HIGH SCHOOL PAGE

This page is contributed to the interest of all the High Schools served by The Dallas Post. It has the approval and active support of A. P. Cope, county superintendent of schools and each of the five superintendents. It is conducted by these High Schools for three major purposes: to foster, sponsor and exchange High School and Inter-High School activities of the respective schools; to inform the public of this section about matters pertaining to the school life for which their taxes are paid; to develop the literary talents of the student editors of each class of the five schools.

Girl Scouts Register For Summer Camp

Camp Onawandah, of Wyoming Valley Council, to Open at South Eaton On July 1

The Girl Scouts of the Wyoming Valley Council, of which the local Girl Scouts are members, are making many preparations for the opening of Camp Onawandah, on Monday, July 1st and for which date a number of registrations have already been received.

The camp is ideally situated on the Susquehanna River between White's Ferry and Tunkhannock which affords opportunity for not only the exceptional but also, the normal and average girl to have a vacation of health and fun. Girls, who attend this progressive camp, are under the supervision and instruction of capable young women, who have had experience and training in this line of work. The subjects to be offered to the campers this summer will be varied and will include organized athletics, life saving, swimming, folk dancing, nature lore, pioneering, arts, and crafts, singing, dramatics and hiking and trailing.

The camp staff will be under the supervision of Miss Edna Reese, director of the Wyoming Valley Girl Scouts for the past several years. She will be assisted by the following: Misses Edna Smith, Wilkes Barre, Alice Castator, Pittsburg; Anne Hauser, Reading, in the swimming department; Lurline Myles, graduate of the West Side Hospital will have complete charge of the health and sanitation of the camp; Laura Zelinsky, Nanticoke and Anne Jones, Plymouth will direct the pioneering unit, Ledoli; Ruth Schoonover, Centerville and Dorothy Kembal, Washington, nature lore; Mrs. Freida Johnson and Mrs. Helen Culp, Wilkes Barre will again have charge of the kitchen; Esther Helfrick, Wilkes Barre will direct dramatics and singing; Elizabeth Musgrave will have charge of supplies and will, also, be office secretary.

The camp is already proving popular for week end trips and troop No. 25 spent the week end at the camp where they planted a vegetable garden, as a new project. The girls of this interesting troop have the honor of having been the first troop to brave the early Spring weather by camping at Onawandah under unusual circumstances. Troop No. 14, under the leadership of Miss Mushgrave, assisted by Miss Edna Reese and members of her troop committee will go to the camp this Friday for the week end and will study nature lore and camp cooking, in addition to singing and dramatics. Troop No. 19 Trucksville, with Frances Keeler as the captain will spend the week end of June 7 and 8th at the camp.

Mow Lawns Often

Lawns should be mowed often during the heavy growing period. Short clippings do not have to be raked up.

Breathing Plants

Many plants die indoors because they have not enough fresh air. Keep the window near plants open slightly, by inserting one of the standard ventilators.

TWO LEADING WORLD FIGURES LURED FROM ACTIVITIES BY CALL OF RURAL LIFE

One of the strongest phenomena of the past few months is the sudden decision of two prominent world-figures to turn from their national activities to devote themselves to agricultural work.

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, Minister of War and former President of Mexico, and Gen. Juan Vincente Gomez, who declined re-election to the president of Venezuela, are both to devote their time to farming.

Gen. Gomez is 72 years of age and has been in power in Venezuela since 1909. He is popular as a president, as proven by the constancy with which the people have supported him in his campaigns. Re-elected, he has declined to serve saying that he prefers to return to agricultural work, in which he was formerly engaged.

Gen. Gomez prefers to farm rather than do anything else, but served his country as President in order to be of service when he was needed. He set out to establish order and assure prosperity, peace and happiness for Venezuela, and now after an active career in which he has done a great deal for his homeland, he feels that his objectives have been reached and he is free to retire to the obscurity of his farm, where he finds his greatest happiness.

The Minister of War of Mexico Gen. Calles, has resigned his post-folio and will retire to the Pacific countryside to rest. Some of his time he will devote to simple farm life of his ranch near Mexico City, exchanging, thus, his sword for a ploughshare.

The resignation of Calles closed nearly three months of emergency service to the government which he headed for four years and left last December after the designation of Emilio Portes Gil as provisional president and his successor.

At the time he disclaimed intention of participating further in Mexican political life, except in the event of emergency. The emergency arose during the recent military revolt, which Calles as Minister of War brought to its termination within two months.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Have you ever thought of the varied uses to which you might put your odd pieces of sterling silver, aside from their customary service?

Salt cellars of the open type make charming clip or stamp holders for the desk.

A sandwich tray—that is a round one—can be used as an ice cream dish, a dessert dish, for salads or for fruit. And this is likewise true of the berry bowl which is used these days for vegetables, salads, ice creams and many other foods.

Coasters of the old English design with beading across the top can be put to excellent use as ash trays. That is, of course, when not holding their proper decanters. These are just a few of the many ways in which to get double service from sterling which, to yield fullest returns on its investment, should be used every day of its life.

Follow the Gypsy Patteran

What is a patteran? It is usually composed of two small sticks, seldom longer than six inches apiece, and placed crosswise one on top of the other. The open triangles which these sticks form tell the tale which the gypsies want to leave behind. No caravan will leave camp or pass a crossroads without leaving a patteran behind. This secret language of the road developed during thousands of years. No white man was ever able to read it.—American Magazine.

Static and the Weather

Atmospheric static, so annoying to radio fans, may be the means of saving lives at sea, Navy department officials believe. Static has characteristic sounds that have been identified with storms and can be used to foretell storms.

Quick, Doc, the Derrick

When the circus veterinarian was called recently to see Myrtle, the big elephant, he diagnosed her ailment as toothache and said the offending molar must come out. A steam derrick was secured, ropes and pulleys adjusted, the power applied, and out it came.—Farm and Fireside.

Wins Prix De Rome

John M. Sitton, of Greenville, S. C., 22-year old art student, won the annual Prix de Rome fellowship in painting, valued at $8,000. Sitton was working toward Fine Arts Degree at Yale by waiting on tables when news of his award reached him.

Wholesale Wedding

A town councillor in Brittany saw his three sons and two daughters married on the same day. The brides of two of the sons were sisters, and the bridegroom of one of the daughters was the brother of these two brides. Thus five children of one family and three of another were all married at once.

T. R., Jr.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who is slated to become the next Governor of Porto Rico, to take the place of Governor Horace M. Towner.

Maintain Chick Health

Clean management is important in growing healthy chicks. Take precaution to prevent carrying disease from mature stock to the chicks on the clothes and shoes of the persons caring for the poultry. Disease may be spread also on poultry equipment and by allowing old and young to run together.

Thin Young Vegetables

Usually more vegetable seed is planted than is required for a stand, and thinning is necessary. As soon as the plants are well started and show signs of being crowded, the weakest plants should be pulled out, leaving the best ones standing.
