Cope, county superintendent of schools and each of the five superintendents. It is conducted by these High Schools for three major purposes: to foster, sponsor and exchange High School and Inter-High School activities of the respective schools; to inform the public of this section about matters pertaining to the school life for which their taxes are paid; to develop the literary talents of the student editors of each class of the five schools.

To the reference books of the library a set of encyclopedias have been added.

The valentine boxes were very much enjoyed at the school. After the Seventh Grade had distributed their valentines the box was filled with fruits and sent to one of the missing pupils.

Miss Caroline Klug, who has been seriously ill in the Homeopathic Hospital, is now back to school.

Miss Edna Harvey, after an appendicitis operation is at her home on Parrish Heights.

Mr. Bowman received many valentines. One seemed to interest him very much. It consisted of many little hearts in one large heart. Mr. Bowman is interested in taylor-ing.

Oliver Mason is not only growing up physically but also in manners. He picks up Kathryn Penxa's pencil every time she drops it now. Kathryn likes to drop her books and pencils so the boys will pick them up for her. Here's hoping Kathryn makes the boys stoop for her always.

The class in science is studying electricity this week. Richard Tempin is our best pupil in this subject. He not only comes up to the standard work but also does extra work. He has just completed an electric bell. His bell was done all by himself and the class is sure of one good electrician.

Glenn More sat by Ruth Crawford in Latin Class the other day. The results are, Glenn is suffering from a black eye. Ruth would much rather have her Shavertown sheik sit by her.

because our star player, Thomas Traver, was back on the job after a long siege of illness. Wetherly was to fast for us, however, and we were close in the score until the last quarter, when they gained on us and the final score was 12-19 in Wetherly's favor.

We must add that Wetherly showed marked sportsmanship throughout the game. Always giving us the benefit of the doubt.

Referees were Rood and Kuchta. Walter Hoover, a resident of Ruggles and a well wisher of our basketball teams has donated a modern make score board.

We all wish to thank him publicly. —Forma Ruskin, Sophomore.

O. H. AURAND, Supt.

Special chapel services were held on Friday morning in honor of Geo. Washington and in celebrating his birthday. A guest speaker added much to the occasion as well as did the special music by a selected quartette. The entire group sang several numbers appropriate to the occasion.

The glad emotions on the part of the pupils greeted Tuesday's snowfall. Joy was foremost, because most of the pupils are outdoor folks who take much pleasure in the various winter sports.

About twenty-five Lehman pupils, under the care and protection of two teachers, enjoyed a bus ride to Kunkle last Friday where they were the guests of the Dallas Township basketball ball teams. The ride will be remembered by many for a long time, by some longer than others.

Again there has been considerable absence due to sickness. The Junior Class was especially hard hit, and the absentees were mostly boys.

The entire school joins in expressing sympathy to Mary and Katherine Stolarick, whose father's death took place last Saturday. We also wish the speedy recovery of other folks who are seriously ill among the families of our pupils.

The Juniors are preparing to present a drama, "Headstrong Joan." They were much pleased with their recent program of magic and appreciate the support it received. Now for a successful play.

Seniors

The Seniors welcomed two visitors last Wednesday: Irma Johnson, a former member of the class and Rebecca Mekeel a member of the alumni.

Both the girls and boys Varsity basketball ball teams were victorious over Dallas Township High School on Friday, February 15th.

Carl Brandon was absent from school Tuesday, headache?

The boys from Idetown and Huntsville played a very stirring basketball game Tuesday noon. There was an unusual amount of cheering and jumping about. Idetown won, the score being 12 to 13. The teams are now equal in standing.
